50-1042. Refusal of permit—grounds. (1) An application for a prospecting or strip mining permit shall not be approved by the department if there is found on the basis of the information set forth in the application, an on-site inspection, and an evaluation of the operation by the department that the requirements of the act or rules will not be observed or that the proposed method of operation, backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, topsoiling, revegetation, or reclamation of the affected area cannot be carried out consistent with the purpose of this act.

(2) The department shall not approve the application for prospecting or strip mining permit where the area of land described in the application includes land having special, exceptional, critical, or unique characteristics, or that mining or prospecting on that area would adversely affect the use, enjoyment, or fundamental character of neighboring land having special, exceptional, critical, or unique characteristics. For the purposes of this act, land is defined as having such characteristics if it possesses special, exceptional, critical or unique:

(a) biological productivity, the loss of which would jeopardize certain species of wildlife or domestic stock; or

(b) ecological fragility, in the sense that the land, once adversely affected, could not return to its former ecological role in the reasonable foreseeable future; or

(c) ecological importance, in the sense that the particular land has such a strong influence on the total ecosystem of which it is a part that even temporary effects felt by it could precipitate a system-wide reaction of unpredictable scope or dimensions; or

(d) scenic, historic, archeologic, topographic, geologic, ethnologic, scientific, cultural, or recreational significance. In applying this subsection, particular attention should be paid to the inadequate preservation previously accorded Plains Indian history and culture.

(3) If the department finds that the overburden on any part of the area of land described in the application for a prospecting or strip mining permit is such that experience in the state with a similar type of operation upon land with similar overburden shows that substantial deposition of sediment in streambeds, landslides, or water pollution cannot feasibly be prevented, the department shall delete that part of the land described in the application upon which the overburden exists.

(4) If the department finds that the operation will constitute a hazard to a dwelling house, public building, school, church, cemetery, commercial or institutional building, public road, stream, lake, or other public property, the department shall delete those areas from the prospecting or strip mining permit application before it can be approved.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1043. Reclamation operations—submission and action on plan. (1) As rapidly, completely, and effectively as the most modern technology and the most advanced state of the art will allow, each operator granted a permit under this act, shall reclaim and revegetate the land affected by his operation. Under the provisions of this act and rules adopted by the board, an operator shall prepare and carry out a method of operation, plan of grading, backfilling, highwall reduction, topsoiling and a reclamation plan for the area of land affected by his operation. In developing a method of operation, and plans of backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, topsoiling and reclamation, all measures shall be taken to eliminate damages to landowners and members of the public, their real and personal property, public roads, streams and all other public property from soil erosion, landslides, water pollution, and hazards dangerous to life and property. The reclamation plan shall set forth in detail the manner in which the applicant intends to comply with this section and sections 11, 12 and 13 [50-1044, 50-1045 and 50-1046] of this act. The plan shall be submitted to the department and the department shall notify the applicant by registered mail within one hundred twenty (120) days after receipt of the plan and complete application if it is or is not acceptable. The department may extend the one hundred twenty (120) days an additional one hundred twenty (120) days upon notification of the operator in writing. If the plan is not acceptable, the department shall set forth the reasons why the plan is not acceptable and it may propose modifications, delete areas, or reject the entire plan. A landowner, operator, or any person aggrieved by the decision of the department may, by written notice, request a hearing by the board. The board shall notify the person by registered mail within twenty (20) days after the hearing of its decision. Every reclamation plan shall be subject to annual review and modification.

(2) In addition to the method of operation, grading, backfilling, highwall reduction, topsoiling and reclamation requirements of this act and rules adopted under this act, the operator, consistent with the directives of subsection (1) of this section shall:

(a) bury under adequate fill all toxic materials, shale, mineral, or any other material determined by the department to be acid producing, toxic, undesirable, or creating a hazard;

(b) seal off, as directed by rules, any breakthrough of water creating a hazard;

(c) impound, drain, or treat all runoff water so as to reduce soil erosion, damage to grazing and agricultural lands, and pollution of surface and subsurface waters;

(d) remove or bury all metal, lumber, and other refuse resulting from the operation;

(e) use explosives in connection with the operation only in accordance with department regulations designed to minimize noise, surface damage to adjacent lands and water pollution, ensure public safety, and for other purposes.

(3) An operator may not throw, dump, pile or permit the dumping, piling, or throwing or otherwise placing any overburden, stones, rocks, mineral, earth, soil, dirt, debris, trees, wood, logs or any other materials or substances of any kind or nature beyond or outside of the area of land which is under permit and for which a bond has been posted under section 6 [50-1039], or place the materials described in this section in such a way that normal erosion or slides brought about by natural physical causes will permit the materials to go beyond or outside of the area of land which is under permit and for which a bond has been posted under section 6 [50-1039].

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1044. Area mining required—grading and revegetation—release of bond—alternative plan. (1) Area strip mining, a method of operation which does not produce a bench or fill bench, is required. All highwalls must be reduced and the steepest slope of the reduced highwall shall be no greater than twenty (20) degrees from the horizontal. Highwall reduction shall be commenced at or beyond the top of the highwall and sloped to the graded spoil bank. Reduction, backfilling, and grading shall eliminate all highwalls and spoil peaks. The area of land affected shall be restored to the approximate original contour of the land. When directed by the department, the operator shall construct in the final grading, such diversion ditches, depressions, or terraces as will accumulate or control the water runoff. Additional restoration work may be required by the department according to rules adopted by the board.

(2) In addition to the backfilling and grading requirements, the operator's method of operation on steep slopes may be regulated and controlled according to rules adopted by the board. These rules may require any measure whatsoever to accomplish the purpose of this act.

(3) All available topsoil shall be removed in a separate layer, guarded from erosion and pollution, kept in such a condition that it can sustain vegetation of at least the quality and variety it sustained prior to removal, and returned as the top layer after the operation has been backfilled and graded; provided that the operator shall accord substantially the same treatment to any subsurface deposit of material that is capable, as determined by the department, of supporting surface vegetation virtually as well as the present topsoil.

(4) As determined by rules of the board, time limits shall be established requiring backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, topsoiling, planting, and revegetation to be kept current. All backfilling, grading, and topsoiling shall be completed before necessary equipment is moved from the operation.

(5) When the backfilling, grading, and topsoiling have been completed and approved by the department, the commissioner may release so much of the bond which was filed for that portion of the operation as the commissioner may determine, provided that no less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre shall be retained by the department until such time as the planting and revegetation is done according to law and approved by the department, at which time the commissioner shall release the bond in the remaining amount.

(6) An operator may propose alternative plans other than backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, or topsoiling if the restoration will be consistent with the purpose of this act. These plans shall be submitted to the department, and, after consultation with the landowner, if the plans are approved by the board and complied with within the time limits as may be determined by the board as being reasonable for carrying out the plans, the backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, or topsoiling requirements of this act may be modified by the board. An operator who proposes alternative plans that will affect an existing permit shall comply with the notice requirement of section 6 (2) (k) [50-1039 (2) (k)].

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1045. Planting of vegetation following filling of stripped area. After the operation has been backfilled, graded, topsoiled, and approved by the department, the operator shall prepare the soil and plant such legumes, grasses, shrubs, and trees upon the area of land affected as are necessary to provide a suitable permanent diverse vegetative cover capable of:

(a) feeding and withstanding grazing pressure from a quantity and mixture of wildlife and livestock at least comparable to that which the land could have sustained prior to the operation;

(b) regenerating under the natural conditions prevailing at the site, including occasional drought, heavy snowfalls, and strong winds; and

(c) preventing soil erosion to the extent achieved prior to the operation.

The seed or plant mixtures, quantities, method of planting, type and amount of lime or fertilizer, mulching, irrigation, fencing, and any other measures necessary to provide a suitable permanent diverse vegetative cover shall be defined by rules of the board.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1046. Time of commencement of reclamation. The operator shall commence the reclamation of the area of land affected by his operation as soon as possible after the beginning of strip mining of that area in accordance with plans previously approved by the department. Those grading, backfilling, topsoiling, and water management practices that are approved in the plans shall be kept current with the operation as defined by rules of the board and a permit or supplement to a permit may not be issued, if in the discretion of the department, these practices are not current.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1047. Planting report—inspection and release of bond. (1) At least sixty (60) days prior to the date of each permit expiration, the operator shall file a planting report with the department on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the department, giving the following information:

(a) identification of the operation;

(b) the type of planting or seeding, including mixtures and amounts;

(c) the date of planting or seeding;

(d) the area of land planted;

(e) any other relevant information the department requires.

(2) All planting reports shall be certified by the operator.

(3) Inspection and evaluation for permanent diverse vegetative cover shall be made as soon as it is possible to determine if a satisfactory stand has been established. If the department determines that a satisfactory permanent diverse vegetative cover has been established, it shall release the remaining bond held on the area reclaimed after public notice and an opportunity for a hearing; but in no event shall such remaining bond be released prior to a period of five (5) years from the initial planting provided for in section 12 [50-1045] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1048. Vegetation planted as property of landowner. All legumes, grasses, shrubs, and trees which are planted or seeded on the area of land affected as required by this act or rules adopted under this act, become the property of the landowner, after complete release of the bond, unless the operator and the landowner agree otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1049. Annual report of reclamation work—map. Within sixty (60) days after each date of expiration of a permit, the operator shall annually file with the department a report stating the exact number of acres of land affected by the operation, the extent of the reclamation already accomplished by him, and any other information required by the rules of the department and the board. The report shall be accompanied by a copy of the map filed with the original application which shall show any revisions made necessary by results of the operation.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1050. Notice of noncompliance—suspension of permits—conditions required for reinstatement of permits. (1) If any of the requirements of this act or rules or orders of the department and the board have not been complied with within the time limits set by the department or the board or by this act, the department shall serve a notice of noncompliance on the operator, or where found necessary, the commissioner shall order the suspension of a permit. The notice or order shall be handed to the operator in person or served by registered mail addressed to the permanent address shown on the application for a permit. The notice of noncompliance or order of suspension shall specify in what respects the operator has failed to comply with this act or the rules or orders of the department and the board. If the operator has not complied with the requirement set forth in the notice of noncompliance or order of suspension within time limits set therein, the permit may be revoked by order of the board and the performance bond forfeited to the department.

(2) Any additional permits held by an operator whose mining permit has been revoked shall be suspended and the operator is not eligible to receive another permit or to have the suspended permits reinstated until he has complied with all the requirements of this act in respect to former permits issued him. An operator who has forfeited a bond is not eligible to receive another permit unless the land for which the bond was forfeited has been reclaimed without cost to the state, or the operator has paid into the reclamation account a sum together with the value of the bond, the board finds adequate to reclaim the lands. The department may not issue any additional permits to an operator who has repeatedly been in noncompliance or violation of this act.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1051. Successive operators. Where one operator succeeds another at an uncompleted operation, either by sale, assignment, lease, or otherwise, the department may release the first operator from all liability under this act as to that particular operation if both operators have been issued a permit and have otherwise complied with the requirements of this act, and the successor operator assumes as part of his obligation under this act, all liability for the reclamation of the area of land affected by the former operator.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1052. Receipts paid into special fund—use of fund. (1) All fees, forfeit funds, and other moneys available or paid to the department under the provisions of this act shall be placed in the state treasury and credited to a special agency account to be designated as the strip mining and reclamation fund. This fund shall be available to the department by appropriation and shall be expended for the administration and enforcement of this act and for the reclamation and revegetation of land and the rehabilitation of water affected by any mining operations. Any unencumbered and any unexpended balance of this fund remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall not lapse but shall be carried forward for the purposes of this act until expended or until appropriated by subsequent legislative action.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1053. Funds received by board—reclamation work by board—rehabilitation of unreclaimed lands. (1) The board may receive any federal funds, state funds, or any other funds for the reclamation of land affected by strip mining. The board may have reclamation work done by its own employees or by employees of other governmental agencies, soil conservation districts, or through contracts with qualified persons.

(2) Any funds or any public works programs available to the board shall be used and expended to reclaim and rehabilitate lands that have been subjected to strip mining that have not been reclaimed and rehabilitated in accordance with the standards of this act.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1054. Reclamation of lands after bond forfeited. The board may reclaim, in keeping with the provisions of this act, any affected lands with respect to which a bond has been forfeited and to use moneys appropriated from the strip mining and reclamation fund for such purposes.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1055. Mandamus to compel enforcement of law—action for damage to water supply—damage from surface water—other remedies. A resident of this state, with knowledge that a requirement of this act or a rule adopted under this act, is not being enforced by a public officer or employee whose duty it is to enforce the requirement or rule may bring the failure to enforce to the attention of the public officer or employee by a written statement under oath that shall state the specific facts of the failure to enforce the requirement or rule. Knowingly making false statements or charges in the affidavit subjects the affiant to penalties prescribed under the law of perjury.

(2) If the public officer or employee neglects or refuses for an unreasonable time after receipt of the statement to enforce the requirement or rule, the resident may bring an action of mandamus in the district court of the first judicial district of this state, in and for the county of Lewis and Clark, or in the district court of the county in which the land is located. The court, if it finds that a requirement of this act or a rule adopted under this act, is not being enforced shall order the public officer or employee, whose duty it is to enforce the requirement or rule, to perform his duties. If he fails to do so, the public officer or employee shall be held in contempt of court and is subject to the penalties provided by law.

(3) An owner of an interest in real property who obtains all or part of his supply of water for domestic, agricultural, industrial, or other legitimate use from an underground source other than a subterranean stream having a permanent, distinct, and known channel, may sue an operator to recover damages for contamination, diminution, or interruption of the water supply, proximately resulting from strip mining.

(4) A servient tract of land is not bound to receive surface water contaminated by strip mining on a dominant tract of land, and the owner of the servient tract may sue an operator to recover the damages proximately resulting from the natural drainage from the dominant tract of surface waters contaminated by strip mining on the dominant tract.

(5) This section does not create, modify, or affect any right, liability, or remedy other than as expressly provided in this section.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1056. Violation—civil penalty—injunction—misdemeanor. (1) A person or operator who violates any of the provisions of this act or rules or orders adopted under this act shall pay a civil penalty of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for the violation, and an additional civil penalty of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each day during which a violation continues, and may be enjoined from continuing such violations as hereinafter provided in this section. These penalties shall be recoverable in any action brought in the name of the state of Montana by the attorney general in the district court of the first judicial district of this state, in and for the county of Lewis and Clark, or in the district court having jurisdiction of the defendant.

(2) The attorney general shall, upon the request of the commissioner, sue for the recovery of the penalties provided in this section for, and bring an action for a restraining order, temporary or permanent injunction, against an operator or other person violating or threatening to violate an order adopted under this act.

(3) A person who willfully violates any of the provisions of this act, or any determination or order adopted under this act which has become final is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). Each day on which a violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1057. Procedure for hearings and appeals. All hearings and appeal procedures shall be in accordance with sections 82-4209 through 82-4217.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

Separability Clause

Section 25 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 read "If a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications."

Repealing Clause

Section 26 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 read "Sections 50-1018 through 50-1033, R. C. M. 1947, are repealed."

If the contract does not provide according to its terms, for the cancellation, it shall be terminated and void within two hundred seventy (270) days from the effective date of this act."

Effective Date

Repeal

Sections 50-1101 to 50-1114 (Secs. 1 to 14, Ch. 123, L. 1969), relating to dredge mining and preservation of lands, were repealed by Sec. 116, Ch. 428, Laws 1973.

Unconstitutionality

This act is repugnant to section 23, article V of the 1889 constitution, in that it purports to regulate sluice washing without mentioning that process in its title; and it violates the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution in that it exempts open pit mining, strip coal mining and certain other types of operations without valid reason for a distinction. Sigety v. State Board of Health, 157 M 48, 482 P 2d 574, distinguished in 490 P 2d 221, 226.

50-1201. Legislative observations and finding. The extraction of mineral by mining is a basic and essential activity making an important contribution to the economy of the state and the nation. At the same time, proper reclamation of mined land and former exploration areas not brought to mining stage is necessary to prevent undesirable land and surface water conditions detrimental to the general welfare, health, safety, ecology, and property rights of the citizens of the state. Mining and exploration for minerals takes place in diverse areas where geological, topographical, climatic, biological and sociological conditions are significantly different, and reclamation specifications must vary accordingly. It is not practical to extract minerals or explore for minerals required by our society without disturbing the surface or subsurface of the earth and without producing waste materials, and the very character of many types of mining operations precludes complete restoration of the land to its original condition. The legislature finds that land reclamation as provided in this act will allow exploration for and mining of valuable minerals while adequately providing for the subsequent beneficial use of the lands to be reclaimed.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act requiring the licensing of persons engaged in mining exploration and related activities; requiring permits for the conduct of development, mining and related activities; providing for the reclamation of explored, developed, and mined land; providing for the administration and enforcement of said act by the board of state lands and investments; and providing for an appeal procedure; and providing an effective date.

50-1202. Purposes of act. The purposes of this act are to provide: (i) that the usefulness, productivity and scenic values of all lands and surface waters involved in mining and mining exploration within the boundaries and lawful jurisdiction of the state will receive the greatest reasonable degree of protection and reclamation to beneficial use; (ii) authority for co-operation between private and governmental entities in carrying this act into effect; (iii) for the recognition of the recreational and aesthetic values of land as a benefit to the state of Montana; and (iv) priorities and values to the aesthetics of our landscape, waters and ground cover. Although both the need for and the practicability of reclamation will control the type and degree of reclamation in any specific instance, the basic objective will be to establish, on a continuing basis, the vegetative cover, soil stability, water condition and safety condition appropriate to any proposed subsequent use of the area.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1203. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context indicates otherwise: (1) "Surface mining" shall mean and include all or any part of the process involved in mining of minerals by removing the overburden and mining directly from the mineral deposits thereby exposed, including, but not limited to, open-pit mining of minerals naturally exposed at the surface of the earth, mining by the auger method, and any and all similar methods by which earth or minerals exposed at the surface are removed in the course of mining. Surface mining shall not include the extraction of oil, gas, bentonite, clay, coal, sand, gravel, phosphate rock, or uranium nor excavation or grading conducted for on-site farming, on-site road construction, or other on-site building construction.

(2) "Unit of surface mined area" shall mean and include that area of land and surface water included within an operating permit actually disturbed by surface mining during each twelve-month period of time, beginning at the date of the issuance of the permit, and shall comprise and include the area from which overburden and/or minerals have been removed, the area covered by mining debris, and all additional areas used in surface mining or underground mining operations which, by virtue of such use, are thereafter susceptible to erosion in excess of the surrounding undisturbed portions of land.

(3) "Disturbed land" shall mean and include that area of land or surface water disturbed, beginning at the date of the issuance of the permit, and shall comprise that area from which the overburden, and/or minerals have been removed; tailings ponds, waste dumps, roads, conveyor systems, leach dumps, and all similar excavations or covering resulting from said operation and which has not been previously reclaimed under the reclamation plan.

(4) "Abandonment of surface or underground mining" may be presumed when it is shown that continued operation will not resume.

(5) "Underground mining" shall mean and include all methods of mining other than surface mining.

(6) "Person" shall mean and include any person, corporation, firm, association, partnership or other legal entity engaged in exploration for or development or mining of minerals on or below the surface of the earth.

(7) "Mineral" shall mean and include any ore, rock or substance, other than oil, gas, bentonite, clay, coal, sand, gravel, phosphate rock or uranium, taken from below the surface or from the surface of the earth for the purpose of milling, concentration, refinement, smelting, manufacturing, or other subsequent use or processing or for stockpiling for future usage, refinement or smelting.

(8) "Exploration" shall mean and include all activities conducted on or beneath the surface of lands resulting in material disturbance of the surface for the purpose of determining the presence, location, extent, depth, grade, and economic viability of mineralization in those lands, if any, other than mining for production and economic exploitation, as well as all roads made for the purpose of facilitating exploration, except as noted in section 20 [50-1220] and section 24 [50-1224] herein.

(9) "Development" shall mean and include all operations between exploration and mining.

(10) "Mining" shall be deemed to have commenced at such time as the operator shall first mine ores or minerals in commercial quantities for sale, beneficiation, refining, or other processing or disposition or shall first take bulk samples for metallurgical testing in excess of aggregate of ten thousand (10,000) short tons.

(11) "Reclamation plan" shall mean and include the operator's written proposal, as required and approved by the board for reclamation of the land that will be disturbed, which proposal shall include to the extent practical at the time of application for a developing or operating permit: (a) a statement of the proposed subsequent use of the land after reclamation;

(b) Plans for surface gradient restoration to a surface suitable for the proposed subsequent use of the land after reclamation is completed, and proposed method of accomplishment;

(c) Manner and type of revegetation or other surface treatment of disturbed areas;

(d) Procedures proposed to avoid foreseeable situations of public nuisance, endangerment of public safety, damage to human life or property, or unnecessary damage to flora and fauna in or adjacent to the area;

(e) Method of disposal of mining debris;

(f) Method of diverting surface waters around the disturbed areas where necessary to prevent pollution of such waters or unnecessary erosion;

(g) Method of reclamation of stream channels and stream banks to control erosion, siltation, and pollution;

(h) Such maps and other supporting documents as may be reasonably required by the director;

(i) A time schedule for reclamation that meets the requirements of section 9 [50-1209] of this act.

(12) "Vegetative cover" as used in this act shall mean the type of vegetation, grass, shrubs, trees, or any other form of natural cover deemed suitable at time of reclamation.

(13) "Board" shall mean the Board of State Lands and Investments, or such state employee or state agency as may succeed to its powers and duties under this act.

(14) "Director" or "administrator" shall mean the director of the Board of State Lands and Investments.

(15) "Small miner" shall mean any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of mining who does not remove from the earth during any twenty-four (24) hour period material in excess of one hundred (100) tons in the aggregate.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1206. Co-operation with other agencies—receipt and expenditure of funds. The board shall co-operate with other governmental and private agencies in this state and other states and agencies of the federal government, and may reasonably compensate them for any services the board requests that they provide. The board may receive federal funds, state funds, and any other funds and, within the limits imposed by the grant, expend them for reclamation of land affected by mining or exploration and for purposes enumerated in section 9 [50-1209] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1207. Exploration license and development permit—duration and renewal—requirements. (1) Effective sixty (60) days after the date on which the board shall first promulgate its regulations as authorized by section 4 [50-1204] of this act, no person shall engage in exploration or development in the state without first obtaining an exploration license or development permit from the board to do so, such license or permit to be issued for a period of one (1) year from date of issue and to be renewable from year to year on application therefor filed at any time within the thirty (30) days next preceding the expiration of the current license or permit and payment of like fee as required for a new license or permit; provided that the applicant for renewal is not then held by the board to be in violation of any provision of this law.

(2) An exploration license shall be issued to any applicant therefor who shall: (i) pay a fee of five dollars ($5) to the board; (ii) agree to reclaim any surface area damaged by the applicant during exploration operations, all as may be reasonably required by the board, unless the applicant shall have applied for and been issued a development or operating permit for the lands so damaged; and (iii) not be in default of any other reclamation obligation under this law.

(a) Except as hereafter provided, the holder of such license shall not be compelled to disclose the area of his exploration operations, except where charged with a delinquency in performing reclamation obligations hereunder.

(b) Upon filing of any certificate of claim location as permitted by federal and state mining laws and regulations, the locator shall provide copies of said certificates to the board.

(3) A development permit shall be issued to any applicant therefor that shall meet the following requirements: (a) Payment of twenty-five dollars ($25) fee to the board;

(b) Submit a description of the area within which development is to be conducted;

(c) Submit a suitable map or aerial photograph showing topographic, cultural and drainage features;

(d) Submit a statement of proposed development methods, i.e., drilling, trenching, etc., and the location of primary support roads and facilities;

(e) Submit an estimate of the acreage expected to be disturbed in the twelve (12) months following issue of the permit, together with a map of the general area of the development operations for a like period. If the board shall, on good cause, consider the operator's estimate of the quantity of surface to be disturbed to be more than twenty per cent (20%) below what the board considers correct in the circumstances, it may by order require the operator to increase the amount of his bond accordingly.

(f) Submit a proposed reclamation plan for lands to be disturbed in the next twelve (12) months.

(g) Submission of an affidavit as may be required by the board showing that any lands disturbed by exploration, development, or mining in the state of Montana by applicant within two years prior to the application for said permit is or is in course of being reclaimed in accordance with the provisions of this act; or submission of an affidavit and such supporting documents and evidence as may be required by the board showing that any lands disturbed by exploration, development, or mining by applicant in the state of Montana during the two (2) years prior to the application for said permit will be restored in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(4) Following approval of a development plan, the operator shall be required to file a performance bond in accordance with provisions of this act.

(5) Employees of persons holding a valid license or permit under this act shall be deemed included in and covered by such license or permit.

(6) Upon proper application by the holder of an exploration license or development permit, the board may excuse such holder from reclamation obligations with reference to any specified openings or excavations exposing geological indications or phenomena of especial interest, even though the licensee does not apply or have any intention to apply for development license or operating permit for the land in which such openings or excavations have been made.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1208. Operating permit—fee—contents of application. (1) Effective sixty (60) days after the date on which the board shall first promulgate its regulations as authorized by section 4 [50-1204] of this act, no person shall engage in mining in the state without first obtaining an operating permit from the board to do so. A separate operating permit shall be required for each mine complex. Any person, prior to receiving an operating permit from the board, must pay the basic permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and must submit an application on a form provided by the board, which shall contain the following information and any other pertinent required data by the rules and regulations:

(a) Name and address of the operator and, if a corporation or other business entity, the name and address of its principal officers, partners and the like and its resident agent for service of process, if required by law;

(b) Minerals expected to be mined;

(c) A proposed reclamation plan;

(d) Expected starting date of mining;

(e) A map showing the specific area to be mined and the boundaries of the land which will be disturbed; topographic detail; the location and names of all streams, roads, railroads, and utility lines on or immediately adjacent to the area; location of proposed access roads to be built and the names and addresses of the surface and mineral owners of all lands within the mining area, to the extent known to applicant;

(f) Types of access roads to be built and manner of reclamation of road sites on abandonment;

(g) A plan of mining which will provide, within limits of normal operating procedures of the industry, for completion of mining and associated land disturbances.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1209. Reclamation plan—accomplishment of specific activities. (a) The reclamation plan shall provide that reclamation activities, particularly those relating to control of erosion, shall, to the extent feasible, be conducted simultaneously with mining and in any case shall be initiated promptly after completion or abandonment of mining on those portions of the mine complex that will not be subject to further disturbance by the mining operation. In the absence of an order by the board providing a longer period, the plan shall provide that reclamation activities shall be completed not more than two (2) years after completion or abandonment of mining on said portion of mine complex.

(b) In the absence of emergency or suddenly threatened or existing catastrophe, an operator may not depart from an approved plan without having previously obtained from the supervisor or director written approval of his proposed change.

(c) Provision shall be made to avoid accumulation of stagnant water in the mined area which may serve as a host or breeding ground for mosquitoes or other disease-bearing or noxious insect life.

(d) All final grading shall be made with nonnoxious, nonflammable, noncombustible solids unless approval has been granted by the board for a supervised sanitary fill.

(e) Where mining has left an open pit exceeding two (2) acres of surface area, and composition of the floor and/or walls of which pit are likely to cause formation of acid, toxic, or otherwise pollutive solutions (hereinafter "objectionable effluents") on exposure to moisture, the reclamation plan must include provisions which adequately provide for:

(1) Insulation of all faces from moisture of water contact by covering to a depth of two (2) feet or more with material or fill not susceptible itself to generation of such objectionable effluents; or

(2) Processing of any such objectionable effluents in the pit before their being allowed to flow or be pumped out of it to reduce toxic or other objectionable ratios to a level deemed safe to humans and the environment by the board; or

(3) Drainage of any such objectionable effluents to settling or treatment basins when the objectionable effluents must be reduced to levels deemed safe by the board before release from the settling basin; or

(4) Absorption and/or evaporation of objectionable effluents in the open pit itself; and

(5) Prevention of entrance into the open pit by persons or livestock lawfully upon adjacent lands by fencing, warning signs, and such other devices as may reasonably be required by the board.

(f) Vegetative cover will be required in the reclamation plan if appropriate to the future use of the land as specified in the reclamation plan.

(g) To the extent practical, the reclamation plan shall provide for the reclamation of all disturbed land. Proposed reclamation need not reclaim the areas to a better condition or different use than that which existed prior to development or mining.

(h) A reclamation plan will be approved by the board if it adequately provides for the accomplishment of the activities heretofore specified.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1210. Inspection of mining site—issuance of operating permit—modification of reclamation plan—succession to interest in uncompleted mining operation. Upon receipt of an application for an operating permit the mining site shall be inspected by a supervisor. Within thirty-five (35) days of receipt of the application and reclamation plan by the board and receipt of the permit fee, the board shall either issue an operating permit to the applicant or return any incomplete or inadequate application to the applicant along with a description of the deficiencies. Failure of the board to so act within that period shall constitute approval of the application and the permit shall be issued promptly thereafter.

The operating permit shall be granted for the period required to mine the land covered by the plan and shall be valid until the surface or underground mining authorized by the permit is completed or abandoned, unless the permit is suspended by the board as provided in this act. The operating permit shall provide that the reclamation plan may be modified by the board, upon proper application of the permittee, after timely notice and opportunity for hearing, at any time during the term of the permit and for any of the following reasons:

(a) To modify the requirements so they will not conflict with existing laws;

(b) The previously adopted reclamation plan is impossible or impracticable to implement and maintain;

(c) The operator and the supervisor mutually agreed, in the field, to temporarily modify the reclamation plan, pending final approval by the board.

When one (1) operator succeeds to the interest of another in any uncompleted mining operation by sale, assignment, lease, or otherwise, the board may release the first operator from the duties imposed upon him by this act as to such operation; provided, that both operators have complied with the requirements of this act and the successor operator assumes the duty of the former operator to complete the reclamation of the land, in which case the board shall transfer the permit to the successor operator upon approval of the successor operator's bond as required under this act.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1211. Performance bond. Concurrently with issue of a permit, the board may provide the permittee with a list of corporate sureties acceptable to the board from whom the performance bond hereafter required can be obtained.

Upon receipt of a permit the permittee, other than a public or governmental agency, shall not commence operation until the permittee has deposited with the board an acceptable performance bond on forms prescribed and furnished by the board. This performance bond shall be a corporate surety bond executed in favor of the board by a corporation authorized to do a surety business in the state of Montana and approved by the board. The bond shall be filed and maintained in an amount equal to the estimated cost of completing the reclamation plan for the area to be developed or mined during the next twelve (12) month period and any previously developed or mined area for which a permit has been issued and on which the reclamation has not been satisfactorily completed and approved. The board shall have the authority to determine the amount of the bond that shall be required, and may refuse any bond not deemed adequate. In no case shall the amount of the bond be more than five hundred dollars ($500) per acre of the area above described or fraction thereof.

The bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this chapter and of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

In lieu of the surety bond required by this section, the permittee may file with the board a cash deposit, negotiable securities acceptable to the board, or an assignment of a savings account in a Montana bank on an assignment form prescribed by the board.

Liability under the bond shall be maintained as long as reclamation is not completed in compliance with the approved reclamation plan unless released prior thereto as hereinafter provided. Liability under the bond may be released only upon written notification from the board. Notification shall be given upon completion of compliance or acceptance by the board of a substitute bond. In no event shall the liability of the permittee or surety exceed the amount of the surety bond required by this section.

A public or governmental agency shall not be required to post a bond under the terms of this chapter.

A blanket performance bond covering two (2) or more operations may be accepted by the board in lieu of separate bonds for each separate operation.

If adequate proof exists that a bond is unobtainable for any reason other than lack of fiscal responsibility on the operator's part from any source, the licensee's obligation to supply such bond shall be suspended until such time as a source for bonding is obtained.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, an applicant for a permit who shall, as part of his application, submit his duly acknowledged certificate that he will not, in the course of his entire operations in the state of Montana, exceed five (5) acres in aggregate of disturbed land unreclaimed, shall not be required to show financial capability to procure a performance bond as required by this section or thereafter to procure a corporate surety bond or make any in lieu deposit with the board therefor. Relief from such surety requirements shall in no wise relieve the permittee from any direct reclamation obligations hereunder. On acceptable showing of hardship on the part of an applicant, the board may relieve any permittee within the classification first described in this paragraph from such technical showings under sections 3 [50-1203] (11) and 8 [50-1208] which the board considers may be waived without injury to the interest of the public.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1212. Annual report of activities by permittee—annual fee. Within thirty (30) days after completion or abandonment of operations on an area under permit or within thirty (30) days after each anniversary date of the permit, whichever is earlier, or at such later date as may be provided by rules and regulations of the board and each year thereafter until reclamation is completed and approved, the permittee shall pay the annual fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and shall file a report of activities completed during the preceding year on a form prescribed by the board, which report shall:

(a) Identify the permittee and the permit number;

(b) Locate the operation by subdivision, section, township and range, and with relation to the nearest town or other well-known geographic feature;

(c) Estimate acreage to be newly disturbed by operation in the next twelve (12) month period; and

(d) Update any maps previously submitted or specifically requested by the board. Such maps shall show:

(1) The permit area;

(2) The unit of disturbed land;

(3) The area to be disturbed during the next twelve (12) month period;

(4) If completed, the date of completion of operations;

(5) If not completed, the additional area estimated to be further disturbed by the operation within the following permit year; and

(6) The date of beginning, amount and current status of reclamation performed during the previous twelve (12) months.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1213. Inspection to determine compliance with reclamation plan—rectification of deficiencies—board actions to reclaim disturbed lands. Following receipt of the permittee's report, and at any other reasonable time the board may elect, the board shall cause the permit area to be inspected to determine if the permittee has complied with the reclamation plan and the board's rules and regulations.

The permittee shall proceed with reclamation as scheduled in his approved reclamation plan. Following written notice by the board noting deficiencies, the permittee shall commence action within thirty (30) days to rectify these deficiencies and shall diligently proceed until the deficiencies are corrected; provided, that deficiencies that also violate other laws that require earlier rectification shall be corrected in accordance with the applicable time provisions of such laws. The board may extend performance periods referred to in this section and in section 9 [50-1209] of this act, for delays clearly beyond the permittee's control, but only when the permittee is, in the opinion of the board, making every reasonable effort to comply.

Within thirty (30) days after notification by the permittee and when in the judgment of the board reclamation of a unit of disturbed land area is properly completed, the permittee shall be notified in writing and his bond on said area shall be released or decreased proportionately to the acreage included within the bond coverage.

If reclamation of disturbed land is not pursued in accordance with the reclamation plan and the permittee has not commenced action to rectify deficiencies within thirty (30) days after notification by the board, or if reclamation is not properly completed in conformance with the reclamation plan within two (2) years after completion or abandonment of operation on any fraction of the permit area, or such longer period as may have been authorized hereunder, or if, after default by the permittee, the surety either refuses or fails to perform the work to the satisfaction of the board within the time required therefor, the board may, with the staff, equipment and material under its control, or by contract with others, take such actions as are necessary for required reclamation of the disturbed lands. Such work shall be let on the basis of competitive bidding. The board shall keep a record of all necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the work or activity authorized under this section, including a reasonable charge for the services performed by the state's personnel and the state's equipment and materials utilized.

The board shall notify the permittee and his surety by order. The order shall state the amount of necessary expenses incurred by the board in reclaiming the disturbed land and a notice that the amount is due and payable to the board by the permittee and the surety. If the amount specified in the order is not paid within thirty (30) days after receipt of the notice, the attorney general, upon request of the board, shall bring an action on behalf of the state in district court. The surety shall be liable to the state to the extent of the bond.

In addition to the other liabilities imposed by this act, failure to commence action to remedy specific deficiencies in reclamation within thirty (30) days after notification by the board or failure to satisfactorily complete reclamation work on any segment of the permit area within two (2) years, or such longer period as the board may permit on permittee's application therefor, or on the board's own motion, after completion or abandonment of operations on any segment of the permit area shall constitute sufficient grounds for cancellation of a permit or license and refusal to issue another permit or license to the applicant; provided, however, that such action shall not be effected while an appeal is pending from any ruling requiring the same.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1214. Reasons for denial of permit. A permit may be denied for any of the following reasons:

(a) The plan of development, mining, or reclamation conflicts with the state water and air purification standards;

(b) The reclamation plan does not provide an acceptable method for accomplishment of reclamation as required by this act.

A denial of a permit shall be in writing and state the reasons therefor.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1215. Resubmission with new reclamation plan. A permit may be denied and returned to the applicant with a request that the application be resubmitted with a different plan for reclamation. The person making application for a permit may then resubmit to the board a new plan for reclamation.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1216. Appeals board—administrative remedies. A licensee, permittee or applicant who has been aggrieved by any decision of the board shall have the right of appeal to an appeals board comprised of the following: one (1) member of the fish and game department; two (2) qualified mining engineers to be appointed by the governor, at least one (1) of whom shall not be an employee of the state or any agency or arm thereof; one (1) member from the state department of agriculture; one (1) member of the department of health; and one (1) member from the state department of planning and economic development; and one (1) member from the legal staff of the attorney general.

The appeal shall be instituted by filing a petition with the appeals board within thirty (30) days after the denial of the permit. The petition shall contain a statement of the reasons for which the petitioner is aggrieved, and after reasonable notice the petitioner or his attorney or agent shall be afforded a hearing before the appeals board thereon.

Within fifteen (15) days after the hearing, the appeals board shall notify the petitioner in writing of its decision and the reasons therefor.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1217. Judicial review. A licensee, permittee or applicant aggrieved by a final decision of the appeals board is entitled to judicial review under this act. Proceedings for review shall be instituted by filing a petition in a district court within thirty (30) days after service of the final decision of the appeals board. Copies of the petition shall be promptly served upon the appeals board and all parties of record.

The petition shall include a concise statement of the facts upon which jurisdiction and venue are based, a statement of the manner in which the petitioner is aggrieved and the ground or grounds upon which the petitioner contends he is entitled to relief. The petition shall demand the relief to which the petitioner believes he is entitled.

Within thirty (30) days after the service of the petition, or within further time allowed by the court, the appeals board shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceeding under review. By stipulation of all parties to the review proceedings, the record may be shortened. A party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for the additional costs. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record.

If, before the date set for hearing, application is made to the court by the appellant for leave to present additional evidence, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the additional evidence is material and that there were good reasons for failure to present it in the proceeding before the appeals board, the court may order that the additional evidence be taken before the court.

The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury, and shall be confined to the administrative and court record. In cases of alleged irregularities in procedure before the appeals board, not shown in the record, proof thereon may be taken in the court. The court, upon request, shall hear oral argument and receive written briefs.

The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the appeals board as to the weight of evidence on questions of fact. The court may affirm the decision of the appeals board or remand the case for further proceedings. The court may reverse or modify the decision if substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the findings, inferences, conclusions, decisions or proceedings were: (a) in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;

(b) In excess of the statutory authority of the director, board, or the appeals board;

(c) Made upon unlawful procedure;

(d) Affected by other error of law;

(e) Clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record, including the additional evidence introduced before the court as above provided;

(f) Arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion or clearly unwarranted exercise of discretion; or

(g) Because findings of fact, upon issues essential to the decisions, were not made although requested.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1218. Appeal to supreme court. An aggrieved party may obtain review of a final judgment of a district court under this act by appeal to the supreme court within sixty (60) days after entry of judgment. Such appeal shall be taken in the manner provided by law for appeals from district courts in civil cases.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1219. Exemption of works performed prior to promulgation of rules and regulations. No provision of this act shall be applicable to any exploration or mining work performed prior to the date of promulgation of the director's rules and regulations pursuant to section 4 [50-1204] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1220. Exemption of small miners—written agreement—noncompliance a misdemeanor. No provisions of this act shall apply to any small miner when the small miner agrees in writing, (1) That he shall not pollute or contaminate any stream; and

(2) That he shall provide protection for human and animal life through the installation of bulkheads installed over safety collars and the installation of doors on tunnel portals; and

(3) He shall not conduct a mining operation which will result in more than five (5) acres of the earth's surface being disturbed and unreclaimed.

Failure to comply with the regulations stipulated in this section will constitute a misdemeanor, and this offense will subject the owners, and/or operators of said project to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100), payable to the department of revenue of the state of Montana, or any board, commission, or person authorized to collect said fine.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted "department of revenue" for "board of equalization" in the final paragraph.

50-1221. Information obtained from applications confidential—admissible in hearings or proceedings. Any and all information obtained by the board or by the director or his staff by virtue of applications for licenses or permits is confidential between the board and the applicant. Any information obtained by the board or by the director or his staff by virtue of applications for licenses or permits is, however, properly admissible in any hearing conducted by the director, the board, appeals board or in any judicial proceeding to which the director and the applicant are parties. Failure to comply with the secrecy provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or one (1) year in jail.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1222. Violation a misdemeanor—penalties. Persons violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months or by both such penalties.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1223. Exemption of operations on federal lands. This act shall not be applicable to operations on certain federal lands as specified by the board, provided it is first determined by the board that federal law, or regulations issued by the federal agency administering such land, impose controls for reclamation of said lands substantially equal to or greater than those imposed by this act.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1224. Exemption of sample collectors. This act shall not be applicable to any person or persons collecting rock samples as a hobby or when the collection of rocks and minerals is offered for sale in any amount not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) per year.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

Separability Clause

Section 25 of Ch. 252, Laws 1971 read "The provisions of this act are severable, and if any part or provision thereof shall be held void in decision of the court so holding shall not affect or impair any of the remaining parts of the provisions of this act that are severable from the invalid applications."

Effective Date

Section 26 of Ch. 252, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 9, 1971.

CHAPTER 13—NOTICE TO LANDOWNER OF SURFACE OPERATIONS

Section 50-1301. Short title.
50-1302. Prospectors and miners to ascertain ownership of land.
50-1303. Written notice and approval required before commencement of operations.
50-1304. Discovery pits on federal lands exempt.
50-1305. Operations pursuant to prospecting permits or other agreements exempt.
50-1306. Violation a misdemeanor—immunity of landowner.

50-1301. Short title. This act may be referred to as "The Landowner Notification Act."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 335, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act requiring prospectors, miners, or other persons in this state to advise the owner of the land surface in advance of any operations which will disturb the surface of such land and obtain authorization to operate thereon.

50-1302. Prospectors and miners to ascertain ownership of land. All prospectors for minerals, miners, or other persons contemplating surface disturbance by mechanical equipment other than hand tools on lands within the state of Montana are required to ascertain the ownership and possessory right of any land before performing any such operations causing surface disturbance, such as road or trail building or any other work disturbing the surface on such land.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 335, L. 1971.

50-1303. Written notice and approval required before commencement of operations. The land or surface of land not owned in fee by such person may not be disturbed in any manner until the owner or manager of the surface of said land, and the owner of a possessory right to said land, is given notice in writing, accompanied by a map showing the specific locations involved, of such person's intent or desire to enter upon such land which will sufficiently disclose the plan of work and operations, including contemplated measures for the protection and restoration of the land and waters, to enable the owner or manager of the land and any person holding a possessory right to such land to evaluate the extent of disturbance contemplated and the effectiveness and sufficiency of the protection and restoration measures planned.

(a) Before commencement of any work or operations on any such lands, such person must first obtain from the surface owner of private land specific written approval of the proposed work or operations.

(b) In the case of city, county, state, or federally owned lands, such person must first obtain the authorization or permit, if any, required by the applicable law and the regulations of the governmental agency or board charged by law with the administration or management of the surface of such land.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 335, L. 1971.

50-1304. Discovery pits on federal lands exempt. Discovery pits which may be required to locate a mining claim on federal lands open to mineral entry, when excavated entirely by hand methods with hand tools, are exempt from the operation of this act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 335, L. 1971.

50-1305. Operations pursuant to prospecting permits or other agreements exempt. The provisions of this act shall not apply where operations upon land are performed in accordance with the terms of a prospecting permit or a lease covering any mineral interest in said land or other valid agreements authorizing such operations which are in full force and effect.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 335, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 194, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "or by the owner of one hundred per cent (100%) of the rights to any mineral interest upon the land in which such mineral ownership is vested" from the end of the section.

50-1306. Violation a misdemeanor—immunity of landowner. Any work done in violation of this act is punishable as a misdemeanor and each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense. The owner or lessor shall not be liable for injury to any person on either owned or leased land.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 335, L. 1971.

50-1409. Deposition of fines.

50-1401. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as "The Strip Mined Coal Conservation Act."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 220, L. 1973.

Title of Act

An act providing for the conservation of strippable and marketable coal, and prohibiting the waste thereof; providing for the submission of strip mining plans, to the department of state lands; assigning duties to the state board of land commissioners; providing penalties; and providing an effective date.

50-1402. Policy and purposes of act. (1) Recognizing the importance of natural resources to the welfare of present and future generations of the people of Montana, it is declared to be the public policy in providing for the orderly development of coal resources through strip mining to assure the wise use and to prevent the waste of coal.

(2) It is the purpose of this act:

(a) to vest in the department the authority to review strip mining plans and either approve or disapprove such plans for the purpose of preventing waste; and

(b) to vest in the board the authority to adopt rules to prohibit waste resulting from strip mining operations.

(2) "Department" means the department of state lands.

(3) "Strip mining" means all or any part of the process followed in the production of coal by the open cut method including mining by the auger method or any similar method which penetrates a coal deposit and removes coal directly through a series of openings made by a machine which enters the deposit from a surface excavation, or any other mining method or process in which the strata or overburden is removed or displaced in order to recover the coal.

(4) "Overburden" means all of the earth and other materials which lie above a natural coal deposit and also means such earth and other material after removal from their natural state in the process of strip mining.

(5) "Strippable coal" means that coal which can be removed through strip mining methods adaptable to the location that coal is being strip mined or is planned to be strip mined.

(6) "Marketable coal" means strippable coal that is economically feasible to mine and is fit for sale in the usual course of trade.

Title of Act

An act to provide for reclamation and conservation of land subject to open cut bentonite, sand or gravel mining; requiring reclamation contracts for operations resulting in removal of ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards of overburden or product; providing enforcement by the state board of land commissioners; repealing sections 50-1018 through 50-1033, R. C. M. 1947; and providing an effective date.

50-1502. Policy of state. It is the policy of this state to provide for the reclamation and conservation of land subjected to open cut bentonite, sand or gravel mining. Therefore, it is the purpose of this act to preserve natural resources, to aid in the protection of wildlife and aquatic resources, to safeguard and reclaim through effective means and methods all agricultural, recreational, home and industrial sites subjected to or which may be affected by open cut bentonite, sand or gravel mining to protect and perpetuate the taxable value of property, to protect scenic, scientific, historic or other unique areas, and to promote the health, safety and general welfare of the people of this state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1505. Administration of act—delegation of functions. The commission is the administrator of this act and it has all the power necessary to implement and enforce it. The commission may delegate to the commissioner of state lands such powers, duties and functions under this act as it deems necessary for the performance of its duties.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1506. Powers, duties and functions of commission. The commission has the following powers, duties and functions:

(1) to enter into contracts where it is found on the basis of the information set forth in the application and an evaluation of the operation by the commission that the requirements of the act or rules will be observed and that the operation and the reclamation of the affected area can be carried out consistent with the purpose of the act;

(2) to prepare and adopt rules and regulations pertaining to open cut mining to accomplish the purposes of this act;

(3) to conduct hearings and for the purposes of conducting such hearings, to administer oaths and affirmations, to subpoena witnesses, to compel attendance of witnesses, to hear evidence and to require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, documents or other records relevant or material to the inquiry;

50-1507. Contract for reclamation required for large open cut operations. From and after the effective date of this act, no operator shall conduct open cut mining operations which shall result in the removal of ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards, or more, of product or overburden, until he has entered into a contract with the commission for the reclamation of the land affected. Any operator conducting a number of operations each of which result in the removal of less than ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards of product or overburden but which result in the removal of ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards, or more, of product or overburden in the aggregate shall be subject to the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1508. Application for contract—contents—issuance of contract—amendment—withdrawal of land. Applications for a contract shall be made upon a form furnished by the commission, which form contains the following:

(1) the name of the operator and, if other than the owner of the land, the name and address of the owner.

(2) the type of operation to be conducted;

(3) the volume of earth to be removed, as accurately as the same may then be estimated, and the volume which has been previously removed, if any;

(4) the location of the operation by legal subdivision, section, township and range, and county;

(5) the date when such operation was or will be commenced;

(6) the operator must submit a plan of his operation and the method and manner of reclamation that will be used or followed. If the operator, prior to applying for a contract, notifies the commission of his intention to submit a plan, and requests the commission to examine the area to be mined, the commission shall cause the area to be examined and make recommendations to the operator regarding reclamation;

(7) a statement that the applicant has the right and power by legal estate owned to mine by open cut mining the lands so described;

(8) the application shall be accompanied by:

(a) a bond or security meeting the requirements as set out in this act, and

(b) a fee of fifty dollars ($50);

Upon receipt of such application, bond or security and fee due from the operator, and upon agreement to the terms of the contract by the parties, the commission may issue a contract to the applicant which shall entitle him thereafter to continue in or engage in open cut mining or land therein described;

(9) an operator desiring to have his contract amended to cover additional contiguous or nearby land may file an amended application with the commission. Upon receipt of the amended application, and such additional bond as may be required, and upon agreement to the terms of the amendment by the parties, the commission may issue an amendment to the original contract covering the additional land described in the amended application, without the payment of any additional fee;

(10) an operator may withdraw any land covered by contract, except affected land, by notifying the commission thereof, in which case the penalty of the bond or security filed by such operator pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be reduced proportionately.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1509. Terms of bond required—deposit in lieu of bond—substitution of bond—forfeiture—release. (1) Any bond required to be filed in this act by the operator shall be in such form as the commission prescribes, payable to the state of Montana, and conditioned upon the operator's full compliance with all requirements of this act and all rules and regulations of the commission. Such bond shall be signed by the landowner or operator, as appropriate, as principal, and by a good and sufficient corporate surety, licensed to do business in the state of Montana, as surety. The penalty of such bond shall be in an amount not to exceed the costs of restoration required by this act as determined by the commission, but shall not be less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) per acre.

(2) In lieu of such bond, the operator may deposit cash and government securities or a bond with property sureties with the commission in an amount equal to that of the required bond on conditions as above prescribed. In the discretion of the commission, surety bond requirements may be fulfilled by the operator's posting a bond with land and improvements and facilities thereon as security, in which event no surety shall be required. The penalty of the bond or amount of cash and securities shall be increased or reduced from time to time as provided in this act. Such bond or security shall be and remain in effect until the mined acreages have been reclaimed, as provided under the contract, and approved and released by the commission, and shall from time to time cover only actual mined acreages and may be increased or reduced to cover only such acreages as remained unreclaimed.

(3) If the license to do business in the state of any surety upon a bond filed with the commission pursuant to this act shall be suspended or revoked, the operator, within thirty (30) days after receiving notice thereof from the commission, shall substitute for such surety a good and sufficient surety licensed to do business in the state. Upon failure of the operator to make substitution of surety, the commission shall have the right to suspend the contract of the operator to conduct operations upon the land described in such contract until such substitution has been made.

(4) The commission shall cause to be reclaimed any affected land with respect to which a bond has been forfeited.

(5) Whenever an operator shall have completed all of the requirements under the provisions of this act as to any affected land, he shall notify the commission thereof. If the commission shall release the operator from further obligation regarding such affected land, the penalty of the bond shall be reduced proportionately.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1510. Contract requirements—performance bond—effective period of contract. The contract shall meet the following requirements:

(1) The operator shall submit a reclamation plan to the commission before commencing any open cut mining, and may not commence mining before it receives approval from the commission. The operator may request and receive a meeting with the commission prior to submission of the plan. If the commission does not notify the operator that it has approved or disapproved a plan within thirty (30) days after the commission has received the plan, the commission shall be deemed to have approved the plan. The commission, however, may for sufficient cause extend its period of consideration for an additional thirty (30) days if it notifies the operator prior to the end of the original thirty (30) day period. The commission shall submit all reclamation plans or amendments to the reclamation plan to the landowner for his recommendations and shall consider those recommendations in deciding whether to approve or disapprove any plan or amendments. The commission may seek technical help from any state or federal agency. The commission must submit the plan immediately to the director, university of Montana state-wide archaeological survey for evaluation of possible archaeological or historical values in the area to be mined. The commission may approve a reclamation plan only if the commission has found that the plan provides for the best possible reclamation procedures available under the circumstances at the time, so that after mining operations are completed the affected land shall be reclaimed to a productive use. Once the reclamation plan has been accepted in writing by the commission, it shall become a part of the contract but shall be subject to annual review and modification by the commission.

(2) The commission may not approve any reclamation plan unless the plan provides that:

(a) the land will be reclaimed for one or more specified uses, including but not limited to: forest, pasture, orchard, cropland, residence, recreation, industry, habitat (including food, cover or water) for wildlife or other uses;

(b) to the extent reasonable and practicable, the operator shall establish vegetative cover commensurate with the proposed land use;

(c) where operations result in a need to prevent acid drainage or sedimentation, on or in adjoining lands or streams, there shall be provisions for the construction of earth dams or other reasonable devices to control water drainage, provided the formation of such impoundments or devices will not interfere with other landowners' rights or contribute to water pollution;

(d) to accomplish practical utilization of soil materials, such material will be utilized for placement on affected areas if required by the reclamation plan after completion or termination of that particular phase of the mining operations at a depth sufficient for plant growth on slopes of 3:1 or less. Grading specifications shall be commensurate with the topography sought and land use designated;

(e) metal and other waste shall be removed or buried;

(f) all access, haul and other support roads shall be located, constructed and maintained in such a manner as to control and minimize channeling and other erosion;

(g) the operator shall submit annually to the commission a progress report;

(h) all operations shall be conducted so as to avoid range and forest fires and spontaneous combustion. Open burning of carbonaceous materials shall be in accordance with suitable practices for fire prevention and control;

(i) archaeological and historical values in areas to be mined shall be given appropriate protection;

(j) except for rock faces, bench faces and excavations used for water impoundments, each surface area of the mined premises which will be disturbed shall be revegetated when its use for extractive purposes is no longer required. Seeding and planting shall be done in a manner to achieve a permanent suitable vegetative cover for wildlife, livestock and retardation of erosion. All seed will be drilled unless otherwise provided in the plan;

(k) reclamation shall be as concurrent with mining operations as feasible, and must be completed within a specified length of time.

(3) If reclamation according to the plan has not been completed in the time specified, the commission shall after thirty (30) days' written notice order the operator to cease mining, and, if the operator does not cease, shall institute an action to enjoin further operation and may sue for damages for breach of contract, for payment of the performance bond, or for both.

(4) (a) At any time during the period of reclamation the operator may for good reason submit to the commission a new reclamation plan or amendment to the existing plan including extensions of time.

(b) The commission may approve the proposed new reclamation plan, or amendments to the existing plan if:

(i) the operator has in good faith carried on reclamation according to the existing plan, and

(ii) the proposed new plan, or amendments to the existing plan, will result in reclamation as desirable or more so than the reclamation proposed under the existing plan, or

(iii) it is highly improbable reclamation will be successful unless the existing plan is replaced or amended.

When accepted, the proposed new reclamation plan or the proposed amendments to the existing plan becomes a part of the contract.

(5) The operator shall provide a performance bond, or an alternative acceptable to the commission, in an amount commensurate with the estimated cost of reclamation, but in no case shall the bond be less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre. The estimated cost of reclamation shall be set forth in the reclamation plan.

(6) The contract, reclamation plan and amendments accepted by the commission shall be a public record and open to inspection.

(7) The contract shall become effective when signed by the commission and the operator, and shall remain in force until terminated by mutual consent or by the commission upon six (6) months' notice.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1511. Receipt of funds by commission — reclamation work by commission. The commission may receive any federal funds, state funds or any other funds for the reclamation of land affected by open cut mining. The commission may cause the reclamation work to be done by its own employees or by employees of other governmental agencies, soil conservation districts or through contracts with qualified persons.

Any funds or any public works programs available to the commission shall be used and expended to reclaim and rehabilitate any lands that have been subject to open cut mining that have not been reclaimed and rehabilitated in accordance with the standards of this act.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1512. Inspection of open cut mining by commission. The commission, or its accredited representatives, may enter upon lands subjected to open cut mining at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspection, to determine whether the provisions of this act have been complied with.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1513. Operation without contract as misdemeanor—penalty. Anyone required by this act to have a contract and who engages in open cut mining without previously securing a contract to do so as prescribed by this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) and not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000). Each day of operation without a contract required by this act shall be deemed a separate violation.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1514. Reclamation of land on which bond forfeited. The commission shall have the power to reclaim, in keeping with the provisions of this act, any affected lands with respect to which a bond has been forfeited.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1515. Commission hearing on final order of commissioner—judicial review. (1) A person who is aggrieved by a final decision of the commissioner of state lands is entitled to a hearing before the commission.

(2) The Montana Administrative Procedure Act (Title 82, chapter 42, R. C. M. 1947) governs hearings before the commission and judicial review of decisions of the commission under this act.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

Separability Clause

Section 16 of Ch. 326, Laws 1973 read "The provisions of this act are severable, and if any part or provision thereof shall be held void the decision of the court so holding shall not affect or impair any of the remaining parts of provisions of this act that are severable from the invalid applications."

Repealing Clause

Section 17 of Ch. 326, Laws 1973 read "Sections 50-1018 through 50-1033, R. C. M. 1947, are repealed. However, contracts entered into under the provisions of sections 50-1018 through 50-1033, R. C. M. 1947, are not affected hereby, and shall remain in effect until terminated or completed."

50-1516. Exemption of operations covered by other law. Nothing in this act shall be construed to be applicable to mining or exploration operations which are regulated under the provisions of Title 50, chapter 12, R. C. M. 1947.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

Section 51-113. Montana trade commission—administration of act by—intervention—orders—review—appeals—process—finality of order.

51-113. Montana trade commission—administration of act by—intervention—orders—review—appeals—process—finality of order. (1) The Montana trade commission shall have the administration of this act; and the members thereof shall not receive any additional compensation for their services other than their salaries prescribed by law. The commission shall meet not less than six (6) times a year on or about the fifteenth (15th) day of the month, and as often and wherever it may decide other meetings are necessary. Suitable notice of all meetings shall be given as the commission may determine.

Said commission is empowered and directed to prevent any person, firm or corporation from violating any of the provisions of this chapter.

(2) Upon receiving notice from any person that any person, firm or corporation is violating or has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, the commission shall immediately notify the person giving such notice either to appear at its next regular or special meeting or to make a written reply to show probable cause of such violation. If probable cause is shown, the commission must thereafter make its own investigation and within sixty (60) days of the finding of probable cause must make a written report of its investigation and must mail a copy of its findings to the person initially giving notice of a violation.

If, after such investigation the commission shall have reason to believe that any such person, firm or corporation has been or is engaging in any course of conduct or doing any act or acts in violation of the provisions of this chapter and if it shall appear to the commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be to the interest of the public, it shall issue and serve upon such person, firm or corporation a complaint stating its charges in that respect, and containing a notice of a hearing upon a day and at a place therein fixed not less than five (5) days after the service of said complaint. Any such complaint may be amended by the commission in its discretion at any time five (5) days prior to the issuance of an order based thereon. The person, firm or corporation so complained of shall have the right to appear at the place and time so fixed and show cause why an order should not be entered by the commission requiring such person, firm or corporation to cease and desist from the violation of the law so charged in said complaint. Any person, firm or corporation may make application, and upon good cause shown may be allowed by the commission to intervene and appear in said proceeding by counsel or in person. If upon such hearing the commission shall be of the opinion that the act or conduct in question is prohibited by this chapter, it shall make a report in writing in which it shall state its findings as to the facts and shall issue and cause to be served on such person, firm or corporation an order requiring such person, firm or corporation to cease and desist from such acts or conduct. Until a transcript of the record in such hearing shall have been filed in a district court, as hereinafter provided, the commission may at any time, upon such notice and in such manner as it shall deem proper, modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any report or any order made or issued by it under this section.

It is hereby declared that the advertising, offering for sale or sale of cigarettes below cost, in the retail and wholesale trades, with the intent of injuring competitors or lessening competition, is an unfair and deceptive business practice. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the state to promote the public welfare and it is the purpose of this act to carry out that policy in the public interest and stabilize the sale of cigarettes, maximize and protect the state revenues from this source.

History: En. Preamble, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

Title of Act

An act to prevent unfair competition and unfair trade practices in the sale of cigarettes; to prohibit sales of cigarettes below cost; to protect and stabilize the collection of taxes on the sale of cigarettes and revenues from the licensing of persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes; to confer powers and impose duties on the state board of equalization and on persons, as herein defined, engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale; and providing remedies and imposing penalties for violations thereof.

51-302. Short title. This act shall be known, designated and cited as "The Montana Cigarette Sales Act."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-303. Definitions. When used in this act, the following words and phrases shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning: (1) "Person" shall mean and include any individual, firm, association, company, partnership, corporation for profit or nonprofit corporation, joint stock company, club, agency, syndicate, co-operative, municipal corporation or other political subdivision of this state, trust, receiver, trustee, fiduciary and conservator.

(2) "Wholesaler" shall include any person who:

(a) purchases cigarettes directly from the manufacturer; or

(b) purchases cigarettes from any other person who purchases from the manufacturer and who acquires such cigarettes solely for the purpose of bona fide resale to retail dealers; or

(c) services retail outlets by the maintenance of an established place of business for the purchase of cigarettes, including, but not limited to, the maintenance of warehousing facilities for the storage and distribution of cigarettes.

Nothing contained herein shall prevent a person from qualifying in different capacities as both "wholesaler" and "retailer" under the applicable provisions of this act.

(3) "Retailer" shall mean and include any person who operates a store, stand, booth or concession for the purpose of making sales of cigarettes at retail.

(4) "Administrative agency" or "department" shall mean the state department of revenue of Montana and, where the meaning or the context so requires, all deputies and employees duly authorized by such board.

(5) "Cigarettes" shall mean any roll for smoking made wholly or in part of tobacco, irrespective of size or shape and whether or not such tobacco is flavored, adulterated or mixed with any other ingredient, the wrapper or cover of which is made of paper or any other substance or material except tobacco.

(6) "Sale" shall mean any transfer for a consideration, exchange, barter, gift, offer for sale and distribution, in any manner, or by any means whatever.

(7) "Sell at wholesale," "sale at wholesale" and "wholesale" sales shall mean and include any bona fide transfer of title to cigarettes for a valuable consideration, made in the ordinary course of trade or in the usual conduct of the wholesaler's business, to a retailer for the purpose of resale.

(8) "Sell at retail," "sale at retail" and "retail sales" shall mean and include any transfer of title to cigarettes for a valuable consideration, made in the ordinary course of trade or usual conduct of the seller's business, to the purchaser for consumption or use.

(9) "Basic cost of cigarettes" shall mean the invoice cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler, as the case may be, or the replacement cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler, as the case may be, in the quantity last purchased, whichever is lower.

(10) (a) The term "cost to the wholesaler" shall mean the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the wholesaler plus the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler," as evidenced by the standards and methods of accounting regularly employed by the said wholesaler in his determination of costs for income tax reporting purposes for the total operation of his establishment and shall include within said costs, without limitation, labor costs (including salaries of executives and officers), rent, depreciation, selling costs, maintenance of equipment, delivery costs, all types of licenses, business taxes, insurance and advertising. The cost of doing business by a wholesaler shall also include any rebates, patronage dividends or concessions no matter how defined, and any and all other indirect or overhead costs with respect to the operation of the establishment of the said wholesaler, expressed as a percentage and applied to the "basic cost of cigarettes."

(b) In the absence of the filing with the department of proof which the department declares to be satisfactory of a lesser or higher cost of doing business by the wholesaler making the sale, the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler" shall be presumed to be five per centum (5%) of the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the wholesaler, plus cartage to the retail outlet, if performed or paid for by the wholesaler, which cartage cost, in the absence of the filing with the department of satisfactory proof of a lesser or higher cost, shall be considered to be three-fourths of one per centum (¾ of 1%) of the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the wholesaler.

(11) (a) The term "cost to the retailer" shall mean the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the retailer plus the "cost of doing business by the retailer" as evidenced by the standards and methods of accounting regularly employed by the said retailer in his determination of costs for income tax reporting purposes for the total operation of his establishment and shall include within said costs, without limitation, labor costs, (including salaries of executives and officers), rent, depreciation, selling costs, maintenance of equipment, delivery costs, all types of licenses, business taxes, insurance, and advertising, including any rebates or concession no matter how defined, and any and all other indirect or overhead costs with respect to the operation of the establishment of the said retailer, expressed as a percentage and applied to the "basic costs of cigarettes"; provided, however. that any retailer who purchases from the manufacturer or from any other person at or at less than or about the price normally and usually charged for purchases in wholesale quantities shall, in determining "cost to the retailer," pursuant to this subsection, add the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler," as determined in subparagraph 10 (b) of this act, to the "basic cost of cigarettes" to said retailer, as well as the "cost of doing business by the retailer."

(b) In the absence of the filing with the department of satisfactory proof of a lesser or higher cost of doing business by the retailer making the sale, the "cost of doing business by the retailer" shall be presumed to be ten per centum (10%) of the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the retailer.

(c) In the absence of the filing with the department of satisfactory proof of a lesser or higher cost of doing business, the "cost of doing business by the retailer," who, in connection with the retailer's purchase, received not only the discounts ordinarily allowed upon purchases by a retailer, but also, in whole or part, the discounts ordinarily allowed upon purchases by a wholesaler, shall be presumed to be ten per centum (10%) of the sum of the "basic cost of cigarettes" and the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler."

(12) "Business day" shall mean any day other than a Sunday or a legal holiday.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment in subparagraph (10)(a) substituted "by the standards and methods * * * shall include within said costs" for "accounting, which shall include allocation of overhead costs and expenses, paid or incurred, and must include" after "as evidenced by" and added the last sentence; in subparagraph (11)(a) substituted "the said retailer * * * shall include within said costs" for "him in his allocation of overhead costs and expenses, paid or incurred, and must include" after "employed by," inserted "costs" after "labor," inserted "business" before "taxes," inserted "including any rebates * * * the 'basic costs of cigarettes'" after "advertising," inserted "however" after "provided," substituted "purchases from the manufacturer * * * wholesale quantities" for "in connection with the retailer's purchases by a wholesaler" after "any retailer who," substituted "as determined in" for "as defined in section 2" before "subparagraph (10)(b)," and added "(b)" after "subparagraph (10)."

The 1973 amendment substituted "'department'" for "'board'" and "department of revenue" for "board of equalization" in subdivision (4); and substituted "department" for "board" in subdivisions (10)(b) and (11)(b) and (c).

Cost to Wholesaler

Board of equalization formula requiring cigarette wholesaler to reduce wholesale price by tax discount provided for under section 84-5606.12 was improper because full face value of the tax insignia was to be used in determining wholesale price. Montana Assn. of Tobacco & Candy Distributors v. State Board of Equalization, 156 M 108, 476 P 2d 775.

51-304. Practices declared unlawful—penalty—prima facie evidence of unlawful intent. It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act:

(1) For any retailer or wholesaler with intent to injure a competitor or substantially lessen competition;

(a) To advertise, offer to sell or sell, at retail or wholesale, cigarettes at less than cost to such a retailer or wholesaler, as the case may be.

(b) To offer a rebate in price, to give a rebate in price, to offer a concession of any kind, or to give a concession of any kind or nature whatever in connection with the sale of cigarettes if such rebate or concession offered or given in connection with the sale of cigarettes is not offered or given by the wholesaler or retailer in the same ratio with respect to all other merchandise as to which such rebate or concession may lawfully be given which is sold by said wholesaler or retailer in the ordinary course of his trade or business.

(2) For any retailer:

(a) To induce or attempt to induce or to procure or attempt to procure the purchase of cigarettes at a price less than "cost to the wholesaler," as defined in this act.

(b) To induce or attempt to induce or to procure or attempt to procure any rebate or concession of any kind or nature whatever in connection with the purchase of cigarettes.

(3) Any retailer or wholesaler who violates the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be prosecuted and punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each such offense. Any individual who, as a director, officer, partner, member or agent of any person violating the provisions of this act, assists or aids, directly or indirectly, in such violation, shall, equally with the person for whom he acts, be responsible therefor and subject to the punishment and penalties set forth herein.

(4) Evidence of advertisement, offering to sell or sale of cigarettes by any retailer or wholesaler at less than cost to him, or evidence of any offer of a rebate in price, or the giving of a rebate in price, or an offer of a concession, or the giving of a concession of any kind or nature whatever in connection with the sale of cigarettes if such rebate or concession offered or given in connection with the sale of cigarettes is not offered or given by the wholesaler or retailer in the same ratio with respect to all other merchandise as to which such rebate or concession may lawfully be given which is sold by said wholesaler or retailer in the ordinary course of his trade or business, or the inducing or attempt to induce, or the procuring or the attempt to procure the purchase of cigarettes at a price less than cost to the wholesaler or the retailer, shall be prima facie evidence of intent to injure competitors or substantially lessen competition.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-305. Sales from wholesaler to wholesaler. When one wholesaler sells cigarettes to any other wholesaler, the former shall not be required to include in his selling price to the latter "cost to the wholesaler," as provided by section 2 [51-303], subparagraph (10) of this act, except that no such sale shall be made at a price less than the "basic cost of cigarettes," as defined in said section 2 [51-303], subparagraph (9) of this act, but the latter wholesaler, upon resale to a retailer, shall be considered to be the wholesaler governed by the provisions of said section 2 [51-303], subparagraph (10) of this act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-306. Combination sales. In all advertisements, offers for sale or sales involving two or more items, at least one of which items is cigarettes, at a combined price, and in all advertisements, offers for sale or sales involving the giving of any gift or concession of any kind whatever (whether it be coupons or otherwise) if such rebate or concession offered or given in connection with the sale of cigarettes is not offered or given by the wholesaler or retailer in the same ratio with respect to all other merchandise as to which such rebate or concession may lawfully be given which is sold by said wholesaler or retailer in the ordinary course of his trade or business, the retailer's or wholesaler's combined selling price shall not be below the "cost to the retailer" or the "cost to the wholesaler," respectively, of the total costs of all articles, products, commodities, gifts and concessions included in such transactions.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-307. Exceptions. The provisions of this act shall not apply to sales at retail or sales at wholesale made (a) as an isolated transaction and not in the usual course of business; (b) where cigarettes are advertised, offered for sale, or sold in bona fide clearance sales for the purpose of discontinuing trade in such cigarettes and said advertising, offer to sell, or sale, shall state the reason thereof and the quantity of such cigarettes advertised, offered for sale, or sold as imperfect or damaged, and said advertising, offer to sell, or sale, shall state the reason therefor and the quantity of such cigarettes advertised, offered for sale, or to be sold; (c) where cigarettes are sold upon the final liquidation of a business; or (d) where cigarettes are advertised, offered for sale, or sold by any fiduciary or other officer acting under the order or direction of any court.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-308. Sales to meet competition. (a) Any retailer may advertise, offer to sell, or sell cigarettes at a price made in good faith to meet the price of a competitor who is selling the same article at cost to him as a retailer as prescribed in this act. Any wholesaler may advertise, offer to sell, or sell cigarettes at a price made in good faith to meet the price of a competitor who is rendering the same type of service and is selling the same article at cost to him as a wholesaler, as prescribed in this act. The price of cigarettes advertised, offered for sale, or sold under the exceptions specified in section 6 [51-307] shall not be considered the price of a competitor and shall not be used as a basis for establishing prices below cost, nor shall the price established at a bankrupt sale be considered the price of a competitor within the purview of this section.

(b) In the absence of proof of the "price of a competitor," under this section, the "lowest cost to the retailer," or the "lowest cost to the wholesaler," as the case may be, determined by any "cost survey," made pursuant to section 11 [51-312] of this act, may be considered to be the "price of a competitor," within the meaning of this section.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-309. Contracts in violation void. Any contract, expressed or implied, made by any person in violation of any of the provisions of this act, is declared to be an illegal and void contract and no recovery thereon shall be had.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-310. Evidence to be considered as bearing on bona fides of cost. (a) In determining "cost to the retailer" and "cost to the wholesaler," the board or a court shall receive and consider as bearing on the bona fides of such cost, evidence tending to show that any person complained against under any of the provisions of this act purchased cigarettes, with respect to the sale of which complaint is made, at a fictitious price, or upon terms, or in such a manner, or under such invoices, as to conceal the true cost, discounts or terms of purchase, and shall also receive and consider as bearing on the bona fides of such cost, evidence of the normal, customary and prevailing terms and discounts in connection with other sales of a similar nature in the trade area or state.

(b) Merchandise given gratis, or payment made to a retailer or wholesaler by the manufacturer thereof for display, or advertising, or promotion purposes or otherwise, shall not be considered in determining the cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-311. Cigarettes purchased outside ordinary trade channels. In establishing the cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler, the invoice cost of said cigarettes purchased at a forced, bankrupt or closeout sale, or other sale outside of the ordinary channels of trade, may not be used as a basis for justifying a price lower than one based upon the replacement cost of the cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler in the quantity last purchased, through the ordinary channels of trade.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-312. Cost survey. Where a cost survey pursuant to cost accounting practices, including those defined in section 2 [51-303] (10) (a), has been made by the board, or by a trade association or other industry group, for the trading area in which the offense is committed, to establish the lowest "cost to the retailer" and the lowest "cost to the wholesaler," said cost survey shall be considered to be competent evidence for use in proving the cost to the person complained against within the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-313. Civil suits for violation of act. (a) In addition to penalties provided by section 3 [51-304] of this act, any person injured by any violation of this act, or any trade association which is representative of such a person, may maintain an action in any court of equitable jurisdiction to prevent, restrain or enjoin such violation. If in such action a violation of this act shall be established, the court shall enjoin and restrain or otherwise prohibit such violation and, in addition thereto, shall assess in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant the costs of the suit and reasonable attorney's fee. In such action it shall not be necessary that actual damages to the plaintiff be alleged or proved, but where alleged and proved, the plaintiff in said action, in addition to such injunctive relief and fees and costs of suit, shall be entitled to recover from the defendant the amount of actual damages sustained by the plaintiff.

(b) In the event no injunctive relief is sought or required, any person injured by a violation of this act may maintain an action for damages alone in any court of competent jurisdiction and the measure of damages in such action shall be the same as prescribed in subsection (a) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-314. Powers of board. (a) In addition to the penalties and rights imposed and set forth in sections 3 [51-304] and 12 [51-313] of this act, the board shall enforce the provisions of this act. The board shall have the power to adopt, amend and repeal rules and regulations necessary to enforce and administer the provisions of this act. The board is given full power and authority to revoke or suspend the license or permit of any wholesale or retail cigarette dealer in the state of Montana upon sufficient cause appearing of the violation of this act or upon the failure of such licensee or permittee to comply with any of the provisions of this act.

(b) No license or licenses shall be suspended or revoked except upon notice to the licensee, and after a hearing prescribed by said board at its principal office. The board, upon a finding by it that the licensee has failed to comply with any provisions of this act or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder, shall, in the case of the first offender, suspend the license or licenses of the said licensee for a period of not less than five (5) nor more than twenty (20) consecutive business days, and, in the case of a second or plural offender, shall suspend said license or licenses for a period of not less than twenty (20) consecutive business days nor more than twelve (12) months, and, in the event the board finds the offender has been guilty of willful and persistent violations, he may revoke such licensee's license or licenses.

(c) Any person whose license or licenses have been so revoked may apply to the board at the expiration of one year for a reinstatement of his license or licenses. Such license or licenses may be reinstated by the board if it shall appear to the satisfaction of said board that the licensee will comply with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(d) No person whose license has been suspended or revoked shall sell cigarettes or permit cigarettes to be sold during the period of such suspension or revocation on the premises occupied by him or upon other premises controlled by him or others or in any other manner or form whatever. Nor shall any disciplinary proceedings or action be barred or abated by the expiration, transfer, surrender, continuance, renewal or extension of any license issued under the provisions of the "cigarette tax law," as provided in articles of chapter 11 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947.

Any determination by the board and any order of suspension or revocation of a license or licenses thereunder, or refusal to reinstate a license or licensee after revocation, shall be reviewable by the court in a proper case and in proceedings as provided by the procedural law of this jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

Separability Clause

Section 14 of Ch. 258, Laws 1965 read "Provisions of act severable. The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its sections, provisions, exceptions, sentences, clauses, phrases or parts be held unconstitutional or void, the remainder of this act shall continue in full force and effect."

Repealing Clause

Section 15 of Ch. 258, Laws 1965 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

52-312. (8286) Foreclosure of security interests in personal property—by action—by sheriff's sale. An action for the foreclosure of a security interest in personal property may be commenced and conducted in the same manner as provided by law for the foreclosure of mortgages upon real property, and the same may be joined in an action for the recovery of the possession of the property subject to the security interest; but the remedial scope of proceedings for the foreclosure of interests subject to the Uniform Commercial Code—Secured Transactions is governed by Part 5 thereof.

A security agreement covering personal property may contain a clause authorizing the sheriff of the county in which said property, or any part thereof, may be, on request of the secured party and the delivery to the sheriff of a copy of such security agreement, to take possession of such property in case of default and to sell the same. If a security agreement contains such clause and if the secured party complies with the terms thereof, it is hereby made the duty of such sheriff, upon the request of the secured party or his legal representative or assigns, to take possession of such property and to advertise and sell the whole or any part of the same; and at such sale the secured party, or his representatives or assigns, may, in good faith, purchase the property so sold, or any part thereof. The sheriff shall require a reasonable indemnity bond from the secured party or his assigns before taking possession of or selling the said property. Notice of sale, application of the proceeds, liability for deficiency, and effect of disposition shall be as provided in section 9-504 [87A-9-504] of the Uniform Commercial Code. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

Amendment

The 1963 amendment substituted "security interest" for "mortgage" throughout the section and made numerous other changes. For previous text, see parent volume.

Deficiency Judgment after Foreclosure Sale

Deficiency judgment after foreclosure sale was proper even though sale was not public and contract contained clause that "notice [be] given in the manner provided in Section 52-312," since mortgagee was given power of sale by contract, with contract setting forth statute as an acceptable method of sale. Bell v. Cole, 154 M 43, 459 P 2d 692.

52-313. (8287) Sales—commencement and postponement. All sales made under the provisions of this act shall be commenced between the hours of nine o'clock in the morning and five o'clock of the afternoon of the day specified in the notice, and within thirty days after the seizure of the property, unless the sale shall be postponed. Any sale may be postponed at the discretion of the sheriff one week, by public announcement at the time designated for the sale to take place when there are no bidders, or when the amount offered is grossly inadequate, or upon the request of the debtor. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 86, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 8287, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 13, L. 1953; amd. Sec. 11-136, Ch. 264, L. 1963.

Amendment

The 1963 amendment substituted "debtor" for "mortgagor" at the end of the section.

Notice of Sale

Where notice of foreclosure sale of mortgaged sheep was posted out of sight of the actual sale and misnamed the location of the sale, mortgagee had failed to fulfill the strict statutory requirements in enforcing the lien and the sale was void. Goggins v. Bookout, 141 M 449, 378 P 2d 212, distinguished in Bell v. Cole, 154 M 43, 459 P 2d 692.

52-314. (8288) Report of sales, and filing thereof. Within ten days after the sale of any property subject to a security interest, as herein provided, the person making the sale shall make out in writing a full report, under oath, of all the proceedings in such foreclosure, specifying particularly the property sold, the amount received therefor, the name of the person to whom sold, the amount of the costs and expenses itemized, a copy of the notice of sale, a statement of the manner in which notice of the sale was given, and the disposition made by him of the proceeds of the sale, and shall file the same in the office of the county clerk and recorder, or other filing officer, where the financing statement respecting the security agreement is filed; which report shall be received in all courts as prima-facie evidence of the facts therein stated. The county clerk and recorder or other filing officer shall properly index said report and attach the report of sale to the financing statement on file. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

52-315 to 52-317. (8289 to 8290.1) Repealed.

52-319. (3308.1) Notices of security agreements covering livestock, renewals, assignments and satisfactions to be filed by recorder of marks and brands—list to be furnished stock inspectors—livestock markets not liable when notice not filed. The general recorder of marks and brands of the state of Montana shall accept and file in the office of the general recorder of marks and brands, notices of security agreements, renewals, assignments and satisfactions thereof covering livestock owned by any person, firm, corporation, or association, and bearing his, their, or its recorded brand, and shall list such notices on the official records of marks and brands kept by him, and also shall cause to be listed said notices in the offices of the stock inspectors, employed by the livestock commission and stationed at the several central livestock markets where records are kept of marks and brands. All forms on which such notices shall be given shall be prescribed by the livestock commission and shall be furnished by the secured party, who shall give such notice. No livestock market to which livestock is shipped shall be held liable to any secured party for the proceeds of livestock sold through such livestock market by the debtor unless notice of such security agreement is filed as hereinbefore provided. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

[Effective January 1, 1965.]

52-417. Trust indenture deemed to be mortgage on real property.

52-401. Short title. This act may be cited as the "Small Tract Financing Act of Montana."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

Title of Act

An act authorizing the optional use of trust indentures as security instruments in the financing of small tracts embracing three acres of land, or less; providing for the conveyance of title to a trustee to secure the performance of an obligation and for reconveyance upon performance; conferring a power of sale upon the trustee under a trust indenture and prescribing the time and manner in which such power may be exercised; providing for the sale of the property at trustee's sale in the event of default; prescribing the form of notice of sale and providing for the recordation, mailing, posting and publication of notice of sale; providing for trustee's deeds and the form and effect thereof; providing for the disposition of the proceeds of sale; disallowing deficiency judgment in certain cases; providing for possession following sale; defining the fees and expenses chargeable to the grantor of a trust deed; providing for discontinuance of foreclosure by advertisement and sale; relating to the applicability of mortgage laws to trust indenture transactions; amending sections 93-6005, 93-6006, and 93-6007, R.C.M. 1947, relating to sales of real estate under powers of sale in mortgages and rights of redemption, to exclude therefrom trust indentures as defined in this act; and providing a short title, a severability clause and an effective date.

52-402. Declaration of policy. Because the financing of homes and business expansion is essential to the development of the state of Montana, and because such financing, usually involving areas of real estate of not more than three acres, has been restricted by the laws relating to mortgages of real property, and because more such financing of homes and business expansion is available if the parties can use security instruments and procedures not subject to all the provisions of the mortgage laws, it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the state of Montana to permit the use of trust indentures for estates in real property of not more than three acres as hereinafter provided.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

Constitutionality

This act is not unconstitutional on grounds that it is special legislation favoring rural landowners, that its withdrawal of redemption rights and its notice provisions violate due process, or that it provides for statutory power of sale to be read into all agreements using trust indentures even where agreement between parties does not so provide. Great Falls Nat. Bank v. McCormick, 152 M 319, 448 P 2d 991.

52-403. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) "Beneficiary" means the person named or otherwise designated in a trust indenture as the person for whose benefit a trust indenture is given, or his successor in interest, and who shall not be the trustee.

(2) "Grantor" means the person conveying real property by a trust indenture as security for the performance of an obligation.

(3) "Trust indenture" means an indenture executed in conformity with this act and conveying real property to a trustee in trust to secure the performance of an obligation of the grantor or other person named in the indenture to a beneficiary.

(4) "Trustee" means a person to whom the legal title to real property is conveyed by a trust indenture, or his successor in interest.

(5) "Three acres" means three acres of land.

Where the trust indenture states that the real property involved does not exceed three acres, such statement shall be binding upon all parties and conclusive as to compliance with the provisions of this act relative to the power to make a transfer, trust, and power of sale.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-404. Authorization of trust indentures. Transfers in trust of any interest in real property of an area not exceeding three acres may be made to secure the performance of an obligation of a grantor, or any other person named in the indenture, to a beneficiary; provided that it shall be unlawful to substitute a trust indenture for any mortgage in existence on the effective date of this act. Where any transfer in trust of any interest in real property is hereafter made to secure the performance of such an obligation, a power of sale is hereby conferred upon the trustee to be exercised after a breach of the obligation for which such transfer is security; and a trust indenture executed in conformity with this act may be foreclosed by advertisement and sale in the manner hereinafter provided, or, at the option of the beneficiary, by judicial procedure as provided by law for the foreclosure of mortgages on real property. The power of sale may be exercised by the trustee without express provision therefor in the trust indenture.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-405. Qualifications of trustee. (1) The trustee of a trust indenture under this act shall be:

(a) An attorney who is licensed to practice law in Montana; or

(b) A bank, trust company, or savings and loan association authorized to do business in Montana under the laws of Montana or the United States; or

(c) A title insurance or abstract company authorized to do business in Montana under the laws of Montana.

(2) The beneficiary may appoint a successor trustee at any time by filing for record in the office of the clerk and recorder of each county in which the trust property or some part thereof is situated, a substitution of trustee. The substitution shall identify the trust indenture by stating the names of the original parties thereto and the date of recordation and the book and page where the same is recorded, shall state the name and mailing address of the new trustee, and shall be executed and acknowledged by all of the beneficiaries designated in the trust indenture, or their successors in interest. From the time the substitution is filed for record, the new trustee shall be vested with all the power, duties, authority, and title of the trustee named in the trust indenture and of any successor trustee.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-406. Reconveyance upon performance—liability for failure to reconvey. Upon performance of the obligation secured by the trust indenture, the trustee upon written request of the beneficiary shall reconvey the interest in real property described in the trust indenture to the grantor. In the event the obligation is performed and the beneficiary refuses to request reconveyance or the trustee refuses to reconvey the property, the beneficiary or trustee so refusing shall be liable as provided by law in the case of refusal to execute a discharge or satisfaction of a mortgage on real property.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-407. Time within which foreclosure must be commenced. The foreclosure of a trust indenture by advertisement and sale or by judicial procedure shall be commenced within the time, including extensions, provided by law for the foreclosure of a mortgage on real property.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-408. Foreclosure by advertisement and sale. (1) The trustee may foreclose a trust indenture by advertisement and sale under this act if:

(a) The trust indenture, any assignments of the trust indenture by the trustee or the beneficiary, and any appointment of a successor trustee are recorded in the office of the clerk and recorder of each county in which the property described in the trust indenture, or some part thereof, is situated;

(b) There is a default by the grantor or other person owing an obligation, the performance of which is secured by the trust indenture, or by their successors in interest, with respect to any provision in the indenture which authorizes sale in the event of default of such provision; and

(c) The trustee or beneficiary shall have filed for record in the office of the clerk and recorder in each county where the property described in the indenture, or some part thereof, is situated, a notice of sale, duly executed and acknowledged by such trustee or beneficiary, setting forth:

(i) The names of the grantor, trustee, and beneficiary in the trust indenture and the name of any successor trustee;

(ii) A description of the property covered by the trust indenture;

(iii) The book and page of the mortgage records where the trust indenture is recorded;

(iv) The default for which the foreclosure is made;

(v) The sum owing on the obligation secured by the trust indenture;

(vi) The trustee's or beneficiary's election to sell the property to satisfy the obligation;

(vii) The date of sale, which shall not be less than 120 days subsequent to the date on which the notice of sale is filed for record, and the time of sale, which shall be between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Mountain Standard Time;

(viii) The place of sale which shall be at the courthouse of the county or one of the counties where the property is situated, or at the location of the property, or at the trustee's usual place of business if within the county or one of the counties where the property is situated.

(2) A trust deed may be foreclosed by advertisement and sale in the manner hereinafter provided.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-409. Notice of sale to be mailed, posted and published. (1) The trustee shall give notice of the sale in the following manner:

(a) At least 120 days before the date fixed for the trustee's sale, a copy of the recorded notice of sale shall be mailed by registered or certified mail to:

(i) The grantor, at the grantor's address as set forth in the trust indenture, or (in the event no address of the grantor is set forth in the trust indenture) at the grantor's last known address;

(ii) Each person designated in the trust indenture to receive notice of sale whose address is set forth therein, at such address;

(iii) Each person who has filed for record a request for a copy of notice of sale within the time and in the manner hereinafter provided, at the address of such person as set forth in such request.

(iv) Any successor in interest to the grantor whose interest and address appear of record at the filing date and time of the notice of sale, at such address;

(v) Any person having a lien or interest subsequent to the interest of the trustee and whose lien or interest and address appear of record at the filing date and time of the notice of sale, at such address.

(b) At least 20 days before the date fixed for the trustee's sale, a copy of the recorded notice of sale shall be posted in some conspicuous place on the property to be sold;

(c) A copy of the notice of sale shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in any county in which the property, or some part thereof, is situated, at least once each week for 3 successive weeks. If there is no such newspaper, then copies of the notice of sale shall be posted in at least 3 public places in each county in which the property, or some part thereof, is situated. The posting or the last publication shall be made at least 20 days before the date fixed for the trustee's sale.

(2) On or before the date of sale, there shall be filed for record in the office of the clerk and recorder of each county where the property, or some part thereof, is situated, affidavits of mailing, posting and publication showing compliance with the requirements of this section. On the date and at the time and place designated in the notice of sale, the trustee or his attorney shall sell the property at public auction to the highest bidder. The property may be sold in one parcel or in separate parcels and any person, including the beneficiary under the trust indenture, but excluding the trustee, may bid at the sale. The person making the sale may, for any cause he deems expedient, postpone the sale for a period not exceeding 15 days by public proclamation at the time and place fixed in the notice of sale. No other notice of the postponed sale need be given.

(3) The purchaser at the sale shall pay the price bid in cash, and, upon receipt of payment, the trustee shall execute and deliver a trustee's deed to the purchaser. In the event the purchaser refuses to pay the purchase price, the person conducting the sale shall have the right to re-sell the property at any time to the highest bidder. The party refusing to pay shall be liable for any loss occasioned thereby, and the person making the sale may also, in his discretion, thereafter reject any other bid of such person.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-410. Trustee's deed. (1) The trustee's deed to the purchaser at the trustee's sale may contain, in addition to a description of the property conveyed, recitals of compliance with the requirements of this act relating to the exercise of the power of sale and the sale, including recitals of the facts concerning the default, the notice given, the conduct of the sale, and the receipt of the purchase money from the purchaser.

(2) When the trustee's deed is recorded in the deed records of the county or counties where the property described in the deed is situated, the recitals contained in the deed and in the affidavits required under subsection (2) of section 9 [52-409 (2)] of this act, shall be prima-facie evidence in any court of the truth of the matters set forth therein, except that the same shall be conclusive evidence in favor of subsequent bona fide purchasers and encumbrancers for value and without notice.

(3) The trustee's deed shall operate to convey to the purchaser, without right of redemption, the trustee's title and all right, title, interest and claim of the grantor and his successors in interest and of all persons claiming by, through or under them, in and to the property sold including all such right, title, interest and claim in and to such property acquired by the grantor or his successors in interest subsequent to the execution of the trust indenture.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-411. Possession. The purchaser at the trustee's sale shall be entitled to possession of the property on the tenth day following the sale, and any persons remaining in possession after that date under any interest, except one prior to the trust indenture, shall be deemed to be tenants at will.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

52-412. Discontinuance of foreclosure proceedings when entire amount of default paid. Whenever all or a portion of any obligation secured by a trust indenture has, prior to the maturity date fixed in such obligation, become due or been declared due by reason of a breach or default in the performance of any obligation secured by the trust indenture, including a default in the payment of interest or of any installment of principal, or by reason of failure of the grantor to pay, in accordance with the terms of such trust indenture, taxes, assessments, premiums for insurance or advances made by the beneficiary in accordance with the terms of such obligation or of such trust indenture, the grantor or his successor in interest in the trust property or any part thereof or any other person having a subordinate lien or encumbrance of record thereon or any beneficiary under a subordinate trust indenture, at any time prior to the time fixed by the trustee for the trustee's sale if the power of sale is to be exercised, may pay to the beneficiary or his successor in interest the entire amount then due under the terms of such trust indenture and the obligation secured thereby (including costs and expenses actually incurred and reasonable trustee's and attorney's fees) other than such portion of the principal as would not then be due had no default occurred, and thereby cure the default theretofore existing, and thereupon all proceedings theretofore had or instituted to foreclose the trust indenture shall be canceled and the obligation and the trust indenture shall be reinstated and shall be and remain in force and effect the same as if no such acceleration had occurred. If the default is cured and the obligation and the trust indenture reinstated in the manner hereinabove provided, the beneficiary, or his assignee, shall, on demand of any person having an interest in the trust property, execute, acknowledge and deliver to him a request that the trustee execute, acknowledge and deliver a cancellation of the recorded notice of sale under such trust indenture. Any beneficiary under a trust indenture, or his assignee, who, for a period of 30 days after such demand

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1971, once by Ch. 138 and once by Ch. 214. Neither amendatory act mentioned nor incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the two amendatory acts do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section incorporating the changes made by both.

Amendments

The 1965 amendment increased the fee for temporary windshield stickers provided for by the former third paragraph from $1.00 to $2.00; and substituted "registrar of motor vehicles" for "board" in two places in the same paragraph.

Chapter 116, Laws of 1969, deleted language restricting the application of the former third paragraph to purchasers from licensed dealers; and extended the life of the temporary windshield stickers from 30 days to 60 days.

Chapter 127, Laws of 1969, deleted from the former third paragraph language requiring display of the previous year's number plates with the temporary windshield sticker; extended the grace period for application for registration from three days to ten days; and made the grace period applicable to used as well as new vehicles.

Chapter 138, Laws of 1971, deleted the former third paragraph providing for temporary windshield stickers.

Chapter 214, Laws of 1971, deleted from the first paragraph a final sentence reading "Upon annual renewal, whenever the legal owner of the vehicle is other than the registered owner, the registrar of motor vehicles shall immediately notify such legal owner by mail of the registration number assigned to such vehicle for the ensuing year"; and made minor changes in punctuation and style.

(b) Within ten (10) days thereafter, the transferee shall forward both the certificate of ownership so endorsed and the certificate of registration, together with the information required under section 53-107, to the county treasurer, who shall forward the same to the registrar and no certificate of ownership and certificate of registration shall be issued by the registrar of motor vehicles until the outstanding certificates are surrendered to that office or their loss established to his reasonable satisfaction. Failure to make such application within the time provided herein shall subject the transferee to a penalty of ten dollars ($10) plus one dollar ($1) for each additional day in which said vehicle remains unregistered, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), said penalty to be collected by the county treasurer at the time of registration, and in addition to the fees otherwise provided by law.

(c) In the event of a transfer by operation of law of any title or interest of an owner of the legal title or owner in and to a motor vehicle as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, order in bankruptcy or insolvency, execution sale, repossession upon default in the performance of the terms of a lease or executory sales contract, or otherwise than by voluntary act of the person whose title or interest is so transferred, the executor, administrator, receiver, trustee, sheriff or other representative or successor in interest of the person whose title or interest is so transferred shall forward to the registrar of motor vehicles an application for registration in the form required for an original application for registration, together with a verified or certified statement of the transfer of such title or interest which statement shall set forth the reason for such involuntary transfer, the title or interest so transferred, the name or names of the person or persons to whom such title or interest is to be transferred, the process of procedure effecting such transfer and such other information as may be requested by the registrar and with such statement shall be furnished such evidence and instruments as may otherwise be required by law to effect a transfer of legal or equitable title to or an interest in chattels as may be required in such cases, and in the event the registrar shall be satisfied that such transfer is regular and that all formalities as required by law have been complied with, he shall cause to be sent to the owner, conditional sales vendors, lessors, mortgagees and other lienors, as shown by his records notice of such intended transfer and thereafter, but not less than five (5) days thereafter, shall register such motor vehicle and shall issue a new certificate of ownership and certificate of registration to the person or persons entitled thereto. The notice herein required shall be deemed complied with by deposit in the post office in Deer Lodge, Montana, such notice postage prepaid, addressed to such person or persons at the respective addresses shown on his records.

When the vehicle title that is involuntarily transferred is not registered in this state the procedure set forth above must be followed in applying for a new certificate of ownership and certificate of registration, but the registrar need not send notice of intended transfer and shall issue a new certificate of ownership and a new certificate of registration to the person entitled thereto.

In the event of the death of an owner of one or more motor vehicles and/or trailer, and/or semitrailer, and/or trailer-house registered hereunder and not exceeding the value of four thousand dollars ($4,000), without leaving other property necessitating the procuring of letters of administration or letters testamentary, then the surviving husband or wife, or other heir, unless such property is by will otherwise bequeathed, may secure transfer of the certificate of ownership and the certificate of registration of the deceased, in and to such motor vehicle in the name of the surviving husband or wife or other heir, as above mentioned, upon filing with the registrar an affidavit of such person setting forth the fact of survivorship and the name and address of any other heirs and such other facts as are hereby made necessary to entitle the affiant to a transfer and thereupon the registrar is authorized to make such transfer of the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration, subject to all contracts, leases, mortgages, or other liens as shown by his records.

Nothing in the foregoing subdivision of this section shall prevent any conditional sales vendor, mortgagee, or other lienor from assigning his interest or title in or to a motor vehicle registered under the provisions of this act to any other person without the consent of and without effecting the interest of the holder of the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration. Upon any conditional sales vendor, mortgagee, or other lienor assigning his interest in any motor vehicle registered under this act a copy of such assignment must be filed with the registrar and record thereof made upon his records.

(d) Every person who transfers any motor vehicle to a junk dealer for the purpose of scrapping said vehicle shall so notify the registrar and deliver the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration to the registrar for cancellation.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment deleted "registered under the provisions of this act" after "motor vehicle" near the beginning of the first paragraph of former subsection (e), now subsection (c); and inserted the present second paragraph in former subsection (e), now subsection (c).

The 1969 amendment increased the maximum value specified in the third paragraph of former subsection (e), now subsection (c), from $1,000 to $4,000.

The 1971 amendment substituted "county treasurer, who shall forward the same to the registrar" in the first sentence of subsection (b) for "registrar, who shall file the same upon receipt thereof"; added the second sentence to subsection (b); deleted former subsections (c) and (d); and redesignated former subsections (e) and (f) as (c) and (d), respectively.

53-109.1. Used motor vehicles—transfer to and from dealers. The provisions of subdivision (b) of section 53-109 shall not apply in the event of the transfer of a motor vehicle to a duly licensed automobile dealer intending to resell such vehicle and who operates the same only for demonstration purposes. In such cases, the dealer shall not be required to make application for a new certificate of ownership or for registration during the period of his ownership of said vehicle, but upon his transfer of ownership thereof to a person other than a licensed motor vehicle dealer, the following acts shall be required of the dealer on or before the times herein set forth:

(1) Prior to his delivery of the vehicle to the purchaser, the dealer shall issue and affix to the rear window of said vehicle a sticker in form to be prescribed by the registrar, and containing the name and address of the purchaser, date of sale, name and address of the dealer, and a description of the vehicle, including its serial number. There shall be imprinted upon said sticker in bold letters the following statement: "IT IS UNLAWFUL TO PLACE LICENSE PLATES UPON THIS VE-HICLE UNTIL REGISTERED AT THE OFFICE OF THE COUNTY TREASURER." One copy of said sticker shall be delivered by the dealer to the county treasurer in the manner prescribed in subsection (2) hereof, and a copy shall be retained by the dealer for his file.

(2) Within three (3) days following the date of delivery of said vehicle, the dealer shall forward to the county treasurer of the county where the purchaser resides, the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration (if the same are then in his possession), with an application for registration executed by the new owner in accordance with the provisions of section 53-107, and a copy of the sticker affixed to said vehicle by the dealer, and the registrar, upon receipt of said documents from the county treasurer, together with the conditional sales contract or other lien, if any, shall issue a new certificate of ownership and certificate of registration together with a statement of any conditional sales contract, mortgage, or other lien as provided in said section 53-107. Transmission of said documents by the dealer to the county treasurer may be accomplished either by personal delivery or by first class mail, in which event they shall be deemed to have been delivered at the time of mailing.

(3) If the dealer is unable to forward the certificate of ownership and/or certificate of registration within the time set forth in subsection (2) hereof, because the same are lost, are in the possession of third parties, or are in process of reissuance in this state or elsewhere, he shall comply in all other respects with the provisions of said subdivision (2) and shall forward the missing document or documents to the county treasurer, either personally or by first class mail, within three (3) days after their receipt.

Upon compliance by the dealer with the requirements set forth in this section, title to said motor vehicle shall be deemed to have passed to the purchaser as of the date of the delivery of said vehicle to him by the dealer, and the dealer shall have no further liability or responsibility with respect to the processing of registration.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

Title of Act

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Attachment of Vehicle

Where plaintiff assignee of vehicle had not recorded the title in her name even though she had possession of the vehicle and endorsed documents of title, she was a stranger to the title under former subsection (d) of section 53-109 and had no standing to complain of a wrongful attachment for the debt of the supposed owner, her former husband. Ott v. Fidelity Finance Co., 158 M 91, 488 P 2d 1148.

Contract for Purchase

Where registrar never issued certificate of registration to purchaser of a vehicle, so that under former subsection (d) of section 53-109 title did not pass to the purchaser, a non-negotiable promissory note given by the purchaser was without consideration, therefore voidable against an assignee of the note. Sonnek v. Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp., 140 M 503, 374 P 2d 105, 108.

Insurance Coverage

Where buyer of a vehicle had not executed an application for registration in his name and neither party had filed any documents relating to the transfer with the registrar of motor vehicles, title had not passed to the buyer even though the parties had agreed on the price and buyer had taken possession, so that liability from an accident while buyer was driving was covered by dealer-seller's insurance rather than by the owned-replacement clause of buyer's insurance. Safeco Ins. Co. of America v. Northwestern Mutual Ins. Co., 142 M 155, 382 P 2d 174, distinguished in 368 F 2d 405, 409 and in 329 F Supp 172, 175.

Where dealer-seller retained possession of the certificate of registration of a vehicle pending payment of the final installments of the purchase price, the title remained in the seller under the provisions of former subsection (d) of section 53-109, even though the vehicle had been delivered to buyer, and liability for an accident involving buyer's son's driving of the car was covered by the seller's insurance rather than by the 30-day automatic coverage for a new car under buyer's policy or by uninsured motorist coverage of injured parties. Ostermiller v. Parker, 152 M 337, 451 P 2d 515, explained in 323 F Supp 1164, 1173 and distinguished in 329 F Supp 172, 175.

Where none of the parties had taken any steps to have a new certificate of title issued to buyer of a vehicle, title remained in the dealer-seller under former subsection (d) of section 53-109, even though the vehicle and the executed documents of title had been delivered to the buyer by a third party non-dealer who had purchased from the dealer, and liability for an accident arising out of the buyer's brother's operation of the vehicle was covered by the insurance of the dealer and the third party, rather than by the insurance of the buyer. Irion v. Glen Falls Ins. Co., 154 M 156, 461 P 2d 199, explained in 323 F Supp 1164, 1174 and distinguished in 329 F Supp 172, 175.

Where purchaser of vehicle had exercised complete dominion over a vehicle for over three years, had taken possession of the seller's certificate of registration, had purchased license plates for it in his own name for two years, had purchased insurance for it, and had repaired it, he was the owner of the vehicle for purposes of the non-owned clause of his insurance policy, despite the fact that there had been no compliance with section 53-109 and no certificate of registration had been issued to him as required by former subsection (d) of section 53-109. National Farmers Union Property & Casualty Co. v. Colbrese, 368 F 2d 405, reversing 227 F Supp 978, cert. den. 386 US 991, 87 S Ct 1306, questioned in 154 M 156, 461 P 2d 199, 205.

Where certificate of title had not been endorsed by dealer-seller and there had been no application for a certificate in buyer's name, the failure to meet the requirements of section 53-109 invalidated the sale under the terms of former subsection (d) of section 53-109, the seller was still legally in possession, and buyer was not excluded by an exclusion of persons to whom possession had been delivered pursuant to a contract of sale, despite the fact that the vehicle and the documents of title had been physically delivered to buyer, so dealer's insurance covered liability for an accident involving buyer's brother's operation of the vehicle. Glen Falls Ins. Co. v. Irion, 323 F Supp 1164.

Where buyer took possession of vehicle and executed application for certificate of title on Saturday and dealer-seller endorsed the old certificate and delivered the documents to the county treasurer on Monday, the next day of business for that office, the requirements of section 53-109 were met and title passed as of Saturday, despite former subsection (d) of section 53-109 and despite death of buyer later on Saturday, so that seller's insurance policy did not cover liability for accident arising out of operation of vehicle with buyer's consent occurring on Saturday after delivery of vehicle to buyer. Phoenix Ins. Co. v. Newell, 329 F Supp 172, distinguished in 343 F Supp 576, 581.

Where, at the time of an accident arising out of operation of the vehicle by buyer's employee, the vehicle had been delivered to buyer but buyer had not executed an application for certificate of title, the title had not passed under former subsection (d) of section 53-109, and the subsequent registration of the transfer could not cause the transfer to relate back to the time the vehicle was delivered to the buyer but only to the time that buyer executed an application for certificate of title; therefore, liability arising out of the accident was covered by seller's insurance. American States Ins. Co. v. Angstman Motors, Inc., 343 F Supp 576.

53-109.2. Applicability of sticker provisions to new car purchases. The provisions of section 3 [53-109.1], subsection (1), pertaining to the issuance of a sticker by the dealer, placement thereof upon the rear windshield of the vehicle prior to delivery, and transmission of a copy of said sticker to the county treasurer, either personally or by first class mail within ten (10) days following delivery of said vehicle, shall be applicable to sales of new motor vehicles as well as to sales of used motor vehicles.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

53-109.3. Temporary windshield sticker. Any purchaser of a motor vehicle who is unable to obtain license plates from the county treasurer at the time he makes application for registration or reregistration of said vehicle, because the certificate of ownership is lost, in the possession of third parties, or in the process of reissuance in this state or elsewhere, may, upon making affidavit to that effect upon a form prescribed by the registrar and upon the payment of a fee of two dollars ($2) to be collected by the county treasurer and remitted to the registrar, obtain from the county treasurer of the county in which said vehicle is subject to tax, a temporary windshield sticker of such size, color and design as the registrar may prescribe, to be validated by the county treasurer for a period of sixty (60) days from the date of issuance, and such purchaser, upon displaying such sticker on the lower right-hand corner of the windshield of such motor vehicle shall be entitled to operate such vehicle during the period for which such windshield sticker has been validated without displaying the registration certificate or number plates or plate for the current year. Provided, however, the county treasurer shall not sell, and no person shall purchase, more than one (1) sixty (60) day temporary windshield sticker for any vehicle, the ownership of which has not changed since the issuance of the previous sixty (60) day windshield sticker.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

53-109.4. Grace period—penalty. Any purchaser of a new or used motor vehicle from a duly licensed motor vehicle dealer shall have the grace period of ten (10) days from the date of purchase to make application for registration and to obtain registration plates, and it shall not be a violation of this chapter or any other law for such purchaser to operate such vehicle upon the streets and highways of this state without a certificate or registration and registration plates during the said ten (10) day period; provided that at all times during said period the sticker issued by the dealer at the time of purchase shall remain affixed to said vehicle as provided in section 3 [53-109.1]. Failure to make such application within the time provided herein shall subject the purchaser to a penalty of ten dollars ($10), plus one dollar ($1) for each additional day in which said vehicle remains unregistered, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), said penalty to be collected by the county treasurer at the time of registration, and in addition to the fees otherwise provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

Repealing Clause

Section 9 of Ch. 138, Laws 1971 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

53-110. (1758.3) Filing of liens, rights, procedure, fees. (a). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(b) Satisfactions or statements of release filed with the registrar of motor vehicles under this act shall be retained by him for a period of eight (8) years after receipt, after which they may be destroyed. Chattel mortgages, conditional sales contracts, leases, or other liens filed with the registrar, and all renewals and assignments thereof, shall be retained by him for a period of eight (8) years after the maturity date stated in such mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease, or other lien, or renewal, or if no maturity date is therein stated, for a period of thirteen (13) years after receipt, after which they may be destroyed.

(c) From and after the filing of any mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease, or other lien, or copy thereof on any motor vehicle, as herein provided, then and in that event such mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease or other lien shall be constructive notice of the said mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease or other lien and its contents to subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers.

county treasurer shall be credited to the motor vehicle license fund hereby established. The cost of making and delivering license plates and identification marks, certificates, and all other expense of operating the motor vehicle department of the state of Montana, shall be paid out of the motor vehicle recording fund (sometimes called the motor vehicle administrative fund); provided, however that each county shall receive its pro rata share of any license fees, except dealer license fees, paid to the registrar of motor vehicles. 53-118. (1759.4) Application for dealer's license. Every person, firm, corporation, or association who, for commission or profit, engages in the business of buying, selling, exchanging or acting as a broker of new motor vehicles, used motor vehicles, trailers, (except trailers having an unladen weight of less than five hundred (500) pounds), semitrailers or special mobile equipment as defined in section 53-642 and qualifies under subparagraph (f) of this section, shall cause to be filed, by mail or otherwise, in the office of the registrar of motor vehicles, a verified application for licensing as a dealer on a blank to be furnished by the registrar of motor vehicles for that purpose, and containing the information therein required. The application and all of the information therein contained shall be verified by the Montana highway patrol. Each application must be accompanied by the license fee hereinafter named. Dealer's license must be renewed and paid for annually, and an application for relicensing must be filed not later than January first of each year. To qualify for licensing and the issuance and use of "D," "UD," "DTR," or "MCD" plates, as hereinafter provided, the applicant must furnish the following information and qualify under the following provisions:

(a) The name under which the business is conducted;

(b) Location of premises (street, address, city, county and state) where records are kept, sales are made and stock of motor vehicles displayed;

(e) Whether or not used vehicles are handled exclusively;

(f) A certificate to the effect that the applicant is a bona fide dealer in motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers or special mobile equipment; and that the applicant if a dealer in new motor vehicles, is recognized by a manufacturer, importer or distributor as a dealer in particular makes of new motor vehicles.

(g) Other information required by the registrar to efficiently administer this law.

The applicant for a dealer's license shall also file with his application a good and sufficient bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

and the bond shall be conditioned that the applicant shall conduct his business in accordance with the requirements of the law. All bonds shall run to the state of Montana and shall be approved by the registrar of motor vehicles and filed in his office and shall be renewed annually.

The registrar of motor vehicles shall not register or license as a dealer any applicant for the sale of new motor vehicles at retail unless such applicant owns, leases or rents a permanent building wherein he shall conduct his business and who has a dealers' franchise from a manufacturer of motor vehicles. A private residence, tent, or temporary building is not a sufficiently permanent place of business within the meaning of this section. The registrar of motor vehicles shall not register or license any applicant as a dealer in used cars unless such applicant furnishes sufficient evidence to the registrar that he has a building or lot to provide display of merchandise, a sign indicating the firm name and headquarters as the principal place of business.

Upon making such application, the applicant shall pay to the registrar of motor vehicles, in addition to the fees required of dealers under the provisions of section 53-122, a fee of five dollars ($5). Upon receipt of the application, fee and bond, as provided above, the registrar of motor vehicles shall examine the application, and may, prior to issuing a license, make individual investigation of the truth of the statements contained in the application. If the registrar of motor vehicles is satisfied that the applicant qualifies for the issuance of a dealer's license under the provisions of this act, he may thereupon issue the same.

Every dealer licensed under this section shall keep a book or record of the purchase, sale or exchange or receipt for the purpose of sale, of any used vehicle, a description of such vehicles, together with the name and address of the seller, of the purchaser, and of the alleged owner or other person from whom such vehicle was purchased or received, or to whom it was sold or delivered, as the case may be. Such description in the case of motor vehicles shall also include the engine number, if any, the maker's number, if any, chassis number, if any, and such other numbers or identification marks as may be thereon, and shall include a statement that a number has been obliterated, defaced or changed, if such is the fact. In the case of a trailer, semitrailer or special mobile equipment, the record shall include the manufacturer's number and such other numbers or identification marks as may be thereon. He shall also have in his possession a duly assigned certificate of title from the owner of said motor vehicle in accordance with the provisions of another section of this act, from the time when the motor vehicle is delivered to him until it has been disposed of by him.

Upon the licensing of a dealer as a new motor vehicle dealer, used motor vehicle dealer, or trailer, semitrailer, or special mobile equipment dealer, or a dealer of the motorcycle-type vehicle, the registrar of motor vehicles shall assign to such dealer a distinctive serial license number as a dealer and furnish every qualified dealer in motor vehicles with not less than two (2) sets of number plates, and as many more as the fee the dealer pays entitles the dealer to, which number plates shall be similar to number plates furnished to owners of motor vehicles but shall bear thereon, in addition to the serial number assigned such dealer, the letter "D" if the dealer sells new motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers) or new and used motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers); the letters "UD" if the dealer sells used motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers) only; and the letters "DTR" if the dealer sells trailers, semitrailers or special mobile equipment (new or used) only, and the letters "MCD" if the dealer sells vehicles of the motorcycle type. Only new motor vehicle dealers' license plates bearing the letter "D" shall be assigned if both new and used motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers) are sold, and only one license fee shall be required of any one dealer. The registrar of motor vehicles shall cause to be placed on each set of license plates issued to a dealer, a serial number assigned to each dealer and the actual number of license plates issued to each dealer. The number of the dealer shall follow the prefix of the county, and the number of plates issued the dealer shall follow the prefix of the county and the number of the dealer, the dealer's number to be separated from the county prefix by a dash, and the number of plates issued to a dealer to be separated from the dealer's number by a dash, as follows: Dealer number 4 in Lewis and Clark County would be numbered 5-4, and if the dealer were issued three sets of plates, they would be numbered consecutively as follows, 5-4-1, 5-4-2 and 5-4-3. Dealers properly licensed under this section are authorized to use and display, dealer's license plates on any motor vehicle held for sale or used principally in the conduct of the dealer's business in selling or demonstrating motor vehicles. No dealer's license plate shall be used or displayed on vehicles normally used for hire, lease or rental or for purposes not incident to the business of a motor vehicle dealer. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the registrar of motor vehicles, from information furnished to him by the sheriff or any other law enforcement officer, that any such dealer has been improperly licensed, has used the dealer's license in a manner other than the one permitted above, or is not qualified as a dealer under the requirements of this section, the registrar of motor vehicles may revoke such dealer's license. No person, firm, corporation or association shall, for commission or profit, engage in the business of buying, selling, exchanging or acting as a broker of new motor vehicles, trailers or semitrailers unless duly licensed in compliance with this section (except trailers having an unladen weight of less than five hundred (500) pounds).

Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) and not more than five hundred dollars ($500). For the purposes hereof, every sale of a motor vehicle in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a separate offense.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1971, once by Ch. 226 and once by Ch. 244. Neither amendatory act mentioned nor included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict the compiler has made a com-

The 1969 amendment, in the first paragraph, inserted "except trailers * * * pounds" after "trailers" in the first sentence, substituted "Montana highway patrol" for "sheriff of the county in which the business is to be conducted, as designated in subparagraph (b) below" in the second sentence and deleted a third sentence which read "A fee of two dollars ($2) shall be paid to the sheriff for such verification"; in the second paragraph, substituted "five thousand dollars ($5,000)" for "one thousand dollars ($1,000.00)" and added "and shall be renewed annually"; in the sixth paragraph inserted the third and fourth sentences, deleted "exclusively" before "for hire" and inserted "lease or rental" in the sixth sentence, and added "except trailers * * * pounds" at the end of the eighth sentence; and, in the seventh paragraph changed the minimum fine from $50 to $250 and the maximum fine from $300 to $500.

Chapter 226, Laws of 1971, inserted references to motorcycle dealers and to MCD plates near the end of the paragraph preceding the lettered subdivisions and in two places in the fifth paragraph following the lettered subdivisions, and made minor changes in style.

Chapter 244, Laws of 1971, inserted references to special mobile equipment dealers near the middle of the paragraph preceding the lettered subdivisions, in subdivision (f), in the fourth paragraph following the lettered subdivisions, and in two places in the fifth paragraph following the lettered subdivisions; and made minor changes in style, phraseology, and punctuation.

Amendments

Chapter 147, Laws 1963, substituted "the earmarked revenue fund and shall be used to pay" in what is now the last paragraph for "the motor vehicle recording fund of said registrar (sometimes called the motor vehicle administrative fund) out of which shall be paid"; added the second sentence to the same paragraph; deleted a former next to last paragraph reading, "There shall be immediately transferred from the motor vehicle fund of the registrar of motor vehicles to the said motor vehicle recording fund all moneys now in said motor vehicle fund which were collected by the registrar of motor vehicles as fees other than license fees"; and substituted "motor vehicle recording account" for "motor vehicle recording fund" in the paragraph later deleted by Ch. 121, Laws 1965.

Chapter 178, Laws 1963, amended former paragraph (c), for previous text of which see parent volume, to read, "In every county which does not have within its borders a city and area coming within the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) above, the net license fee derived from the registration of motor vehicles shall be by the registrar of motor vehicles transmitted to, and paid over to the county treasurer of each such county and shall be allocated and divided by the county treasurer as hereinafter provided. The motor vehicle license fund in each such county shall be divided between accounts designated as 'city road fund' and 'county road fund' in a prorata manner based upon the total number of miles of all public streets and highways situated within the limits of incorporated cities and towns within each county as compared with the total number of miles of public streets and highways situated wtihin the county, but outside the corporate limits of any incorporated cities and towns"; inserted immediately after former paragraph (c) two new paragraphs reading, "The license fees held in the city road fund, as hereinabove provided shall be at the end of each thirty (30) day period beginning March 1, 1964, be paid by the county treasurer to the treasurer of each incorporated city or town within the county in a pro rata manner based upon the number of miles of all public streets and highways situated within such city or town as compared to the total number of miles of all public streets and highways within the limits of all incorporated cities and towns within the county. The city or town treasurer shall hold said moneys in a separate fund designated as the 'city road fund' which shall be used by the city or town council only for the construction and repair of streets and highways within the corporate limits of such incorporated city or town" and "The net license fees derived from the registration of vehicles shall be used by said county for the construction, repair and maintenance of all public highways, except state and federal highways, within the boundaries of said county"; and added a final paragraph reading, "The board of county commissioners of each county which does not have within its borders a city and area coming within the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) above shall prior to March 1 of each year, beginning with the year 1964, determine the number of miles of public streets and highways situated in each incorporated city and town in the county, and the number of miles of public streets and highways within the county, but outside the corporate limits of the incorporated cities and towns, in order that the motor vehicle license and registration fees can be divided between the 'county road fund' and each 'city road fund' in the pro rata manner as provided in this act. The board of county commissioners shall at the same time also compute the percentage of said motor vehicle license and registration fees to be paid by the county treasurer to the treasurer of each incorporated city and town and also the percentage to be deposited in the county road fund."

Chapter 121, Laws 1965, adopted both 1963 amendments; increased the fee for change of ownership by registered dealer from $1.00 to $2.00; substituted "unless otherwise specifically provided" for "mentioned and described in sections 53-110 and 53-112, and in section 53-135" near the beginning of what is now the final paragraph; and deleted a next to last paragraph reading, "Whenever, in the judgment of the state board of examiners, there shall be in said motor vehicle recording account more moneys than are reasonably required or needed to pay all salaries, operating expenses, and all other expenses of the department of the registrar of motor vehicles, such board shall distribute such unneeded surplus or excess to the fifty-six (56) counties of the state in a pro rata manner based upon the total number of motor vehicles registered in each county."

Chapter 197, Laws 1965, effective December 31, 1966, deleted several paragraphs relating to the county motor vehicle license fund, for text of which see pages 538 and 539 in parent volume and above note relating to Chapter 178, Laws 1963; and deleted the three paragraphs inserted and added by Chapter 178, Laws 1963.

The 1971 amendment deleted "other than motorcycles" following "dealers in motor vehicles" at the beginning of the second paragraph; deleted from the end of the second paragraph a proviso reading "provided, that each dealer be required to furnish the registrar of motor vehicles a statement showing the makes of motor vehicles handled by him, and the total number of each make sold by him during the preceding year, and that he not be issued a license unless he so conforms"; increased the fee for dealers in motorcycles and trailers from $15.00 to $30.00; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Intent of Legislature

General legislative intent in enacting financial responsibility provisions of the Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Act was: (1) to provide for voluntary and not compulsory automobile liability insurance for motorist who has not become involved in automobile accident, (2) to require compulsory proof of ability to respond in damages resulting from automobile accident after motorist becomes involved in such accident, and (3) to require compulsory proof of financial responsibility for future automobile accidents, from motorist (a) convicted of certain driving offenses, or (b) who has outstanding unsatisfied judgment against him as result of past automobile accident; motorist who voluntarily carried ordinary automobile liability policy at time he became involved in accident was exempted from requirements of proof of ability to respond in damages whereas motorist who has neither been convicted nor forfeited bail for one of driving offenses referred to in act nor who has outstanding unsatisfied judgment against him as result of previous automobile accident is not required to furnish proof of future financial responsibility at all. Such report, the form of which shall be prescribed by the supervisor, shall contain information to enable the supervisor to determine whether the requirements for the deposit of security under section 53-422 are inapplicable by reason of the existence of insurance or other exceptions specified in this act. The supervisor may rely upon the accuracy of the information unless and until he has reason to believe that the information is erroneous. If such operator be physically incapable of making such report, then any person may do so for and on his behalf. The operator or the owner shall furnish such additional relevant information as the supervisor shall require.

(a) If within twenty (20) days after the receipt of a report of a motor vehicle accident within this state which has resulted in bodily injury or death, or damage to the property of any one person in excess of two hundred fifty dollars ($250), the supervisor does not have on file evidence satisfactory to him that the person who would otherwise be required to file security under subsection (b) of this section has been released from liability, or has been finally adjudicated not to be liable, or has executed a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for the payment of an agreed amount in installments with respect to all claims for injuries or damages resulting from the accident, the supervisor shall determine the amount of security which shall be sufficient in his judgment to satisfy any judgment or judgments for damages resulting from such accident as may be recovered against each operator or owner.

(b). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(c) This section shall not apply under the conditions stated in section 53-423, nor;

1. to such operator or owner if such owner had in effect at the time of such accident an automobile liability policy with respect to the motor vehicle involved in such accident;

2. to such operator, if not the owner of such motor vehicle, if there was in effect at the time of such accident an automobile liability policy or bond with respect to his operation of motor vehicles not owned by him;

3. to such operator or owner if the liability of such operator or owner for damages resulting from such accident is, in the judgment of the supervisor, covered by any other form of liability insurance policy or bond; nor

4. to any person qualifying as a self-insurer under section 53-451, or to any person operating a motor vehicle for such self-insurer.

No such policy or bond shall be effective under this section unless issued by an insurance company or surety company authorized to do business in this state, except that if such motor vehicle was not registered in this state, or was a motor vehicle which was registered elsewhere than in this state at the effective date of the policy or bond, or the most recent renewal thereof, such policy or bond shall not be effective under this section unless the insurance company or surety company if not authorized to do business in this state shall execute a power of attorney authorizing the supervisor to accept service on its behalf of notice or process in any action upon such policy or bond arising out of such accident; provided, however, every such policy or bond is subject, if the accident has resulted in bodily injury or death, to a limit, exclusive of interest and costs, of not less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and, subject to said limit for one person, to a limit of not less than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and, if the accident has resulted in injury to or destruction of property, to a limit of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident.

The 1971 amendment increased the minimum damage amount specified in subsection (a) from $100 to $250.

53-431. Suspension to continue until judgments paid and proof given —maximum period of suspension. Such license, registration and nonresident's operating privilege shall remain so suspended and shall not be renewed, nor shall any such license or registration be thereafter issued in the name of such person, including any such person not previously licensed, unless and until every such judgment is stayed, satisfied in full or to the extent hereinafter provided, and until the said person gives proof of financial responsibility subject to the exemptions stated in sections 53-430 and 53-433, or six (6) years have passed from date judgment was first entered as provided in section 93-5708.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment added "or six (6) years have passed from the date judgment was first entered as provided in section 93-5708" to the end of the first paragraph; and deleted a second paragraph purporting to save the requirements of the act against a discharge in bankruptcy.

53-432. Satisfaction of judgments. Judgments herein referred to shall, for the purposes of this act only, be deemed satisfied:

1. when ten thousand dollars ($10,000) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount because of bodily injury to or death of one person as the result of any one accident; or

2. when, subject to such limit of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) because of bodily injury to or death of one person, the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount because of bodily injury or death of two or more persons as the result of any one accident; or

3. when five thousand dollars ($5,000) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount because of injury to or destruction of property of others as a result of any one accident;

Provided, however, payments made in settlement of any claims because of bodily injury, death or property damage arising from a motor vehicle accident shall be credited in reduction of the amounts provided for in this section.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 204, L. 1951; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 30, L. 1967.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment doubled the amounts required by paragraphs 1 and 2; and increased the amount required by paragraph 3 from $1,000 to $5,000.

53-438. Motor vehicle liability policy defined. (a). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(b) Such owner's policy of liability insurance: 1. shall designate by explicit description or by appropriate reference all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is thereby to be granted; and 2. shall insure the person named therein and any other person, as insured, using any such motor vehicle or motor vehicles with the express or implied permission of such named insured, against loss from the liability imposed by law for damages arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of such motor vehicle or motor vehicles within the United States of America or the Dominion of Canada, subject to limits exclusive of interest and costs, with respect to each such motor vehicle, as follows: ten thousand dollars ($10,000) because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and subject to said limit for one person, twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and five thousand dollars ($5,000) because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident.

(c) to (f). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(g) No motor vehicle policy shall be subject to cancellation, termination, or premium increase, due to injury or damage incurred by the insured or operator unless the insured or operator be found to have violated a traffic law or ordinance of the state or a city, be found negligent or contributorily negligent in a court of law, or by the arbitration proceedings contained in chapter 201 of Title 93 R. C. M. 1947, or pays damages to another party whether by settlement or otherwise.

History: En. 21, Ch. 204, L. 1951; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 177, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 260, L. 1973.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 177 and once by Ch. 260. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment increased the minimum proof of financial responsibility from $5,000 to $10,000 because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident, from $10,000 to $20,000 because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and from $1,000 to $5,000 because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any accident, all in subsection (b).

Chapter 177, Laws of 1973 inserted subsection (g); and relettered the succeeding subsections.

Defenses Available to Insurer

Insurance company being sued by injured party for amount of judgment previously secured against insured motorist was entitled to defend on ground that accident was not reported to it until year later, in breach of the policy provisions requiring prompt notice, despite contention that policy was subject to that portion of act eliminating policy defenses. Boldt v. State Farm Mut. Automobile Ins. Co., 151 M 337, 443 P 2d 33.

Garage Business Exclusion

Garage business exclusion clause of policy was not violative of public policy as expressed in statute in absence of showing that policy was issued to show proof of financial responsibility. Northern Assurance Co. of America v. Truck Ins. Exchange, 151 M 132, 439 P 2d 760.

Permitted User

Driver of insured's automobile was permitted user under this section even though permission came from insured's son and even though son had been told not to lend out the automobile, since the automobile was purchased for son's exclusive use away from home and son had ostensible authority to permit its use by third party. Cascade Ins. Co. v. Glacier General Ins. Co., 156 M 236, 479 P 2d 259.

Primary and Secondary Insurance

Where first liability policy provided primary coverage to driver when he was driving other vehicles except when there was "other collectible insurance" in which case it provided excess coverage, and second liability policy owned by auto agency insured driver only if there were "no other valid and collectible automobile liability insurance," the first policy was liable for the cost of defending an action for damages arising out of the accident. Phoenix Ins. Co. v. Nationwide Mutual Ins. Co., 335 F Supp 671.

Title of Act

An act relating to motor vehicles; creating, amending and repealing laws on motor vehicle reciprocal or proportional registration agreements, arrangements and declarations with other states, provinces, territories and countries, so as to conform substantially with the model reciprocity and proration draft proposed by the national committee on uniform traffic laws and ordinances; providing a declaration of policy, definitions, creation of Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board, and authority of said board; and providing other related sections for carrying out the policy, construction and administration of this act; providing a severability clause; amending section 53-129, R.C.M., 1947, as amended; repealing section 53-625, R.C.M., 1947, as amended; providing an effective date.

(2) "Jurisdiction" means and includes a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, a foreign country and a state or province of a foreign country.

(3) "Owner" means a person who holds the legal title to a vehicle, or in the event a vehicle is the subject of an agreement for the conditional sale thereof with the right of purchase upon performance of the conditions stated in the agreement and with an immediate right of possession vested in the conditional vendee, or in the event a vehicle is subject to a lease, contract or other legal arrangement vesting right of possession or control, for security or otherwise, or in the event a mortgagor of a vehicle is entitled to possession, then the owner shall be deemed to be such person in whom is vested right of possession or control.

(4) "Legal residence," as used in this act only, means a jurisdiction where the person lives or conducts his business. Such residence need not be coupled with the intent to live or conduct the business there on a permanent basis. The use of the word "residence" in this act shall be confined to the definition given, and shall not be confused with the word "domicile." This definition of "residence" further recognizes that a person may have several residences, but only one domicile.

(5) (a) "Properly registered," as applied to place of registration means:

(i) The jurisdiction where the person registering the vehicle has his legal residence, or

(ii) In the case of a commercial vehicle, the jurisdiction in which it is registered if the commercial enterprise in which such vehicle is used has a place of business therein and, if the vehicle is most frequently dispatched, garaged, serviced, maintained, operated or otherwise controlled in or from such place of business and, the vehicle has been assigned to such place of business, or

(iii) In the case of a commercial vehicle, the jurisdiction where, because of an agreement or arrangement between two or more jurisdictions, or pursuant to a declaration, the vehicle has been registered as required by said jurisdiction.

(b) In case of doubt or dispute as to the proper place of registration of a vehicle, the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board shall make the final determination, but in making such determination, the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board may confer with departments of the other jurisdictions affected.

(6) "Fleet" means two (2) or more commercial vehicles.

(7) "Person," for purposes of this act, means every natural person, firm, copartnership, association, or corporation.

(8) "Motor vehicle" means every vehicle which is self-propelled and every vehicle which is propelled by electric power obtained from overhead trolley wires, but not operated upon rails.

(9) "Vehicle" means every device in, upon or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway, excepting devices moved by human power or used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks.

(10) "Preceding year" means a period of twelve (12) consecutive months fixed by the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board which period shall be within sixteen (16) months immediately preceding the commencement of the registration or license year for which proportional registration is sought; and the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board in fixing such period shall make it conform to the terms, conditions and requirements of any applicable agreement or arrangements for the proportional registration of vehicles.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-703. Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board creation. (1) There is hereby created for the purpose of administration of this act, the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board, which shall consist of six (6) members to be appointed by the governor. One of said members shall be the registrar of motor vehicles; one shall be a member of the Montana highway patrol; one shall be a member of the Montana state highway commission; one shall be a member of the state department of revenue; one shall be an attorney from the legal staff of the Montana state highway commission; and one shall be the gross vehicle weight supervisor. In lieu of any above-named member, the governor may instead appoint a qualified representative from the commission, board or office designated. The members of the board shall meet in Helena, Montana, within two weeks after the effective date of this act. At the said first meeting and annually in December thereafter, the board shall elect a secretary who shall be a member of said board, and the board shall elect a chairman and a vice-chairman from its own membership who shall hold office for one (1) year. Election as chairman and vice-chairman shall not interfere with the member's right to vote on all matters before the board. The board shall meet at such other times as it deems advisable, but at least once every two (2) calendar months, and shall from time to time adopt rules and regulations for the administration of this act as may be deemed necessary.

(2) The board shall act collectively in harmony with recorded resolutions or motions adopted by the majority of the board at regular or special meetings, notice of which meetings shall be given to all members pursuant to the rules of said board. Four (4) members shall constitute a quorum at any meeting; but no resolution, motion, or other decision of the board shall be adopted or passed without the favorable vote of at least four (4) members.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 206, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 391, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted "department of revenue" for "board of equalization" in the second sentence of subsection (1).

Cross-References

Board abolished and functions transferred, sec. 82A-702(4).

Quasi-judicial functions transferred to board of highway appeals, sec. 82A-705.

53-704. Authority of Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board. The Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board shall have the authority to execute or make arrangements, agreements or declarations to carry out the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-705. Authority for reciprocity agreements, provisions, reciprocity standards. The Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board may enter into an agreement or arrangement with the duly authorized representatives of other jurisdictions, granting to vehicles or to owners of vehicles which are properly registered or licensed in such jurisdictions, and for which evidence of compliance is supplied, benefits, privileges and exemptions from payment, wholly or partially, of any taxes, fees, or other charges imposed upon such vehicles or owners with respect to the operation or ownership of such vehicles under the laws of this state. Such an agreement or arrangement shall provide that vehicles properly registered or licensed in this state, when operated upon highways of such other jurisdiction, shall receive exemptions, benefits and privileges of a similar kind or to a similar degree as are extended to vehicles properly registered or licensed in such jurisdiction when operated in this state. Each such agreement or arrangement shall, in the judgment of the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board, be in the best interest of the state and the citizens thereof and shall be fair and equitable to this state and the citizens thereof, and all of the same shall be determined on the basis and recognition of the benefits which accrue to the economy of this state from the uninterrupted flow of commerce.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-706. Base state registration reciprocity. An agreement or arrangement entered into, or a declaration issued under the authority of this act may contain provisions authorizing the registration or licensing in another jurisdiction of vehicles located in or operated from a base in such other jurisdiction which vehicles otherwise would be required to be registered or licensed in this state; and in such event the exemptions, benefits and privileges extended by such agreement, arrangement or declaration shall apply to such vehicles, when properly licensed or registered in such base jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-707. Proportional registration of fleet vehicles. If any jurisdiction permits or requires the licensing of fleets of vehicles in interstate or combined interstate and intrastate commerce and payment of registration fees, license fees, taxes or other fixed fees thereon on an apportionment basis commensurate with and determined by the miles traveled on and the use made of said jurisdiction's highways, as compared with the miles traveled on and the use made of other jurisdiction's highways or any other equitable basis of apportionment, and exempts vehicles registered in other jurisdiction under such apportionment basis from the requirements of full payment of its own registration, license fees, taxes or other fixed fees, then the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board may, by agreement, adopt such exemption with respect to vehicles of such fleets, whether owned by residents or nonresidents of this state and regardless of where based. Such agreements, under such terms, conditions or restrictions as the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board deems proper, may provide that owners of vehicles operated in interstate or combined interstate and intrastate commerce in this state shall be permitted to pay registration, license fees, taxes or other fixed fees on an apportionment basis, commensurate with and determined by the miles traveled on and the use made of the highways of this state as compared with the use made of the highways of other jurisdictions or any other equitable basis of apportionment. No such agreement shall authorize, or be construed as authorizing, any vehicle so registered to be operated in intrastate commerce in this state unless the owner thereof has been granted intrastate authority or rights by the Montana railroad and public service commission, if such grant is otherwise required by law. The Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board may adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as it shall deem necessary to effectuate and administer the provisions of this subsection, and the registration of fleet vehicles under this act shall be subject to the rights, terms and conditions granted by or contained in any applicable agreement, arrangement or declaration made by the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board.

Amendment

The 1965 amendment substituted "license fees, taxes" for "license taxes" near the beginning of the section and "license fees, taxes" for "license" following "registration" in two places.

53-708. Declarations of extent of reciprocity. In the absence of an agreement or arrangement with another jurisdiction, the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board may examine the laws and requirements of such jurisdiction and declare the extent and nature of exemptions, benefits and privileges to be extended to vehicles properly registered or licensed in such other jurisdiction, or to the owners of such vehicles, which shall, in the judgment of the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board, be in the best interest of this state and the citizens thereof, which shall be fair and equitable to this state and the citizens thereof, and all of the same shall be determined on the basis and recognition of the benefits which accrue to the economy of this state from the uninterrupted flow of commerce.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-709. Extension of reciprocal privileges to lessees authorized. An agreement or arrangement entered into, or a declaration issued under the authority of this act, may contain provisions under which a leased vehicle properly registered by the lessor thereof may be entitled, subject to terms and conditions stated therein, to the exemptions, benefits and privileges extended by such agreement, arrangement or declaration.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-710. Automatic reciprocity. On and after the effective date of this act, if no agreement, arrangement or declaration is in effect with respect to another jurisdiction as authorized by this act, any vehicle properly registered or licensed in such other jurisdiction, and for which evidence of compliance is supplied, shall receive, when operated in this state, the same exemptions, benefits and privileges granted by such other jurisdictions to vehicles properly registered in this state. Reciprocity extended under this subsection shall apply to commercial vehicles only when engaged exclusively in interstate commerce.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-711. Proportional registration not exclusive. Nothing contained in this act relating to proportional registration of fleet vehicles shall be construed as requiring any vehicle to be proportionally registered if it is otherwise registered in this state for the operation in which it is engaged, including but not by way of limitation, regular registration, temporary registration, or trip permit or registration.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-712. Proportional registration of fleet vehicles, application, fee-formula and payment. (1) Any owner engaged in operating one or more fleets may, in lieu of registration of vehicles under other sections of Title 53, register and license each fleet for operation in this state by filing an application with the Montana highway commission which shall contain the following information, and such other information pertinent to vehicle registration as the Montana highway commission may require:

(a) Total fleet miles. This shall be the total number of miles operated in all jurisdictions during the preceding year by the vehicles in such fleet during said year.

(b) In-state miles. This shall be the total number of miles operated in this state during the preceding year by the vehicles in such fleet during said year.

(c) A description and identification of each vehicle of such fleet which is to be operated in this state during the registration year for which proportional fleet registration is requested.

(2) The application for each fleet shall be accompanied by a fee payment computed as follows:

(a) Divide in-state miles by total fleet miles.

(b) Determine the total amount necessary to register each and every vehicle in the fleet for which registration is requested, based on the regular annual registration fees prescribed by section 53-122, R. C. M., 1947, as amended, and section 53-615, R. C. M., 1947, as amended and such property taxes if any be due thereon.

(c) Multiply the sum obtained under subsection (2) (b) hereof by the fraction obtained under subsection (2) (a) hereof.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 206, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 88, L. 1965.

Compiler's Notes

Section 53-615, referred to in subsection (2) (b) of this section, was repealed by Sec. 12-109, Ch. 197, Laws 1965.

Amendment

The 1965 amendment added "and such property taxes if any be due thereon" at the end of paragraph (2) (b).

53-713. Registration and identification of proportionally registered vehicles, effect of such registration. (1) The Montana highway commission shall register the vehicles so described and identified and shall issue a license plate or plates, or a distinctive sticker, or other suitable identification device, for each vehicle described in the application upon payment of the appropriate fees, and property taxes as provided by law, for such application and for the stickers or devices issued. A fee of two dollars ($2.00) shall be paid for each license plate, sticker or device issued for each proportionally registered vehicle. A registration card shall be issued for each proportionally registered vehicle. Such registration card shall, in addition to other information required by Title 53, bear upon its face the number of the license, sticker or other device issued for such proportionally registered vehicle and shall be carried in such vehicle at all times.

(2) Fleet vehicles so registered and identified shall be deemed fully licensed and registered in this state for any type of movement or operation, except that, in those instances in which a grant of authority is required for intrastate movement or operation, no such vehicle shall be operated in intrastate commerce in this state unless the owner thereof has been granted intrastate authority or rights by the Montana railroad and public service commission and unless said vehicle is being operated in conformity with such authority or rights.

Amendment

The 1965 amendment inserted "and property taxes as provided by law" in the first sentence of subsection (1).

Effective Date

Section 4 of Ch. 88, Laws 1965 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 26, 1965.

53-714. Proportional registration cannot be in a single jurisdiction. The right to the privilege and benefits of proportional registration of fleet vehicles extended by this act, or by any contract, agreement, arrangement or declaration made under the authority of this act, shall be subject to the condition that each fleet vehicle proportionally registered under the authority of this act shall also be proportionally or otherwise properly registered in at least one other jurisdiction during the period for which it is proportionally registered in this state.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-715. Registration of additional fleet vehicles. Vehicles acquired by the owner after the commencement of the registration year and subsequently added to a proportionally registered fleet shall be proportionally registered by applying the mileage percentage used in the original application for such fleet for such registration period to the regular registration fees due with respect to such vehicle for the remainder of the registration year.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-716. Withdrawal of fleet vehicles, credits and accounting. If any vehicle is withdrawn from a proportionally registered fleet during the period for which it is registered under the provisions of this act, the owner of such fleet shall so notify the Montana highway commission on appropriate forms to be prescribed by the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board. The Montana highway commission may require the owner to surrender proportional registration cards and such other identification devices which have been issued with respect to such vehicles as the Montana highway commission may deem advisable. If a vehicle is permanently withdrawn from a proportionally registered fleet because it has been destroyed, sold or otherwise completely removed from the service of the registrant, the unused portion of the gross vehicle weight fees paid with respect to such vehicle, which shall be a sum equal to the amount paid with respect to such vehicle when it was first proportionally registered in such registration year, reduced by 1/12 of the total annual gross vehicle weight fee of such vehicle for each calendar month and fraction thereof elapsing between the first day of the month of the current year in which the vehicle was registered and the date the notice of withdrawal is received by the Montana highway commission, shall be credited to the proportional registration account of such owner. Such credit shall be applied against liability for subsequent additions to be prorated during such registration year or for additional fees due upon audit under subsection 19 [53-719] hereof. If any such credit is less than five dollars ($5.00), no credit shall be made or entered. In no event shall such amount be credited against fees other than those for such registration year, nor shall any such amount be subject to refund.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-717. New fleet—estimated mileage. The initial application for proportional registration of a fleet shall state the mileage data with respect to such fleet for the preceding year in this and other jurisdictions. If no operations were conducted with such fleet during the preceding year, the application shall contain a full statement of the proposed method of operation and estimates of annual mileage in this state and other jurisdictions. The Montana highway commission shall determine the in-state and total fleet miles to be used in computing the fee payment for the fleet. The Montana highway commission may evaluate and adjust the estimate in the application if it is not satisfied as to the correctness thereof.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-718. Fleet registration may be denied. The Montana highway commission may refuse to accept proportional registration applications for the registration of vehicles based in, or owned by residents of, another jurisdiction if the Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board shall find that such other jurisdiction does not grant similar registration privileges to fleet vehicles based in or owned by residents of this state.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-719. Preservation of proportional registration records. Any owner whose application for proportional registration has been accepted shall preserve the records on which the application is based for a period of four (4) years following the year or period upon which said application is based. Upon request of the Montana highway commission, the owner shall make such records available to the Montana highway commission at its office for audit as to accuracy of computations and payments or to pay the reasonable costs of an audit at the home office of the owner, by a duly appointed representative of the Montana highway commission. The Montana highway commission may make arrangements with agencies of other jurisdictions administering motor vehicle registration laws for joint audits of any such owner.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-720. Relation to other state laws. The provisions of this act shall constitute complete authority for the registration of fleet vehicles upon a proportional registration basis without reference to or application of any other statutes of this state except as in this section expressly provided.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-721. Suspension of reciprocity benefits. Agreements, arrangements or declarations made under the authority of this act may include provisions authorizing the Montana highway commission to suspend or cancel the exemptions, benefits or privileges granted thereunder to a person who violates any of the conditions or terms of such agreements, arrangements or declarations or who violates the laws of this state relating to motor vehicles, or rules and regulations lawfully promulgated thereunder.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

Sound-pressure levels in decibels shall be measured on "A" scale of a sound-level meter having characteristics defined by American standards association S1, 4-1966 "General Purpose Sound Meter." Measurements shall be made in accordance with applicable practices outlined in the "Procedure for Sound Level Measurements of Snowmobiles" used by the international snowmobile industry association (January, 1969), or with such other standards for measurement of sound level as the commission may adopt.

(b) After a date selected by the commission, but not later than June 30, 1972, no new snowmobile not equipped with noise-suppression devices adequate to comply with the specifications required by the rules and regulations of the commission or the specification set forth in the preceding paragraph, whichever are more restrictive, shall be sold or offered for sale unless a separate placard, identifying that such snowmobile is not so equipped, is conspicuously and permanently affixed thereto.

(c) This section does not apply to organized races or similar competitive events held on (1) private lands, with the permission of the owner, lessee, or custodian of the land, or (2) public lands, with the consent of the public agency having the authority to grant such consent; provided that total sound produced by such event shall not exceed the specifications required by the rules and regulations of the commission after the effective date of the rules and regulations, and provided, that in any event, from and after June 30, 1971, total sound produced by such event shall not exceed (50) decibels on scale "A" (dBA) at any point fifteen (15) feet or more outside the boundaries of the area designated for such event.

53-1027. Failure to display decal a misdemeanor—penalty. The failure to display a current tax-paid decal during the time provided in this act shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than fifty dollars ($50).

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 55 and once by Ch. 412. Neither amendatory act mentioned the other. Since Ch. 412 included the change made by Ch. 55, the compiler has used the text of Ch. 412 above.

NOTE.—The following states have enacted the Uniform Narcotic Drug Act: Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Puerto Rico, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Virgin Islands, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

Title of Act

An act providing for regulation of the possession and sale of dangerous drugs in the state of Montana; defining dangerous drugs to include depressant, stimulant, hallucinogenic and narcotic drugs and defining certain words and phrases in connection therewith; defining who may lawfully sell and possess dangerous drugs; providing for the fraudulent obtaining of dangerous drugs or the alteration of labels; providing for the enforcement of unlawful sale and possession; providing for the state board of pharmacy to regulate, license and supervise, and designate other dangerous drugs after proper notice and hearing; amending section 95-302, R. C. M. 1947, to exclude trial jurisdiction in the justices' courts in cases commenced under this act; repealing sections 27-724, 27-725, 54-101 through 54-128 inclusive, 94-35-123, 94-35-148, 94-35-199, R. Chapter 412, Laws of 1973, deleted "and does not come within the exceptions of section 3" from the end of subsection (a); and deleted from subsection (b) the same sentence deleted by Ch. 55.

Cross-References

Justices' court jurisdiction, sec. 95-302.

Information Insufficient

Information charging offense under this section was insufficient where it contained neither identity of informer nor specific facts concerning the offense and identity of time and place to protect accused from double jeopardy. State ex rel. Offerdahl v. District Court, 156 M 432, 481 P 2d 338.

Nature of Drug

Evidence that victims hallucinated following ingestion of drugs furnished by defendant and described by him as "acid" established dangerous nature of drugs to support conviction, despite absence of proof of exact type of drug, and the possibility that hallucinations might have been flashback from previous trips did not necessarily create reasonable doubt. State v. Dunn, 155 M 319, 472 P 2d 288.

Possession Only

Trial court's instruction to jury that law implies knowledge that drug was a prohibited drug from mere possession of the drug was an incorrect statement of the law, confusing to the jury, and entitled defendant to new trial. State v. Anderson, — M —, 498 P 2d 295.

Repeal Pending Prosecution

Where defendant was charged with selling narcotics in violation of former section 54-102, and between date of commission of crime and time information was filed legislature repealed former section 54-102 and passed this section of Dangerous Drug Act, such repeal did not bar prosecution under former section since general statutory saving clause, section 43-514, operated to sustain jurisdiction of subject matter in district court. State ex rel. Huffman v. District Court, 154 M 201, 461 P 2d 847.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Dangerous Drug

Defendant was not entitled to have words "and none others" added at end of jury instructions defining dangerous drugs in words of statute. State v. Dunn, 155 M 319, 472 P 2d 288.

Deferred Imposition of Sentence

Evidence of sale of two pounds of hashish to three minors, one only 15 years old, was sufficient to overcome presumption of entitlement to deferred imposition of sentence. Campus v. State, 157 M 321, 483 P 2d 275.

The statutory presumption of entitlement to deferred imposition of sentence for persons under 21 convicted of a first violation may be overcome where the evidence is sufficient, but, the record itself must disclose the evidence; evidence may be contained within or without proof of the crime itself; aggravating circumstances should be substantial evidence beyond the simple facts of the prima facie case. Campus v. State, 157 M 321, 483 P 2d 275.

Conditioning deferred imposition of sentence on serving term of 30 days in county jail was within trial court's authority where 18-year-old defendant was convicted of sale of dangerous drugs. State ex rel. Woodbury v. District Court, — M —, 495 P 2d 1119, distinguishing State v. Drew, 158 M 214, 490 P 2d 230.

Hearsay statement and affidavits which accused defendant of prior dealings in drugs were not admissible in aggravation and mitigation hearing to overcome presumption that defendant was entitled to deferred imposition of sentence, where defendant had no opportunity to cross-examine affiants or even determine if they were known to him. State v. Harney, — M —, 499 P 2d 802.

54-133. Criminal possession of dangerous drugs. (a) A person commits the offense of criminal possession of dangerous drugs if he possesses any dangerous drug as defined in this act.

(b) A person convicted of criminal possession of dangerous drugs, other than criminal possession of marihuana and its derivatives as hereinafter provided, shall be imprisoned by imprisonment in the state prison not to exceed five (5) years. Any person convicted of a criminal possession of marihuana or its derivatives in an amount, the aggregate weight of which does not exceed sixty (60) grams of marihuana, or one (1) gram of hashish, shall, for the first offense, be guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one (1) year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. A person convicted of a second, or subsequent, offense under this subsection is punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one (1) year or in the state prison not to exceed three (3) years or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) A person of the age of twenty-one (21) years or under, convicted of a first violation under this section shall be presumed to be entitled to a deferred imposition of sentence. Jurisdiction under this section shall be exclusively in the district court.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "other than criminal possession of marihuana and its derivatives as hereinafter provided" in the first sentence of subsection (b); added new second and third sentences to subsection (b); redesignated the former second sentence of subsection (b) as the first sentence of subsection (c); added the second sentence to subsection (c); and made minor changes in phraseology.

The 1973 amendment deleted "and does not come within the exceptions of section 3" from the end of subsection (a).

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 228, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 9, 1971.

Constitutionality

This section is not unconstitutionally vague and uncertain due to its failure to require knowledge and intent in relation to possession of dangerous drugs since meaning of term "possession" has been so well defined that it cannot be considered ambiguous. State ex rel. Glantz v. District Court, 154 M 132, 461 P 2d 193.

Constructive Possession

Possession of airline baggage claim tag was constructive possession of contraband contained in suitcase. State v. Trowbridge, 157 M 527, 487 P 2d 530.

Deferred Sentence

Trial court improperly sentenced 21-year-old defendant to three years imprisonment for violation of this section where there was no evidence to overcome the statutory presumption that defendant was entitled to deferred sentence. State v. Simtob, 154 M 286, 462 P 2d 873.

Elements of Crime

Whether several ingredients besides amphetamine are present within a pill is immaterial in a prosecution under Dangerous Drug Act. State v. Hull, 158 M 6, 487 P 2d 1314.

Probable Cause for Arrest

Where relators were arrested and charged under this section, allegation that probable cause did not exist for their arrest without warrant was without merit in regard to three who were present and lived in house where drugs were found; but probable cause did not exist concerning fourth party arrested who was present on premises but did not live there, notwithstanding later finding of drugs on this party, since mere presence in place where search was made without further proof of probable cause was insufficient to justify arrest. State ex rel. Glantz v. District Court, 154 M 132, 461 P 2d 193.

Quantity in Possession

As the Dangerous Drug Act did not require proof of any specific quantity of a dangerous drug in order to constitute violation, it was unnecessary for the jury to find that the defendant possessed an amphetamine pill in sufficient quantity to be dangerous. State v. Hull, 158 M 6, 487 P 2d 1314.

Sentencing

Under subsection (c), a defendant may not be sentenced to a term in jail; and at the termination of the time of deferment or stayed imposition, the sentencing statute (95-2207) authorizes the court to accept a plea withdrawal or to strike the verdict of guilty and order the charge dismissed. State v. Drew, 158 M 214, 490 P 2d 230.

Once the presumption provided for in subsection (c) has been found by the trial judge not to have been overcome, the court's discretion is limited by this act to defer the imposition of sentence as provided under subsection (2) of section 95-2206. State v. Drew, 158 M 214, 490 P 2d 230.

Exclusive Nature of Statute

Marijuana seized in private residence under search warrant issued by justice of peace was unlawfully seized and warrant was void since, under former section 54-112, only district judge could issue search warrant for narcotics and no search warrant could be issued to search private residence for narcotics. The provisions of former Uniform Drug Act were sole and exclusive provisions governing issuance of search warrants authorizing lawful search and seizure of narcotic drugs and state's contentions that statute applied only to in rem proceedings to seize and destroy contraband narcotics and did not apply to in personam proceedings against possessor which are governed by criminal code could not be sustained. State v. Langan, 151 M 558, 445 P 2d 565, accord, State v. Kurland, 151 M 569, 445 P 2d 570 (marijuana inadmissible in criminal prosecution for possession against social guest).

54-134. Fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs. A person commits the offense of fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs if he obtains or attempts to obtain a dangerous drug by (a) fraud, deceit, misrepresentation or subterfuge; (b) falsely assuming the title of, or representing himself to be a manufacturer, wholesaler, practitioner, pharmacist, owner of a pharmacy, or other persons authorized to possess dangerous drugs; (c) the use of a forged, altered or fictitious prescription; (d) the use of a false name or a false address on a prescription or; (e) the concealment of a material fact.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-135. Altering labels on dangerous drugs. A person commits the offense of altering labels on dangerous drugs if he affixes a false, forged, or altered label to a package or receptacle containing a dangerous drug, or otherwise misrepresents the package containing a dangerous drug.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-136. Penalty for fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs or altering the labels of dangerous drugs. A person convicted of fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs or altering the labels on dangerous drugs shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not to exceed six (6) months.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-137. Alternative sentencing authority. A person convicted of criminal possession of dangerous drugs, fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs or altering labels on dangerous drugs, if he is shown to be an excessive or habitual user of dangerous drugs either from the face of the record or by a presentence investigation, may in lieu of imprisonment, be committed to the custody of any institution for rehabilitative treatment for not less than six (6) months nor more than two (2) years.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-138. Jurisdiction. The district court shall have exclusive trial jurisdiction over all prosecutions commenced under the Montana Dangerous Drug Act.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

Title of Act

An act to amend the Dangerous Drug Act, by adopting substantially the definitions, procedures, standards and schedules and the regulatory provisions of the uniform controlled substances act as recommended by the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws; by excluding from such schedules non-narcotic drugs which may be lawfully sold over the counter without a prescription; by repealing sections 54-129, 54-130, 54-131, and 66-1504.1, R. C. M. 1947; amending sections 54-132 and 54-133, R. C. M. 1947, by deleting references to section 54-131, R. C. M. 1947; amending section 54-132 by deleting the provision regarding deferred imposition of sentence; providing for severability if any part of this act is determined unconstitutional; and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

54-302. Administration of act—scheduling and rescheduling of drugs—findings—deviations from federal schedules—substances excluded. (1) The board of pharmacists shall administer this act and may add drugs to or delete or reschedule all drugs enumerated in the schedules in section 5, 7, 9, 11, or 13 [54-305, 54-307, 54-309, 54-311, or 54-313] of this act, pursuant to the rule-making procedures of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act [82-4201 to 82-4225]. In making a determination regarding a drug, the board of pharmacists shall consider the following:

(a) the actual or relative potential for abuse;

(b) the scientific evidence of its pharmacological effect, if known;

(c) the state of current scientific knowledge regarding the drug;

(d) the history and current pattern of abuse;

(e) the scope, duration, and significance of abuse;

(f) the risk to the public health;

(g) the potential of the drug to produce psychic or physiological dependence liability; and

(h) whether the drug is an immediate precursor of a drug already controlled under this act.

(2) After considering the factors enumerated in subsection (1) the board of pharmacists shall make findings with respect thereto and if it finds the drug has a potential for abuse it shall designate such drug a dangerous drug in the manner set forth in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(3) If the board of pharmacists designates a drug as an immediate precursor, drugs which are precursors of the controlled precursor shall not be subject to control solely because they are precursors of the controlled precursor.

(4) If any drug is designated, rescheduled, or deleted as a "controlled substance" under federal law and notice thereof is given to the board of pharmacists, the board of pharmacists shall similarly control the drug under this act after the expiration of thirty (30) days from publication in the federal register of a final order designating a drug as a "controlled substance" or rescheduling or deleting a drug, unless within that thirty (30) day period, the board of pharmacists objects to inclusion, rescheduling, or deletion. In that case, the board of pharmacists shall publish the reasons for objection and afford all interested parties an opportunity to be heard. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board of pharmacists shall publish its decision, which shall be final unless altered thereafter by the board or by statute. Upon publication of objection to inclusion, rescheduling, or deletion under this act by the board of pharmacists, control under this act is stayed until the board of pharmacists publishes its decision.

(5) Authority to control under this section does not extend to distilled spirits, liquor, wine, malt beverages, beer, porter, ale, stout or tobacco.

(6) The board shall exclude any non-narcotic drug from a schedule if such drug may, under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and section 27-716 (a) (2) of the Montana Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, be lawfully sold over the counter without a prescription.

54-315. Rules to be promulgated by board—fees. The board of pharmacists shall promulgate rules for its administration which are not inconsistent with this act and specifically shall levy and collect reasonable registration fees relating to the registration and control of the manufacture, distribution, and dispensing of dangerous drugs within the state; provided, however, the maximum fee for any registration shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per year.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-316. Annual registration required for manufacturer, distributor or dispenser—exceptions—inspection. (1) Every person who manufactures, distributes, or dispenses any dangerous drug within this state must, on and after January 1, 1974, obtain annually a registration issued by the board of pharmacists in accordance with its rules.

(2) Persons registered by the board of pharmacists under this act to manufacture, distribute, dispense, or conduct research with dangerous drugs may possess, manufacture, distribute, dispense, or conduct research with those drugs to the extent authorized by their registration and in conformity with the other provisions of this act.

(3) The following persons need not register and may lawfully possess dangerous drugs under this act:

(a) an agent or employee of any registered manufacturer, distributor, or dispenser of any dangerous drug if he is acting in the usual course of his business or employment;

(b) a common or contract carrier or warehouseman, or an employee thereof, whose possession of any dangerous drug is in the usual course of business or employment;

(c) an ultimate user or a person in possession of any dangerous drug pursuant to a lawful order of a practitioner or in lawful possession of a Schedule V drug;

(d) officers and employees of the state or a political subdivision of the state, while acting in the course of their official duties.

(4) The board of pharmacists may waive by rule the requirement for registration of certain manufacturers, distributors, or dispensers if it finds it consistent with the public health and safety.

(5) A separate registration is required at each principal place of business or professional practice where the applicant manufactures, distributes, or dispenses dangerous drugs.

(6) The board of pharmacists may inspect the establishment of a registrant or applicant for registration.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-317. Manufacturers and distributors registered unless against public interest — factors considered — practitioners' authority — research with Schedule I drugs—federal registration. (1) The board of pharmacists shall register an applicant to manufacture or distribute dangerous drugs included in sections 5, 7, 9, 11, and 13 [54-305, 54-307, 54-309, 54-311 and 54-313] unless it determines that the issuance of that registration would be inconsistent with the public interest. In determining the public interest, the board of pharmacists shall consider the following factors:

(a) maintenance of effective controls against diversion of dangerous drugs into other than legitimate medical, scientific, or industrial channels;

(b) compliance with applicable state and local law;

(c) any convictions of the applicant under any federal and state laws relating to any dangerous drug;

(d) past experience in the manufacture or distribution of dangerous drugs, and the existence in the applicant's establishment of effective controls against diversion;

(e) furnishing by the applicant of false or fraudulent material in any application filed under this act;

(f) suspension or revocation of the applicant's federal registration to manufacture, distribute, or dispense dangerous drugs as authorized by federal law; and

(g) any other factors relevant to and consistent with the public health and safety.

(2) Registration under subsection (1) does not entitle a registrant to manufacture and distribute dangerous drugs in Schedule I or II other than those specified in the registration.

(3) Practitioners shall be registered to dispense any dangerous drugs or to conduct research with dangerous drugs in Schedules II through V if they are authorized to dispense or conduct research under the laws of this state. The board of pharmacists need not require separate registration for practitioners engaging in research with nonnarcotic dangerous drugs in Schedules II through V where the registrant is already registered under this act in another capacity. Practitioners registered under federal law to conduct research with Schedule I drugs may conduct research with Schedule I drugs within this state upon furnishing the board of pharmacists evidence of that federal registration.

(4) Compliance by manufacturers and distributors with the provisions of the federal law respecting registration (excluding fees) entitles them to be registered under this act.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-318. Suspension or revocation of registration—grounds. (1) A registration under section 16 [54-316] to manufacture, distribute, or dispense a dangerous drug may be suspended or revoked by the board of pharmacists upon a finding that the registrant:

(a) has furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under this act;

(b) has been convicted of a felony under any state or federal law relating to any dangerous drug or controlled substance; or

(c) has had his federal registration suspended or revoked to manufacture, distribute, or dispense controlled substances.

(2) The board of pharmacists may limit revocation or suspension of a registration to the particular dangerous drug with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist.

(3) If the board of pharmacists suspends or revokes a registration, all dangerous drugs owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal. No disposition may be made of drugs under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable drugs and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all dangerous drugs may be forfeited to the state.

(4) The board of pharmacists shall promptly notify the bureau of all orders suspending or revoking registration and all forfeitures of dangerous drugs.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-319. Procedure for denial, suspension, revocation or refusal to renew registration. (1) Before denying, suspending or revoking a registration, or refusing a renewal of registration, the board of pharmacists shall serve upon the applicant or registrant an order to show cause why registration should not be denied, revoked, or suspended, or why the renewal should not be refused. The order to show cause shall contain a statement of the basis therefor and shall require the applicant or registrant to appear before the board of pharmacists at a time and place not less than thirty (30) days after the date of service of the order, but in the case of a denial or renewal of registration the show cause order shall be served not later than thirty (30) days before the expiration of the registration. These proceedings shall be conducted without regard to any criminal prosecution or other proceeding. Proceedings to refuse renewal of registration shall not abate the existing registration which shall remain in effect pending the outcome of the administrative hearing.

(2) The board of pharmacists may suspend, without an order to show cause, any registration simultaneously with the institution of proceedings under section 17 [54-317] or where renewal of registration is refused, if it finds that there is an imminent danger to the public health or safety which warrants such action. The suspension shall continue in effect until the conclusion of the proceedings, including judicial review thereof, unless sooner withdrawn by the board of pharmacists or dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-321. Order forms for drugs in Schedules I and II. Dangerous drugs in Schedules I and II shall be distributed by a registrant to another registrant only pursuant to an order form. Compliance with the provisions of federal law respecting order forms shall be deemed compliance with this section, unless the board of pharmacists prescribes particular forms to be used.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-322. Prescription and medical requirements for scheduled drugs. (1) No dangerous drug in Schedule II may be dispensed without the written prescription of a practitioner.

(2) In emergency situations, as defined by rule of the board of pharmacists, Schedule II drugs may be dispensed upon oral prescription of a practitioner, reduced promptly to writing and filed by the pharmacy. Prescriptions shall be retained in conformity with the requirements of section 19 [54-319]. No prescription for a Schedule II drug may be refilled.

(3) A dangerous drug included in Schedule III or IV, which is a prescription drug as determined under the federal or Montana food, drug and cosmetic acts shall not be dispensed without a written or oral prescription of a practitioner. The prescription shall not be filled or refilled more than six (6) months after the date thereof or be refilled more than five (5) times, unless renewed by the practitioner.

(4) A dangerous drug included in Schedule V shall not be distributed or dispensed other than for a medical purpose.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-323. Educational programs—research—information confidential—possession of drugs by researchers. (1) The board of pharmacists shall carry out educational programs designed to prevent and deter misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs. In connection with these programs it may:

(a) promote better recognition of the problems of misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs within the regulated industry and among interested groups and organizations;

(b) assist the regulated industry and interested groups and organizations in contributing to the reduction of misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs;

(c) consult with interested groups and organizations to aid them in solving administrative and organizational problems;

(d) evaluate procedures, projects, techniques, and controls conducted or proposed as part of educational programs on misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs;

(e) disseminate the results of research on misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs to promote a better public understanding of what problems exist and what can be done to combat them; and

(f) assist in the education and training of state and local law enforcement officials in their efforts to control misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs.

(2) The board of pharmacists shall encourage research on misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs. In connection with the research, and in furtherance of the enforcement of this act, it may:

(a) establish methods to assess accurately the effects of dangerous drugs and identify and characterize those with potential for abuse;

(b) make studies and undertake programs of research to:

(i) develop new or improved approaches, techniques, systems, equipment and devices to strengthen the enforcement of this act;

(ii) determine patterns of misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs and the social effects thereof; and

(iii) improve methods for preventing, predicting, understanding and dealing with the misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs; and

(c) enter into contracts with public agencies, institutions of higher education, and private organizations or individuals for the purpose of conducting research, demonstrations, or special projects which bear directly on misuse and abuse of dangerous drugs.

(3) The board of pharmacists may authorize persons engaged in research on the use and effects of dangerous drugs to withhold the names and other identifying characteristics of individuals who are the subjects of the research. Persons who obtain this authorization are not compelled in any civil, criminal, administrative, legislative, or other proceeding to identify the individuals who are the subjects of research for which the authorization was obtained.

(4) The board of pharmacists may authorize the possession and distribution of dangerous drugs by persons engaged in research. Persons who obtain this authorization are exempt from state prosecution for possession and distribution of dangerous drugs to the extent of the authorization.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

(2) Civil seizures or forfeitures and injunctive proceedings commenced prior to the effective date of this act are not affected by this act.

(3) All administrative proceedings pending under prior laws which are superseded by this act shall be continued and brought to a final determination in accord with the laws and rules in effect prior to the effective date of the act. Any drug controlled under prior law which is not listed within Schedules I through V is automatically controlled without further proceedings and shall be listed in the appropriate schedule.

(4) The board of pharmacists shall initially permit persons to register who own or operate any establishment engaged in the manufacture, distribution, or dispensing of any dangerous drug prior to the effective date of this act and who are registered or licensed by the state.

(5) This act applies to violations of law, seizures and forfeiture, injunctive proceedings, administrative proceedings and investigations which occur following its effective date.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 412, L. 1973.

54-325. Prior orders and rules continued in effect. Any orders and rules promulgated under any law affected by this act and in effect on the effective date of this act and not in conflict with it continue in effect until modified, superseded or repealed.

Title of Act

An act granting public employers and public employees the right to bargain collectively; providing that the board of personnel appeals may designate labor organizations to be exclusive representative of employees in certain units; and may also call elections by employees for the same purpose; providing the board of personnel appeals shall establish remedies for unfair labor practices; and providing procedures for carrying out the act.

59-1602. Definitions. When used in this act:

(1) "public employer" means the state of Montana or any political subdivision thereof, including but not limited to, any town, city, county, district, school board, board of regents, public and quasi-public corporation, housing authority or other authority established by law, and any representative or agent designated by the public employer to act in its interest in dealing with public employees;

(4) "management officials" means representatives of management having authority to act for the agency on any matters relating to the implementation of agency policy;

(5) "labor organization" means any organization or association of any kind in which employees participate and which exists for the primary purpose of dealing with employers concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment, fringe benefits, or other conditions of employment;

(6) "exclusive representative" means the labor organization which has been designated by the board as the exclusive representative of employees in an appropriate unit or has been so recognized by the public employer;

(8) "person" includes one or more individuals, labor organizations, public employees, associations, corporations, legal representatives, trustees, trustees in bankruptcy, or receivers;

(10) "labor dispute" includes any controversy concerning terms, tenure or conditions of employment, or concerning the association or representation of persons in negotiating, fixing, maintaining, changing, or seeking to arrange terms or conditions of employment, regardless of whether the disputants stand the proximate relation of employer and employee;

(11) "appropriate unit" means a group of public employees banded together for collective bargaining purposes as designated by the board.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1603. Employees' right to join or form labor organization and engage in collective bargaining activities. (1) Public employees shall have, and shall be protected in the exercise of, the right of self-organization, to form, join or assist any labor organization, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing on questions of wages, hours, fringe benefits, and other conditions of employment and to engage in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection, free from interference, restraint or coercion.

(2) Public employees and their representatives shall recognize the prerogatives of public employers to operate and manage their affairs in such areas as but not limited to:

(a) direct employees;

(b) hire, promote, transfer, assign, and retain employees;

(c) relieve employees from duties because of lack of work or funds or under conditions where continuation of such work be inefficient and nonproductive;

(d) maintain the efficiency of government operations;

(e) determine the methods, means, job classifications, and personnel by which government operations are to be conducted;

(f) take whatever actions may be necessary to carry out the missions of the agency in situations of emergency;

(g) establish the methods and processes by which work is performed.

(3) Labor organizations designated in accordance with the provisions of this act are responsible for representing the interest of all employees in the exclusive bargaining unit without discrimination for the purposes of collective bargaining with respect to rates of pay, hours, fringe benefits, and other conditions of employment.

(4) Certification as an exclusive representative shall be extended or continued as the case may be only to a labor or employee organization the written bylaws of which provide for and guarantee the following rights and safeguards and whose practices conform to such rights and safeguards as: provisions are made for democratic organization and procedures; elections are conducted pursuant to adequate standards and safeguards; controls are provided for the regulation of officers and agents having fiduciary responsibility to the organization; and requirements exist for maintenance of sound accounting and fiscal controls including annual audits.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1604. Duty to bargain collectively—good faith. The public employer and the exclusive representative, through appropriate officials or their representatives, shall have the authority and the duty to bargain collectively. This duty extends to the obligation to bargain collectively in good faith as set forth in subsection (3) of section 5 [59-1605] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1605. Unfair labor practices of employer or labor organization. (1) It is an unfair labor practice for a public employer to:

(a) interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 3 [59-1603] of this act;

(b) dominate, interfere, or assist in the formation or administration of any labor organization; however, subject to rules adopted by the board under section 12 (3), an employer is not prohibited from permitting employees to confer with him during working hours without loss of time or pay;

(c) discriminate in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization; however, nothing in this act or in any other statute of this state precludes a public employer from making an agreement with an exclusive representative to require that an employee who is not or does not become a union member shall be required as a condition of employment to have an amount equal to the union initiation fee and monthly dues deducted from his wages in the same manner as checkoff of union dues;

(d) discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee because he has signed or filed an affidavit, petition, or complaint or given any information or testimony under this act;

(e) refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with an exclusive representative.

(2) It is an unfair labor practice for a labor organization or its agents to:

(a) restrain or coerce employees in the exercise of the right guaranteed in subsection (1) of section 3 [59-1603] of this act, or a public employer in the selection of his representative for the purpose of collective bargaining or the adjustment of grievances;

(b) refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with a public employer, if it has been designated as the exclusive representative of employees;

(c) use agency shop fees for contributions to political candidates or parties at state or local levels.

(3) For the purpose of this act, to bargain collectively is the performance of the mutual obligation of the public employer, or his designated representatives, and the representatives of the exclusive representative to meet at reasonable times and negotiate in good faith with respect to wages, hours, fringe benefits, and other conditions of employment, or the negotiation of an agreement, or any question arising thereunder, and the execution of a written contract incorporating any agreement reached. Such obligation does not compel either party to agree to a proposal or require the making of a concession.

(4) This act does not limit the authority of the legislature, any political subdivision or the governing body, relative to appropriations for salary and wages, hours, fringe benefits, and other conditions of employment.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1606. Petition on representation matters—hearing—notice—election. (1) Whenever in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed by the board, a petition has been filed:

(a) by an employee or group of employees or any labor organization acting in their behalf alleging that thirty per cent (30%) of the employees:

(i) wish to be represented for collective bargaining by a labor organization as exclusive representative, or

(ii) assert that the labor organization which has been certified or is currently being recognized by the public employer as bargaining representative is no longer the representative of the majority of employees in the unit; or

(b) by the public employer alleging that one or more labor organizations has presented to it a claim to be recognized as the exclusive representative in an appropriate unit, the board or an agent of the board shall investigate the petition, and if it has reasonable cause to believe that a question of representation exists, it shall provide for an appropriate hearing upon due notice. If the board or an agent of the board finds that there is a question of representation, it shall direct an election by secret ballot to determine whether, and by which labor organization the employees desire to be represented or whether they desire to have no labor organization represent them and shall certify the results thereof. Only those labor organizations which have been designated by more than ten per cent (10%) of the employees in the unit found to be appropriate shall be placed on the ballot. Nothing in this section prohibits the waiving of hearings by stipulation for the purpose of a consent election in conformity with the rules of the board.

(2) In order to assure employees the fullest freedom in exercising the rights guaranteed by this act, the board or an agent of the board shall decide the unit appropriate for the purpose of collective bargaining, and shall consider such factors as community of interest, wages, hours, fringe benefits, and other working conditions of the employees involved, the history of collective bargaining, common supervision, common personnel policies, extent of integration of work functions and interchange among employees affected, and the desires of the employees.

(3) An election shall not be directed in any bargaining unit or in any subdivision thereof within which, in the preceding twelve (12) month period, a valid election has been held. The board or an agent of the board shall determine who is eligible to vote in the election and shall establish rules governing the election. Unless the majority vote is for no representation by a labor organization and in any election where none of the choices for a representative on the ballot receives a majority, a runoff election shall be conducted; the ballot providing for selection between the two choices receiving the largest and the second largest number of valid votes cast in the election. A labor organization which receives the majority of the votes cast in an election shall be certified by the board as the exclusive representative.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1607. Remedies for unfair labor practice—hearing—procedure. Violations of the provisions of section 5 [59-1605] of this act are unfair labor practices remediable by the board in the following manner:

(1) Whenever a complaint is filed alleging that any person has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, the board, or any agent designated by the board for such purposes, shall issue and cause to be served upon the person a copy of the complaint and a notice of hearing before the board, a member thereof, or before a designated agent, at a time and place therein fixed, not less than five (5) working days after the date of service. Any complaint may be amended by the complainant at any time prior to the issuance of an order based thereon, provided that the charged party is not unfairly prejudiced thereby. The person upon whom the charge is served shall file an answer to the complaint. The complainant and the person charged shall be parties and shall appear in person or otherwise give testimony at the place and time fixed in the notice of hearing. In the discretion of the board or its agent conducting the hearing, any other person may be allowed to intervene in the proceeding and present testimony. In any hearing the board is not bound by the rules of evidence prevailing in the courts.

(2) The testimony taken by the board or its agent shall be reduced to writing and filed with the board. Thereafter in its discretion the board upon notice may take further testimony or hear argument. If upon the preponderance of the testimony taken the board is of the opinion that any person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in an unfair labor practice, it shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the person an order requiring him to cease and desist from the unfair labor practice, and to take such affirmative action including reinstatement of employees with or without back pay, as will effectuate the policies of this act. The order may further require the person to make reports from time to time showing the extent to which he has complied with the order. If upon the preponderance of the testimony taken the board is not of the opinion that the person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in the unfair labor practice, then the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue an order dismissing the complaint. No notice of hearing shall be issued based upon any unfair labor practice more than six (6) months before the filing of the charge with the board, unless the person aggrieved thereby was prevented from filing the charge by reason of service in the armed forces, in which event the six (6) month period shall be computed from the day of his discharge. No order of the board shall require the reinstatement of any individual as an employee who has been suspended or discharged, or the payment to him of any back pay, if it is found that the individual was suspended or discharged for cause. If the evidence is presented before a member of the board, or before an examiner, the member, or the examiner as the case may be, shall issue and cause to be served on the parties to the proceeding a proposed decision, together with a recommended order, which shall be filed with the board, and if no exceptions are filed within twenty (20) days after service thereof upon the parties, or within such further period as the board may authorize, the recommended order shall become the order of the board.

(3) Until the record in a proceeding has been filed in district court, the board at any time, upon reasonable notice and in such manner as it considers proper, may modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any finding or order made or issued by it.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1608. Petition for enforcement of board order—jurisdiction of district court—procedure—finding by board—review. (1) The board or the complaining party may petition for the enforcement of the order of the board and for appropriate temporary relief or a restraining order, and shall file in the district court, at its own expense, the record in the proceedings. Upon the filing of the petition, the district court shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding. Thereafter, the district court shall set the matter for hearing and shall order the party charged to be served with notice of hearing at least twenty (20) days before the date set for hearing. After the hearing the district court shall issue its order granting such temporary or permanent relief or restraining order as it considers just and proper, enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the board. No objection that has not been raised before the board shall be considered by the court, unless the failure or neglect to raise the objection is excused because of extraordinary circumstances. The findings of the board with respect to questions of fact, if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole, shall be conclusive. If either party applies to the court for leave to present additional evidence and shows to the satisfaction of the court that the additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to present it in the hearing before the board, the court may order the additional evidence to be taken before the board and to be made part of the record. The board may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of additional evidence so taken and filed, and it shall file the modifying or new findings with the district court. Any order of the district court shall be subject to review by the supreme court in accordance with rules of civil procedure.

(2) The commencement of proceedings under subsection (1) of this section shall not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the board's order.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1609. Representative of public employer. The chief executive officer of the state or political subdivision or chairman of the county commissioners, whether elected or appointed, or his designated authorized representative shall represent the public employer in collective bargaining with an exclusive representative.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1610. Execution of agreement—arbitration procedure—effect of agreement. (1) Any agreement reached by the public employer and the exclusive representative shall be reduced to writing and shall be executed by both parties.

(2) An agreement may contain a grievance procedure culminating in final and binding arbitration of unresolved grievances and disputed interpretations of agreements.

(3) An agreement between the public employer and a labor organization shall be valid and enforced under its terms when entered into in accordance with the provisions of this act and signed by the chief executive officer of the state or political subdivision or his representative. A publication of the agreement is not required to make it effective. The procedure for the making of an agreement between the state or political subdivision and a labor organization provided by this act is the exclusive method of making a valid agreement for public employees represented by a labor organization.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1611. Counsel for public parties to litigation. In any action brought under the provisions of this act in the courts of this state the public employer shall be represented by the attorney general or attorney of subdivision, and the board shall be represented by counsel hired to represent the board for purposes of that proceeding.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1612. Dues deducted from employee's pay. Upon written authorization of any public employee within a bargaining unit, the public employer shall deduct from the pay of the public employee the monthly amount of dues as certified by the secretary of the exclusive representative and shall deliver the dues to the treasurer of the exclusive representative.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1613. Subpoena powers of board—oaths—refusal to obey—rules. (1) To accomplish the objectives and to carry out the duties prescribed by this act, the board may subpoena witnesses and may administer oaths and affirmations.

(2) In cases of neglect or refusal to obey a subpoena issued to any person, the district court of the county in which the investigations or the public hearings are taking place, or the district court of the first judicial district of this state, upon application by the board, may issue an order requiring such person to appear before the board or agent to produce evidence or give testimony about the matter under investigation. Failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as contempt.

(3) Any subpoena, notice of hearing or other process or notice of the board issued under the provisions of this act shall be served as provided by the rules of civil procedure.

(4) The board shall adopt, amend, or rescind such rules it considers necessary and administratively feasible to carry out the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

59-1614. Mediation of disputes—fact-finding proceedings—arbitration. (1) If after a reasonable period of negotiation over the terms of an agreement, or upon expiration of an existing collective bargaining agreement, a dispute concerning the collective bargaining agreement exists between the public employer and a labor organization, the parties shall request mediation.

(2) If upon expiration of an existing collective bargaining agreement, or thirty (30) days following certification or recognition of an exclusive representative, a dispute concerning the collective bargaining agreement exists between the employer and the exclusive representative, either party may petition the board to initiate fact-finding.

(3) Within three (3) days of receipt of such petition the board shall submit to the parties a list of seven (7) qualified, disinterested persons from which list the parties shall alternate in striking three (3) names, and the remaining person shall be designated fact finder. This process shall be completed within five (5) days of receipt of the list. The parties shall notify the board of the designated fact finder.

(4) If no request for fact-finding is made by either party before the expiration of the agreement, or thirty (30) days following certification or recognition of an exclusive representative, the board may initiate fact-finding as provided for in (3) above.

(5) The fact finder shall immediately establish dates and place of hearings. Upon request of either party of the fact finder, the board shall issue subpoenas for hearings conducted by the fact finder. The fact finder may administer oaths. Upon completion of the hearings, but no later than twenty (20) days from the day of appointment, the fact finder shall make written findings of facts and recommendations for resolution of the dispute and shall serve such findings on the public employer and the exclusive representative. The fact finder may make this report public five (5) days after it is submitted to the parties. If the dispute is not resolved fifteen (15) days after the report is submitted to the parties, the report shall be made public.

(6) The public employer and the exclusive representative shall be the only proper parties to fact-finding proceedings.

(7) The cost of fact-finding proceedings shall be equally borne by the board and the parties concerned.

(8) Nothing in this section prohibits the fact finder from endeavoring to mediate the dispute in which he has been selected or appointed as fact finder.

(9) Nothing in this section prohibits the parties from voluntarily agreeing to submit any or all of the issues to final and binding arbitration, and if such agreement is reached the arbitration shall supersede the fact-finding procedures set forth in this section. An agreement to arbitrate, and the award issued in accordance with such agreement shall be enforceable in the same manner as is provided in this act for enforcement of collective bargaining agreements.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 441, L. 1973.

The commission, upon the application of persons owning leasehold interests underlying sixty per cent (60%) of the surface within the delineated area, shall hold a hearing to consider the need for the operation as a unit of one or more pools or parts thereof in a field, for pressure maintenance or secondary recovery purposes as to oil or oil and gas; or to increase ultimate recovery or to prevent waste of gas from pools or portions of pools where gas only is produced.

in the first paragraph relating to pressure maintenance and secondary recovery purposes; added "or to increase ultimate recovery or to prevent waste of gas from pools or portions of pools where gas only is produced" at the end of the first paragraph; and made minor changes in phraseology and style.

60-131.2. Commission order—criteria. The commission shall make an order providing for the unit operation of a pool or pools or part thereof if it determines, based on evidence presented at such hearing, that:

(1). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(2) The value of the estimated additional recovery of oil or gas less royalties or, as to gas pools only, the value of the economies to be effected exceeds the estimated additional cost incident to conducting such operations; and

(3). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 33, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 150, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "or, as to gas pools only, the value of the economies to be effected" in subdivision (2).

60-131.3. Terms and conditions of order—requirements. The order shall be upon terms and conditions that are just and reasonable and shall prescribe a plan for unit operations that shall include:

(1) A description of the pool or pools or parts thereof to be so operated, termed the unit area, but only so much of a pool as has reasonably been defined and determined by drilling operations to be productive of oil or gas may be included within the unit area. In the event the unit is formed solely for production of gas, no spacing unit on which is located a well producing or capable of producing gas on the effective date of this act, shall be included in the unit area without the written consent of the majority in interest of the working interest owners of such spacing unit and well.

(2) to (4). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(5) A provision providing how the costs of unit operations, including overhead and capital investments, shall be determined and charged to the separately owned tracts, including a provision for carrying or otherwise financing any owner who has not executed the proposed unit operating agreement and who elects to be carried or otherwise financed, allowing an interest charge of the then current prime rate plus two per cent (2%) for such service. Recovery of the money advanced, plus interest, shall be limited to, and only shall be recoverable from, such owners' share of production. Such recovery shall be as follows:

(a)(1) In the case of a field producing oil, or oil and gas, during the period of depletion of the remaining estimated primary reserves from the unit, only from the production that is in excess of such owners' average actual rate of production during the eighteen (18) months immediately preceding the effective date of the unit. For purposes of this subsection, the term "primary reserves" means the oil or gas which would be produced from the unitized pool or pools or a result of the natural energy therein and without the introduction of a secondary recovery program.

(2) During the period subsequent to the depletion of the remaining estimated primary reserves from the unit, from one hundred per cent (100%) of such owners' share of production.

(b) In the case of a field producing only gas, the recovery shall be from one hundred per cent (100%) of such owners' share of production.

(6). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(7) A provision whereby the unit operator, after having operated for a minimum period of two years, can be challenged by any other owner in the unit, and such challenging owner may succeed to the unit operations upon a showing that (a) he can operate more efficiently and economically than the present operator; (b) he is qualified and financially responsible; (c) a majority of the other owners, both in number and in percentage and exclusive of the challenged operator, approved such challenging owner becoming unit operator; and (d) the challenged operator does not initiate the conditions of operations of the challenging owner within sixty (60) days of the challenged operator's receipt of such conditions of operations.

(8) and (9). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

History: En: Sec. 3, Ch. 33, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 150. L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment added the second sentence to subdivision (1); redesignated former subdivisions (5)(a) and (5)(b) as subdivisions (5)(a)(1) and (5)(a)(2), respectively; inserted "In the case of a field producing oil, or oil and gas" at the beginning of subdivision (5)(a)(1); inserted a new subdivision (5) (b); and made minor changes in phraseology.

60-131.6. Units established by previous order may be included—manner of inclusion. The commission, by an order, may provide for the unit operation of a pool or pools or parts thereof that embrace a unit established by an order of the commission made prior to the effective date of this amendment to Title 60, chapter 1, Revised Codes of Montana. Such order, in providing for the allocation of unit production, shall first treat the unit area previously established as a single tract, and the portion of the unit production so allocated thereto shall then be allocated among the tracts included in such previously established unit area in the same proportions as those specified in the previous order. Any new owner whose interest by such order is added to the unit area and who becomes liable for his proportionate share of the costs of unit operations will not be liable for any unit operating costs incurred prior to such person's entry in the unit. At the time such interest is included in the unit, an equipment inventory will be made in order to charge such newly committed interest with its proportionate share of capital investment at its then value. An oil-in-storage inventory will be taken immediately prior to adding the newly committed interest.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "prior to the effective date" for "subsequent to the effective date" in the first sentence.

60-131.9. Property rights—operator's lien—perfection of lien. That portion of the unit production allocated to any tract, and the proceeds from the sale thereof, shall be the property and income of the several persons to whom, or to whose credit, the same are allocated or payable under the order providing for unit operations, except that the operator of the unit shall, subject to section 60-131.3, subdivision (5) (a) (1), have a first and prior lien upon each owner's oil and gas rights and his share of unitized production to secure the payment of such owner's proportionate part of developing and operating the unit area. Such lien may be perfected and enforced in the same manner as provided in Title 45, chapter 5, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, as amended. Upon demand by any owner of working interest in any tract to which gas has been allocated, the unit operator shall deliver such allocated share of gas to the owner in kind; but the operator and the other owners of interest shall not be required to bear the cost of providing additional facilities for the delivery of such gas.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment changed the reference in the first sentence to section 60-131.3 in accordance with the amendment of that section; and added the third sentence.

60-144. Owners shall make available to commission cores and cuttings. Any owner drilling a well for gas or oil shall make available to the commission at its field offices representative cores or chips, when available, and the cuttings from such well. Providing, however, that cores, chips or cuttings need not be so made available for a period of six (6) months following completion or abandonment of such wells. As pertains to the furnishing of cores, cuttings, or chips, the commission may, however, relieve the owner of any well of the obligation to furnish the same when in the opinion of the commission, the furnishing thereof would be unduly burdensome for such owner; provided, however, that such owner desiring relief must apply to and receive permission from the commission to not so furnish. The owner of any stratigraphic test well drilled for the purpose of obtaining lithologic information useful in potential oil and gas operations, as such well is defined by the commission's rules and regulations, shall within six (6) months from the date of the cessation of the drilling of such well, make available to the commission, complete sets of sample cuttings and representative cores or chips and well logs of such wells, which logs shall include among other information the size of casing used and the type and depth of water if any located, and such cuttings, cores, chips and logs shall be impounded and kept secure and confidential by the commission until such time that the commission shall desire to use the same; provided that the commission may not use such logs, chips, cores and cuttings from stratigraphic test wells until a period of three (3) years from the date of their impounding by the commission has elapsed unless the owner of such stratigraphic test well consents to their use by the commission prior to the expiration of the three (3) year period. The commission, during the period of impoundment for any cores, cuttings, chips, or logs from any stratigraphic test well, shall not give any person access to said cores, chips, cuttings or logs, and it shall not disclose any information relating thereto or derived therefrom. The commission shall require, and the owner of any stratigraphic test well shall furnish, prior to the commencement of drilling of such well, a good and sufficient surety bond, to be approved prior to the commencement of such drilling, conditioned upon the proper plugging of such well prior to abandonment, the amount of the said bond to be determined by the estimated depth as in the commission's rules and regulations provided for oil and gas wells, and, prior to abandonment, such wells shall be plugged by the owner thereof, or by the surety should the said owner be in default, such plugging to conform to the standards set down and determined by the commission.

(1) On leases on which wells are producing an average of twenty-five (25) barrels of crude petroleum per day, or less, an assessment not to exceed three-eighths of one cent (⅜¢) per barrel;

(2) On leases on which wells are producing an average of more than twenty-five (25) barrels of crude petroleum per day, an assessment not to exceed three-fourths of one cent (¾¢) per barrel;

(3) And, on wells producing, saving and marketing, storing, or exporting, natural gas, said operators and producers shall pay an assessment not to exceed two and one-half (2½) mills per ten thousand (10,000) cubic feet of natural gas where said gas is marketed for less than fifteen cents (15¢) per thousand (1,000) cubic feet and an assessment not to exceed five (5) mills per ten thousand (10,000) cubic feet of natural gas where said gas is marketed for fifteen cents (15¢) or more per thousand (1,000) cubic feet. Such payments shall be made during the time the oil and gas conservation commission is in existence. The commission shall by order, without prior notice and/or hearing, fix the amount of such assessments in the first instance and may, from time to time, without prior notice and/or hearing, reduce or increase the amount thereof as, in its judgment, the expenses chargeable against the oil and gas conservation fund may require; provided, however, that in no event shall the assessments fixed by the commission exceed the said limits hereinabove prescribed. The amounts of such assessments to be fixed by the commission in the first instance and from time to time as herein provided, shall be a percentage factor (not to exceed one hundred per cent (100%)) of the rates set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) above, and the same percentage factor shall be used and applied by the commission in fixing the amount of the assessment on each barrel of crude production and each ten thousand (10,000) cubic feet of natural gas mentioned in said subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) above. The producers of said crude petroleum and natural gas shall pay such assessments on each and every barrel of crude petroleum and each ten thousand (10,000) cubic feet of natural gas produced for themselves, as well as for others, including royalty holders, and said producers shall be reimbursed for such payments made on crude oil and natural gas produced for others in the same manner as they are reimbursed for net proceeds tax paid on crude petroleum or natural gas produced for others as provided for in section 84-6208.

For the purposes of this section, a "lease" shall mean that particularly described tract of land contained in a contract in writing, under seal, whereby a person having a legal estate in the land so described conveys a portion of his interest to another, in consideration of a certain rental or other recompense or consideration. Further, for the purposes of this section, leases owned or operated by one lessee which in whole or in part cover or affect an underground reservoir containing a common accumulation of crude petroleum oil or natural gas, or both, or which are encompassed within or affected by one particular unit agreement shall be considered as one lease relative to payments to be made under this section.

In addition to the above-mentioned privilege and license tax, any person, before commencing the drilling of any oil or gas well or stratigraphic test well or core hole, shall secure from the commission a drilling permit and shall pay to the commission therefor the following amounts: for each well whose estimated depth is thirty-five hundred (3500) feet or less, twenty-five dollars ($25.00); from thirty-five hundred and one (3501) feet to seven thousand (7,000) feet, seventy-five dollars ($75.00); seven thousand (7,000) feet and deeper, one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00).

64-207.1. Notice in writing to publisher of libelous or defamatory matter—opportunity to correct—defense and mitigation of damages. Before any civil action shall be commenced on account of any libelous or defamatory publication in any newspaper, magazine, periodical, radio or television station, or cable television system, the libeled person shall first give those alleged to be responsible or liable for the publication a reasonable opportunity to correct the libelous or defamatory matter. Such opportunity shall be given by notice in writing specifying the article and the statements therein which are claimed to be false and defamatory and a statement of what are claimed to be the true facts. The notice may also state the sources, if any, from which the true facts may be ascertained with definiteness and certainty. The first issue of a newspaper, magazine or periodical published after the expiration of one week from the receipt of such notice shall be within a reasonable time for correction. In the case of radio and television stations and cable television systems a broadcast made at the same time of day as the broadcast complained of and of at least equal duration, which is made within seven (7) days following receipt of such notice shall be within a reasonable time for correction. To the extent that the true facts are, with reasonable diligence, ascertainable with definiteness and certainty, only a retraction shall constitute a correction; otherwise the publication of the libeled person's statement of the true facts, or so much thereof as shall not be libelous of another, scurrilous, or otherwise improper for publication, published as his statement, shall constitute a correction within the meaning of this section. If it shall appear upon trial that the publication was made under honest mistake or misapprehension, then a correction, timely published, without comment, in a position and type as prominent as the alleged libel, or in a broadcast made at the same time of day as the broadcast complained of and of at least equal duration, shall constitute a defense against the recovery of any damages except actual damages, as well as being competent and material in mitigation of actual damages to the extent the correction published does so mitigate them.

Chapter 268, Laws of 1973, increased the fee specified in the proviso for a temporary license pending examination from two dollars to four dollars; and inserted "and the results are announced" at the end of that proviso.

In either event, such person must thereupon pay to the retirement system the amount which he and his employer would have contributed had he not been so excluded plus interest which would have accumulated thereon. All benefits payable thereafter to such person shall be the same as if such person had never filed an election not to be a member;

(7) persons directly appointed by the governor, who do not file with the board of administration an election in writing to become members;

(8) persons who are members of any other retirement or pension system supported wholly or in part by funds of the United States government, any state government or political subdivision thereof and who are receiving credit in such other system for service, it being the purpose of this section to prevent a person from receiving credit for the same service in two (2) retirement systems supported wholly or in part by public funds, and no person shall receive such credit under any circumstances; any member of the retirement system who, because of his employment by the state, shall be required to become a member of any such other systems, shall be considered solely for the purposes of making normal contributions as permanently separated from service; the accumulated contributions of any member who shall have died after becoming a member of such other system and before receiving said accumulated contributions, shall be paid to the beneficiary nominated by him to receive any death benefit payable under section 68-2301; employer contributions on the basis of compensation earned by members after the effective date of termination of membership herein because of the membership in such other system, shall be repaid to the employer; for the purpose of this section, persons receiving pensions, retirement allowances or other payments, from any source, on account of employment other than as an employee as defined in this act, shall not be considered, because of such receipt, members of any other retirement or pension system;

(2) by reason of voluntary service in said forces or on ships operated by or for the United States government; or

(3) by reason of direct assignment to the department of war or defense for duties pursuant to the national defense efforts where a leave of absence has been granted by the employer.

Any member so absent shall have the right to contribute to the retirement system, either during his period of absence or upon his return to service, at times and in the manner fixed by the board of administration, amounts equal to the contribution which would have been made by him to the system on the basis of his compensation at the commencement of his absence. If he does so contribute he shall receive credit for service for such time in the same manner as if he had not been absent from service. Whenever a member elects to continue his contributions the employer shall thereupon contribute an amount equal to what its employer contributions would have been had the member not been absent from service.

Any member so absent shall lose the right to contribute under this section if all of his accumulated normal contributions are refunded pursuant to section 68-1905.

To qualify this service he must contribute to the retirement fund the amount determined by the board to be due based on his compensation and normal contribution rate as of his eleventh year and as many succeeding years as are required to qualify this service with interest from the date he becomes eligible for this benefit to the date he so contributes. He may not qualify more of this service than he has state service in excess of ten (10) years.

History: En. 68-1606 by Sec. 11, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-1607. Qualification of service with contracting employer. Subject to the provisions of this section, any person who has service with a contracting employer which is not creditable service may convert all or a portion of such service to membership service by filing written notice thereof with the board of administration no later than July 1, 1975; provided that any such person who is not a member on July 1, 1974, may make such filing no later than one (1) year after subsequently becoming a member. In either event, such person must pay to the retirement system the sum of the amount which he and his employer would have contributed during the period of service so converted if the employer had then been a contracting employer and the interest which would have accumulated thereon to the time of such payment; provided, that the employer may pay the employer's portion including accrued interest. Payment may be made in one sum at the time of such filing or on an installment basis thereafter, except that failure to make installment payments of at least ten per cent (10%) of compensation in any payroll period thereafter shall forfeit such person's right to make any further installments.

Proper certification of such service must be furnished.

CHAPTER 17—CONTRACTS WITH POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS—ELECTIONS

Section

68-1702. Request by individual employee for employer to participate.
68-1703. Conversion of local or state retirement plan.
68-1704. Tax levy to meet employer's obligations.

68-1701. Contracts with political subdivisions—election—ballot. Any municipal corporation, county or public agency in the state may become a contracting employer and make all or specified groups of its employees members of the retirement system by a contract entered into between the board and the legislative body of said contracting employer, subject to the provisions of this act. The contract may include any provisions which are consistent with this act and necessary in the administration of the retirement system as it affects the contracting employer and its employees. The approval and termination of the contract shall be subject to the following provisions, in addition to the other provisions of this act.

(1) The legislative body of the contracting employer shall adopt a resolution giving notice of intention to approve the contract and containing a summary of the major provisions of the retirement system. The contract shall not be approved unless the employees proposed to be included in the retirement system adopt the proposal by a majority affirmative vote in a secret ballot. The ballot at such election shall include the summary of the retirement system as set forth in the resolution. The election shall be conducted as prescribed by the legislative body of the contracting employer. Approval of the contract shall be by ordinance adopted by the affirmative vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the members of the legislative body, not less than twenty (20) days after the adoption of the resolution or by an ordinance adopted by a majority vote of the electorate of the contracting employer voting thereon.

(2) The contract shall specify that all employees of the contracting employer or such groups of employees as agreed to between the board and the contracting employer shall become members. The groups of employees to be included shall be by departments, duties, age or other similar classifications and not by individual employees. The board shall have the right to disapprove any classification into groups if in its opinion said classification affects adversely the interest of the retirement system. Membership in the retirement system shall be compulsory for all employees included under the contract.

(3) The contract may be amended in the manner prescribed in this section for the original approval of contracts. Groups of excluded employees may be subsequently included by amendment.

History: En. 68-1701 by Sec. 14, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

Within thirty (30) days after receipt of such written request, the legislative body shall thereupon adopt the resolution of intention and take such action as provided for in section 68-1701.

History: En. 68-1702 by Sec. 15, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

Should the legislative body of any city, county or public agency having an existing retirement, pension or annuity fund or system, hereafter referred to as the local system, desire to make the members of the local system members of the public employees' retirement system, it may enter into a contract for that purpose with the board of administration in the manner provided in section 68-1701 provided, however, that the employees voting as provided in subsection (1) of section 68-1701 shall be limited to active members of the local system and approval shall require an affirmative vote of two-thirds (2/3) of such employees.

All active members of the local system shall become members of the retirement system and shall no longer be members of the local system. The pensions being paid to pensioners or annuitants of the local system on the effective date of the contract shall be continued and paid at their existing rates by the public employees' retirement system. The liability for such pensions shall be computed by the actuary and charged to the contracting employer. All cash and securities held by the local system shall be transferred to the retirement system as of the effective date of the contract and credited to the employer. The value of said securities shall be determined by the board of administration.

The trustees or other administrative head of the local system as of the effective date of the contract shall certify the proportion, if any, of the funds of the system that represents the accumulated contributions of the active members, and the relative shares of the members as of that date. Such shares shall be charged to the employer and credited to the respective individual accounts of such members in the public employees' retirement system and administered as if said contributions had been made during membership in the retirement system. Any excess of employer credits over charges under this section will be offset, with interest, against future required employer contributions. Any excess of employer charges over credits under this section shall be payable by the contracting employer, with interest, on a monthly basis as specified in the contract.

68-1704. Tax levy to meet employer's obligations. If the contributions required to the retirement system exceed the funds available to a contracting employer from general revenue sources, the contracting employer shall have authority to budget, levy and collect annually a special tax upon the assessable property of the contracting employer in the number of cents per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessable property as will be sufficient to raise the amount estimated by the legislative body to be required to provide sufficient revenue to meet the obligation of the contracting employer to the retirement system. The rate of taxation may be in addition to the annual rate of taxation allowed by law to be levied by the contracting employer. Any person who is a member or beneficiary of the retirement system on account of the participation of the contracting employer shall have the right to maintain the appropriate action or proceeding to require performance of the duty imposed on the legislative body by this section.

Incapacity Not Result of Employment

District court improperly reversed decision of board which refused relator's claim for an occupational disability retirement allowance based upon job-related disability caused by adverse working conditions and granted relator ordinary disability retirement allowance since district court substituted its judgment for that of board and since "disease" as used in former section 68-901, did not include "personality disorders, anxiety reactions, or difficulties in getting along with one's superiors or fellow workers." State ex rel. Bailey v. Grande, 154 M 437, 465 P 2d 334.

68-2102. Application for disability retirement allowance. The board shall grant a retirement allowance to any member who has fulfilled the eligibility requirements of section 68-2101 and duly filed the appropriate written application. An application may be filed on a member's behalf by the head of the office or department in which the member is or was last employed or by any other person on behalf of the member, or the board upon its own motion may make the application. Application must be made within four (4) full months after the member's discontinuance of service unless the member is disabled continuously from the date of discontinuance of service to the date of the application.

The retirement allowance payable to a member who has become disabled shall commence on the day following the member's last day of membership service.

History: En. 68-2102 by Sec. 35, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2103. Annual allowance for duty-related disability—reduction for workmen's compensation. The annual amount of retirement allowance payable to a member eligible for disability retirement for duty-related reasons is fifty per cent (50%) of his final compensation; provided, however, that the annual amount of retirement allowance shall be twenty-five per cent (25%) of final compensation for any period during which the member has been awarded compensation by the workmen's compensation division, whether or not such compensation is received in periodic payments or in a lump sum; provided further, that the annual amount of retirement allowance shall revert to fifty per cent (50%) of final compensation at the end of such period.

68-2104. Annual allowance for nonduty-related disability—reduction for misconduct. The annual amount of retirement allowance payable to a member eligible for disability retirement for other than duty-related reasons is the sum of (1), (2) and (3) as follows:

(1) an annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated additional contributions on the day his retirement allowance commences;

(2) an annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated normal contributions with normal interest to the day his retirement allowance commences;

(3) if, in the opinion of the board, the disability is not due to intemperance, willful misconduct or violation of law on the part of the member, a pension which is the lesser of (a) or (b) as follows:

(a) a pension which, together with the annuity provided under (2), shall make the retirement allowance equal to ninety per cent (90%) of one sixty-fifth (1/65) of his final compensation multiplied by his years of creditable service;

(b) a pension equal to twenty-five per cent (25%) of his final compensation.

History: En. 68-2104 by Sec. 37, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

CHAPTER 22—REDUCTION OR CANCELLATION OF ALLOWANCE

Section

68-2203. Optional retirement allowance.

68-2201. Medical examination of disability retiree—cancellation and reinstatement if retiree capable—refund of contributions. (1) The board may, at its pleasure, require the recipient of a retirement allowance because of disability to undergo medical examination. The examination shall be made by a physician or surgeon appointed by the board, at the place of residence of the recipient or another place mutually agreed upon. Upon the basis of the examination the board shall determine whether said recipient is unable, by reason of physical or mental incapacity, to perform either the duties of the position held by him when he was retired or the duties proposed to be assigned to him. If the board determines that said recipient is not so incapacitated or if the recipient refuses to submit to medical examination, his retirement allowance shall be canceled.

(2) Any person whose retirement allowance is so canceled shall be reinstated to the position held by him immediately before his retirement or to a position in the same classification with duties within his capacity, if he had been an employee of the state or of the university. If he had been an employee of a contracting employer, the board shall notify the proper official of the contracting employer that the retirement allowance has been canceled and that the former employee is eligible for reinstatement to duty. The fact that he was retired for disability shall not prejudice any right to reinstatement to duty which he may have or claim to have.

(3) If any person whose retirement allowance is so canceled is not re-employed in a position subject to the retirement system, his service shall be deemed to be discontinued coincident with his retirement allowance for the purposes of section 68-1905.

History: En. 68-2201 by Sec. 38, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2202. Disability allowance reduced by earnings. Should the recipient of a retirement allowance because of disability engage in a gainful occupation during any month other than as an employee as defined in section 68-1503, the amount of his pension for that month shall be reduced to an amount which, when added to the compensation earned by him in that occupation, shall not exceed the amount of his monthly compensation at the time of his retirement.

History: En. 68-2202 by Sec. 39, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2203. Optional retirement allowance. (1) The retirement allowance of a member who so elects shall be converted, in lieu of all other benefits under this act, into an optional retirement allowance which is the actuarial equivalent of such other allowance. The optional retirement allowance is a reduced amount payable during the member's lifetime with a subsequent benefit as follows:

(a) Option 1—a death benefit to the member's beneficiary equal to the excess, if any, of the member's accumulated contributions with regular interest to the day his retirement allowance commenced over the total of his retirement allowance payments.

(b) Option 2—a continuation of the reduced retirement allowance during the lifetime of his named contingent annuitant.

(c) Option 3—a continuation of one-half (½) of the reduced retirement allowance during the lifetime of his named contingent annuitant.

(d) Option 4—an actuarial equivalent benefit based on the life of a single designated beneficiary.

(e) Option 5—such other actuarially equivalent benefit as shall be approved by the board.

(2) Election of any optional retirement allowance shall be by written application filed prior to the first payment of the regular retirement allowance. The contingent annuitant named by the member must have an insurable interest in the life of the member.

(3) If either the member or his contingent annuitant should die before the member has received the first payment under option 2 or 3, the election of such option shall automatically be canceled.

(4) If a member dies after retirement and within thirty (30) days from the date his election or changed election of an optional retirement allowance is received by the board, then said election is void and of no effect, and the death shall be considered as that of a member before retirement.

History: En. 68-2203 by Sec. 40, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2204. Cancellation of retirement allowance upon re-employment. Any person receiving a retirement allowance who becomes an employee shall be considered reinstated from retirement and his retirement allowance shall be canceled. Upon subsequent retirement he shall be entitled to receive a recalculated benefit as provided in section 68-2003. Such recalculated benefit shall be based on his creditable service accumulated at the time of his previous retirement plus any creditable service accumulated subsequent to his re-employment. Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, he shall receive the benefit of provisions enacted subsequent to his initial retirement only if he accrues at least two (2) years of creditable service subsequent to his reinstatement and then only with respect to such creditable service.

68-2302. Amount of death benefit. The amount of death benefit is the sum of (1) and (2), as follows:

(1) the member's accumulated contributions, together with regular interest on the accumulated normal contributions to the date of the member's death;

(2) an amount equal to one-twelfth (1/12) of the compensation received by the member during the last twelve (12) months of such compensation multiplied by the smaller of six (6) or the number of years of his creditable service; provided, however, that this portion of the death benefit is not payable if the board receives a certification from the workmen's compensation division of the state of Montana that it is paying compensation because the member's death resulted from injury or disease arising out of or in the course of employment.

68-2303. Election of optional death benefit by beneficiary. A member or his beneficiary after his death may elect to have the death benefit paid in an actuarially equivalent form subject to such rules and regulations as the board may adopt. (2) the beneficiary is a natural person of legal age with an insurable interest in the deceased at the time of his death;

(3) the beneficiary elects the survivorship allowance within ninety (90) days of receipt of notice from the board that he is eligible to receive the death benefit. Election shall be by written application.

History: En. 68-2304 by Sec. 45, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2305. Amount of survivorship allowance. The annual amount of survivorship allowance payable to a member's beneficiary shall be the same as the optional retirement allowance would have been if the member had retired immediately prior to his death after having elected an option 4 retirement allowance with the beneficiary as the contingent annuitant.

History: En. 68-2305 by Sec. 46, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

CHAPTER 24—BENEFICIARIES

Section
68-2401. Designation of beneficiary—effect of no designation.
68-2402. Minor beneficiaries—small amounts paid to custodian.

68-2401. Designation of beneficiary—effect of no designation. (1) The beneficiary of a member shall be such person as the member shall so designate in the appropriate written application. A member may revoke such designation and name a different beneficiary by filing a revised written instrument with the board. If no living beneficiary is designated, the estate of the member shall be the beneficiary. If the estate would not be probated but for the amount due from the retirement system, all of the amount due, including retirement allowances accrued but not received prior to death, shall be paid directly without probate to the surviving next of kin of the deceased, or the guardians of said survivor's estate, share and share alike, payment to be made in the same order in which the following groups are listed:

(a) husband or wife, or
(b) children, or
(c) father and mother, or
(d) grandchildren, or
(e) brothers and sisters, or
(f) nieces and nephews.

(2) No payment shall be made to persons included in any of said groups if at the date of payment there be living persons in any of the groups preceding it, as listed. Payment shall be made upon receipt from said persons of an affidavit, upon a form supplied by the retirement board, that there are no living individuals in the groups preceding it and that the estate of the deceased will not be probated. The payment shall be in full and complete discharge and acquittance of the board and system on account of said death.

(3) If a member's beneficiary cannot be found within ninety (90) days of the member's death or if the estate of the member is his beneficiary, the board in its discretion may pay all or a portion of the death benefit to the undertaker who conducted the funeral of the member or to any person or organization who paid the undertaker; provided, however, the amount so paid by the board shall not exceed the funeral expenses or the portion of such expenses paid by the person or organization respectively, all as evidenced by the sworn itemized statement of the undertaker and by other documents the board may require. The payment shall be in full and complete discharge and acquittance of the board and system up to the amount so paid, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

The payment shall be in full and complete discharge and acquittance of the board and system on account of said benefit. The person shall account to the minor for the money when the minor reaches the age of majority.

If payments of at least twenty dollars ($20) per year are not so payable, the payment may be commuted into a single sum. A smaller pro rata amount may be paid for part of a month when the retirement allowance begins after the first day of the month or ends before the last day of the month.

History: En. 68-2503 by Sec. 51, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2504. Employer contribution rates—actuarial determination. (1) Each employer shall contribute to the cost of benefits under the system. The amount of the employer contributions shall be computed by applying to member's compensation the sum of the current service contribution rate and the unfunded liability contribution rate. The sum of these rates shall be four and six-tenths per cent (4.6%) from July 1, 1973, to June 30, 1975, and four and nine-tenths per cent (4.9%) from July 1, 1975, and thereafter.

(2) The actuary shall determine the current service contribution rate to be that level percentage of the present value of the future compensation of the average new member entering the system which equals the then present value of the excess of all prospective benefits in respect of such member over the member's own normal contributions.

(3) The actuary shall determine the minimum unfunded liability contribution rate to be that level percentage of the present value of the prospective compensation of all members for the forty (40) year period following the date of the determination which is equal to the unfunded liability on that date. The unfunded liability at any time is the excess of the present value of all future benefits payable in respect of all persons then entitled to benefits under the system over the sum of the retirement fund and the present values of the future current service contributions and normal contributions payable in respect of all such persons.

The state auditor shall thereupon draw a warrant upon the state treasurer for such contributions. The warrant shall be drawn to the credit of the retirement fund on the funds appropriated to that unit.

(2) Every state employer shall include in his budget and request for legislative appropriations an amount necessary to defray the state's part of the costs of this act for employees in their respective departments, and to the end that the legislature may make definite appropriation for the cost incurred by each employer whose employees are within the retirement system created by this act.

68-2506. Transfers between funds. Any fund out of which payments are made under the provisions of this act may be reimbursed to the extent of such payments by transfer of a sufficient sum for such reimbursement from another fund or funds under the control of the same disbursing officer. The disbursing officer shall certify to the state auditor amount or amounts to be thus transferred, the fund or funds from and to which the transfer is to be made, and the auditor shall thereupon make the transfer as directed in the certificate.

68-2509. Adjustment of errors in payments. If more or less than the correct amount of contribution required by this act of a member, the state or a contracting employer is or has been paid, proper adjustment shall be made in connection with the subsequent payments, or such adjustments may be made by direct cash payments between the member, state or contracting employer in connection with whom the error was made, and the board. Adjustments to correct any other errors in payments to or by the board of administration may be made in the same manner.

68-2510. Federally subsidized employees eligible—national guardsmen. (2) Upon transfer of a person from being an employee under one system to being an employee in the other, there shall be transferred service credits, both prior and membership, as have not been forfeited by withdrawal, unless the forfeited credits shall have been reinstated as provided by law. The amounts transferred shall be determined by the boards of the systems by mutual agreement and be certified by the system from which the employee transfers. Any person who is concurrently employed by employers under both systems shall be entitled to establish credits or equities in each of the systems in accordance with and to the extent set forth in this act.

(3) Eligibility of any such person for a retirement allowance, death benefit or refund of contributions shall be governed by the provisions of the act creating the system to which the person last made contributions based upon the entire length of service for which he shall have been granted credit under both systems.

History: En. 68-2511 by Sec. 59, Ch. 323, L. 1973.

68-2512. Reports by employers on status of employees. The chief administrative officer of each employer shall furnish monthly reports to the board of administration showing any changes in status during the preceding month of the employer's members resulting from transfer, promotion, leave of absence, resignation, reinstatement, dismissal or death. The chief administrative officer shall furnish such additional information concerning the members as the board may require in the administration of the retirement system, including such services of the employer's office and departments as the board may request in connection with claims by members for benefits under the system.

(3) Effective July 1, 1973, every survivorship annuity then payable to a member's beneficiary shall be increased by a percentage equal to the lesser of one-half (1/2) of the percentage increase in the index for 1972 from the index for the calendar year 1970 or for the index for 1972 from the index for the calendar year preceding the date of death of the deceased member.

(1) There is hereby created to advise the industrial accident board an advisory committee which shall hereafter be referred to as the committee, consisting of three (3) members who shall be appointed by the governor, one for two (2) years, one for three (3) years and one for four (4) years. At the expiration of their respective terms or when vacancies occur they or their successors identified with the same interest respectively shall be appointed by the governor for terms of four (4) years each. Of these appointed members one (1) shall be a Montana first class steam licensed operating engineer of boilers employed in that capacity at the time of his appointment, one (1) shall be commissioned by the national board of boilers and pressure vessels inspectors and shall represent the boiler insurance companies licensed to do business in the state, and one (1) shall be a Montana registered professional mechanical engineer. The committee shall elect one (1) of its members as chairman and shall meet whenever required.

The members of the committee shall serve without salary but shall receive actual travel expenses in the same manner as other state officers.

The committee shall act in a technical advisory capacity to the industrial accident board and shall formulate definitions, rules and regulations for the safe construction, installation, operation, inspection and repair of equipment covered by this act. The definitions, rules and regulations so formulated shall follow generally accepted nationwide engineering standards as published by the American society of mechanical engineers.

(2) Appointment, term and compensation of boiler inspectors. The industrial accident board shall appoint state inspectors of boilers and shall prescribe their duties, term of office and fix their compensation.

In addition to the state boiler inspectors the industrial accident board shall issue to the inspectors of boiler insurance companies authorized to do business in the state, commissions, certificates or other recognition as special boiler inspectors and shall accept the inspection reports of such special inspectors as equivalent to those of the state inspectors, provided that each such special inspector shall hold a certificate as boiler inspector issued by the national board of boiler and pressure vessels inspectors. 69-1502. (2713) Qualifications of boiler inspectors. No person is eligible to hold the office of inspector of boilers and steam engines who has not had at least ten years of actual experience in the operation of steam engines, steam boilers, and steam machinery, and who has not held for at least three (3) years immediately preceding his appointment a first-class stationary engineer's license of the state of Montana, or who is directly or indirectly interested in the manufacture or sale of boilers or steam machinery, or any patented article required to be sold relating thereto.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment reduced the stationary engineer's license requirement from five years to three years.

69-1503. (2714) Inspection of boilers—boiler installations. (1) The inspector of boilers must inspect all boilers and steam generators before the same are used, and all persons who bring into this state, for operation in this state, any boiler or boilers must notify the board stating the number and kind of boilers, and where they are to be located and operated in this state, and must secure from the board a certificate of inspection before said boilers are placed in operation, except in the case of new boilers, which must be inspected within ninety (90) days after they are put in use, and all boilers must be inspected at least once in every year, except boilers exempt under provisions of section 69-1515. Upon written application, longer inspection intervals may be authorized by the board. Any owner, operator or user who opens a boiler or boilers between inspections for repair or other reasons must notify the board of such action and such boiler or boilers shall at the discretion of the board be inspected by the state or special boiler inspector before the boiler or boilers may be placed back in operation. Any person failing to give notice to the board as herein provided, or who operates such boilers without a certificate from the board, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty (30) nor more than ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) When necessary, the boiler inspector shall subject boilers, except those exempted by 69-1515, to hydrostatic pressure, which hydrostatic pressure shall not exceed one hundred fifty per cent (150%) of the steam pressure allowed on the boilers, providing there are no such leaks on such boilers which prevent the inspector from applying such hydrostatic pressure. And the inspector must satisfy himself by a thorough interior and exterior examination that the boilers are well-made and of good and suitable material; that the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat, are of the proper dimensions and free from obstructions; that the flues are circular in shape; that the fire line of the furnace is at least two (2) inches below prescribed minimum water line of the boilers; that the arrangements for delivering the feed water are such that the boilers cannot be injured thereby, and that such boilers and the steam connections may be safely employed without danger to life.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "all boilers" for "all steam boilers" near the beginning of subsection (1); inserted "for operation in this state" in the first sentence of subsection (1); substituted "board" for "boiler inspector" in four places in subsection (1); deleted "where they had heretofore been located" following "number and kind of boilers" in the first sentence of subsection (1); inserted new second and third sentences in subsection (1); inserted "When necessary" at the beginning of subsection (2); increased the hydrostatic pressure testing requirement specified in the first sentence of subsection (2) from 133⅓% to 150%; and made minor changes in phraseology.

69-1504. (2715) Inspection of boilers—further requirements in making inspection. (1) The inspector must also satisfy himself that the safety valves are of suitable relieving capacity ratings, sufficient in number and area, and properly arranged, and that the safety-valves are properly adjusted so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspection certificate; that there are a sufficient number of gauge cocks properly inserted to indicate the amount of water, and suitable gauges that will correctly record the pressure of steam; and adequate and certain provisions for an ample supply of water to feed the boilers at all times, and that suitable means for blowing out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers when they are under pressure of steam, and any renter, user, or owner of a boiler, or any person or persons who tamper with the safety valve to allow the boiler to carry greater pressure than is allowed by the inspection certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2) Where a boiler is constructed with lap horizontal seams on boiler, dome, or drum, a factor of four and one-half shall be used in determining the safe working pressure allowed on such boiler. But where the boilers are constructed with butt-strap horizontal seams, a factor of four may be used in determining such safe working pressure. If boiler rests on side wall on lugs, or is hung by I-beams, or is in any way set up so that the weight of the boiler is pulling against the horizontal seam of rivets, a factor of five must be used to determine the safe working pressure allowed on boiler. Where the horizontal lap seams of boiler are exposed to the fire, a factor of five must be used to determine the safe working pressure to be allowed on such boiler. On stay bolts, if new, seven thousand five hundred pounds pressure per square inch shall be allowed. If such stay bolts are corroded or defective, the inspector must determine the pressure to be allowed on same. On braces made of solid material, eight thousand pounds pressure per square inch shall be allowed. On welded braces or braces with only one crow-foot, six thousand pounds pressure per square inch shall be allowed. No cast iron shall be used in the construction or reinforcements of any boiler where the pressure allowed on said boiler is more than one hundred pounds per square inch.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "suitable relieving capacity ratings" for "suitable dimension" near the beginning of subsection (1); substituted "safety valves are properly adjusted" for "safety-valve weights are properly adjusted" in subsection (1); deleted a second paragraph of subsection (1), for text of which see parent volume; and deleted from subsection (2) a third sentence reading "But in any case the inspector may use a higher factor if the conditions are such as to warrant it."

69-1505. (2716) Inspection of boilers—material to be used. No boiler or steam pipe, nor any of the connections thereto, shall be approved which is made in whole or in part of bad material, or is unsafe from any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of any boiler or steam generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the inspector has satisfactory evidence that such boiler or steam generator is equal in strength to and as safe from explosion as boilers of the best quality, constructed of iron or steel plates.

History: En. Sec. 556, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1645, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 2716, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 225, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "shall be approved" for "must be approved" in the first sentence.

69-1507. (2718) Duty of owner to permit inspection—board action—costs and expenses. It is the duty of the owners, engineers, or managers of steam or water boilers to allow the inspector free access to the same. In case the owner, operators, or manager of any boiler is notified by the inspector to have said boiler ready for inspection on a certain day, and fails to have such boiler ready for inspection at such time, the inspector shall notify the board to gain access to said boiler. Any person failing to immediately comply with board directed access to said boiler shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than two months nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The owner, engineer or manager of any boiler who has refused access resulting in a board order must pay all transportation and hotel expenses of the inspector who makes the inspection directed by such order, in addition to the inspection fee provided by law. It shall be the duty of the engineer operating any boiler or boilers to assist the inspectors in their examination of the same, and point out any defects known to him in the boilers or machinery under his charge. Any engineer not complying with this section shall have his license revoked or suspended.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "engineers" and the reference to water boilers in the first sentence; inserted "operators" in the second sentence; substituted "shall notify the board to gain access to said boiler" at the end of the second sentence for "shall at once seal up the firebox in such boiler, and such seal must not be removed from the firedoor without a written order from the inspector"; substituted "failing to immediately comply with board directed access to said boiler" in the third sentence for "tampering with or removing said seal"; substituted "The owner, engineer or manager of any boiler who has refused access resulting in a board order must pay" at the beginning of the fourth sentence for "If the owner or manager of any boiler that has been so sealed desires to have the same inspected before the next regular visit of the inspector to the district where said boiler is situated, he must pay"; inserted "directed by such order" near the end of the fourth sentence; and made minor changes in phraseology.

69-1508. (2719) Licenses required—penalty for operating without license. No person shall be granted a license to operate steam or water boilers and steam machinery under the provisions of this article, who has not met the qualifications for licensing and found to be competent by examination to perform the duties of an engineer, and received a license so to act. Any person who operates any boiler or steam engine without first obtaining a license is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An act to establish uniform construction standards in mobile homes.

(a) Mobile homes and recreational vehicles, because of the manner of their construction, assembly and use and that of their systems, components and appliances (including heating, plumbing and electrical systems) like other finished products having concealed vital parts may present hazards to the health, life and safety of persons and to the safety of property unless properly manufactured. In the sale of mobile homes and recreational vehicles, there is also the possibility of defects not readily ascertainable when inspected by purchasers. It is the policy and purpose of this state to provide protection to the public against those possible hazards, and for that purpose to forbid the manufacture and sale of new mobile homes and recreational vehicles which are not so constructed as to provide reasonable safety and protection to their owners and users.

69-2123. Compliance with the council's rules. No person, firm or corporation may manufacture, sell, or offer for sale any mobile home or recreational vehicle which has been constructed more than twelve (12) months after the effective date of this act, unless such mobile home or recreational vehicle, its components, systems and appliances have been constructed and assembled in accordance with the standards herein defined. Any mobile-home or recreational-vehicle unit which has been approved by the council shall be deemed to be in full compliance with the standards and rules and regulations prescribed in this act. All mobile home or recreational vehicle units thus approved shall be acceptable as meeting the requirements of this act throughout the state of Montana without further inspection or fees except for zoning, utility connections and foundation permits required by local ordinance.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 348, L. 1971.

69-2124. Fees. The council shall establish a schedule of fees for the inspection of plans and specifications for mobile homes or recreational vehicles and for the inspection of individual units. The council may utilize independent testing laboratories or the agencies of other states to determine if approved models of mobile homes or recreational vehicles are being constructed in accordance with the approved plans and specifications for said models.

69-2204. Immunity of blood banks. No blood bank may be held liable in the absence of fault or negligence for injuries resulting from the injecting or transfusing of whole blood, plasma, blood products, or blood derivatives supplied by any such blood bank to any hospital or physician if such blood products so furnished have been tested by the latest testing procedures in accordance with recommendations of the American association of blood banks and by such test is not found to be dangerous to the health of the recipient of such blood products.

CHAPTER 33—GEOPHYSICAL EXPLORATION

Sealing of Shot Holes

Sealing "shot" holes by pouring excess cuttings down them and plugging the orifice with an aluminum plug by forcing it down into the hole so that the top of the plug was below plow depth, was in compliance with this section when the holes were only four and one-half inches in diameter in view of expert testimony that seismographic holes tend to slough and cave, releasing lateral support from materials around the hole and that the pressure from the weight of the earth above has a tendency to force the material toward the center, sealing the hole. This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 391, and once by Ch. 514. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 391, Laws of 1973, deleted "except for section 69-3504, in which section the word 'board' shall mean the board of equalization of the state of Montana" from the end of subdivision (7).

Chapter 514, Laws of 1973 abolished the distinction in subsection (1) between the definitions of "vessel" for the purposes of registration and for purposes of safety regulations; deleted from subsection (1) a definition for purposes of registration by incorporation of section 3 of Public Law 85-911; made the phrase "unless otherwise defined by the fish and game commission of the state of Montana" applicable for all purposes in subsection (1); inserted the references to motors and engines and the phrase "including boats temporarily equipped with detachable motors or engines" in subsection (2); substituted "U. No person shall operate or give permission for the operation of any motorboat on such waters unless the motorboat is numbered and displays valid license decals in accordance with this act, in accordance with applicable federal law, or in accordance with a federally approved numbering system of another state, unless (1) the certificate of number awarded to such motorboat is in full force and effect, and (2) the identifying number set forth in the certificate of number and the valid license decals are displayed on such motorboat.

The 1973 amendment deleted "or vessel" following "motorboat" throughout the section; substituted "motor or engine of any description" for "machinery" in the first sentence; inserted "properly" near the end of the first sentence; and inserted references to display of license decals in the first and second sentences.

69-3504. Identification number. (a) The owner of each motorboat requiring numbering by this state shall file an application for number with the state department of revenue or its designated representative, on forms approved by the state department of revenue. The application shall be signed by the owner of the motorboat and shall be accompanied by a fee of one ($1) dollar. Any alteration, change or false statement contained in the application for certificate of registration will render the certificate of number null and void. Upon receipt of the application in approved form and certificate hereinabove referred to, the state department of revenue shall enter the same upon the records of its office and issue to the applicant a certificate of number stating the number awarded to the motorboat and the name and address of the owner. The number awarded must be painted on or attached to each outboard side of the forward half of the motorboat, or if there are no such sides, at a corresponding location on both outboard sides of the foredeck of the motorboat for which it is issued. The number awarded shall read from left to right, in Arabic numerals, in block characters of good proportion, a minimum of three (3) inches in height, excluding border or trim, and of a color which shall contrast with the color of the background, and so maintained as to be clearly visible and legible. The number shall not be placed on the obscured underside of the flared bow where the angle is such that the numbers cannot be easily seen from another vessel or ashore. No numerals, letters or devices other than those used in connection with the identifying number issued shall be placed in the proximity of the identifying number, and no numerals, letters or devices which might interfere with the ready identification of the motorboat by its identifying number shall be carried as to interfere with the motorboat's identification. The certificate of number shall be pocket size and shall be available to federal, state or local law enforcement officers at all reasonable times for inspection on the motorboat for which issued, whenever the motorboat is on waters of this state, except boat liveries are not required to have the certificate of number on board each motorboat, except that a rental agreement must be carried on board livery motorboats in place of the certificate of number.

(b) The numbering requirements of this act shall apply to motorboats operated by dealers, manufacturers or their employees as follows:

(1) A dealer or manufacturer may apply directly to the board for one (1) identifying number and one (1) or more certificates of number. A dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number shall be displayed on a dealer's or manufacturer's boat while the boat is operating for a purpose related to the buying, selling, or exchanging of the boat by the dealer.

(2) The application for a dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number shall include the name of the dealer or manufacturer and the business address of the dealer or manufacturer. Each dealer or manufacturer shall have one (1) identifying number assigned to his business.

(3) An application for dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number and certificate of number shall be accompanied by the following fees:

(A) for the identifying number, first certificate of number, and set of license decals, five dollars ($5);

(B) for each additional certificate of number and set of license decals applied for in any application, two dollars ($2).

(4) The board shall issue certificates of number for identifying number awarded to a dealer or manufacturer in the same manner as provided in section 69-3504 (a), except that no boat shall be described in the certificate and each certificate shall state that the identifying number has been awarded to a dealer or manufacturer. A dealer's or manufacturer's certificate of number expires on April 30 of the year for which it is issued.

(5) A dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number shall be displayed in the same manner as provided in section 69-3504 (a) of this act, except that the number may be temporarily attached, and that the last three (3) letters shall be "DLR" for dealer and "MFR" for manufacturer; these letters shall be included, respectively, in dealer or manufacturer identification numbers only.

(6) No person other than a dealer or manufacturer or an employee of a dealer or manufacturer shall display or use a dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number. A dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number may be displayed only on motorboats owned by the dealer or manufacturer.

(7) No dealer or manufacturer or employee of a dealer or manufacturer shall use a dealer's or manufacturer's identifying number for any purpose other than the purpose described in subsection (1) of this section.

(c) The owner of any motorboat already covered by a number in full force and effect, which has been awarded to it pursuant to then operative federal law or a federally approved numbering system of another state, shall record the number prior to operating the motorboat on the waters of this state in excess of the sixty (60) day reciprocity period provided for in section 69-3506(1) of this act. Such recordation shall be in the manner and pursuant to the procedure required for the award of number under subsection (a) of this section.

(d) Should the ownership of a motorboat change, within a reasonable time a new application form with fee shall be filed with the state department of revenue and a new certificate of number shall be awarded in the same manner as provided for in an original award of number, provided further that the number assigned may be determined by the state department of revenue.

(e) If an agency of the United States government has in force an over-all system of identification numbering for motorboats in the United States, the numbering system employed pursuant to this act by the board shall be in conformity therewith.

(f) The state department of revenue may award any certificate of number directly or may authorize any person to act as agent for the awarding thereof. If a person accepts the authorization, he may be assigned a block of numbers and certificates therefor which upon award, in conformity with this act and with any rules of the board shall be valid as if awarded directly by the state department of revenue.

(g) All records of the state department of revenue made or kept under this act shall be public records. The state department of revenue shall submit to the department of law enforcement and public safety, correct copies of all certificates of number issued under this act; and the department of law enforcement and public safety shall make these records immediately available to all law enforcement offices of this state.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4215. Enforcement. (1) Whenever the director has reason to believe that a violation of any provision of this act or rule made pursuant thereto has occurred, he may cause written notice to be served upon the alleged violator or violators, and the facts alleged to constitute a violation thereof, and may include an order to take necessary corrective action within a reasonable period of time stated in the order. Any such order shall become final unless, no later than thirty (30) days after the date of notice is received, the person or persons named therein request in writing a hearing before the board. Upon receipt of such a request, the board shall hold a hearing.

(2) If, after a hearing held pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the board finds that a violation or violations have occurred, it shall either affirm or modify any order previously issued, or issue an appropriate order or orders for the prevention, abatement, or control of the emissions involved or for the taking of such other corrective action as it may deem appropriate. If, after hearing on an order contained in a notice, the board finds that no violation is occurring, it shall rescind the order. Any order issued as part of a notice or after hearing may prescribe the date or dates by which the violation or violations shall cease and may prescribe time limits for particular action in preventing, abating, or controlling the pollutant.

(3) In lieu of issuing the order provided for in subsection (1) of this section, the board may either:

(a) Require that the alleged violator or violators appear before it for a hearing at a time and place specified in a notice, and answer the charges complained of; or

(b) Initiate action pursuant to section 16 [69-4221] of this act.

(4) Nothing in this act shall prevent the board from making efforts to obtain voluntary compliance through warning, conference, or any other appropriate means.

(5) In connection with any hearing held pursuant to this section, the board may, and upon application by any party shall, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence on behalf of all parties.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4216. Emergency procedure. (1) Any other provisions of law to the contrary notwithstanding, if the director finds that a generalized hazard at any work place exists and that it creates an emergency requiring immediate action to protect human health, the director shall order persons causing or contributing to the hazard to reduce or discontinue immediately the emissions creating the hazard. Upon issuance of any such order, the director shall fix a place and time, not later than seventy-two (72) hours thereafter, for a hearing to be held before the board. Not more than twenty-four (24) hours after the commencement of such hearing, and without adjournment thereof, the board shall affirm, modify, or set aside the order of the director.

(2) In the absence of any such generalized condition as that referred to in subsection (1) of this section, if the director finds that emissions from any operation is causing imminent danger to human health, he may order the person or persons responsible for the operation or operations in question to reduce or discontinue emissions immediately, without regard for the provisions of section 10 [69-4215] of this act. In such event, the requirements for hearing and affirmance, modification, or setting aside of orders provided in section 10 [69-4215] shall apply.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit any power which the governor or any other officer may have to declare an emergency and act on the basis of such declaration, whether such power is conferred by statute or constitutional provisions or inheres in the office.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4217. Variances. (1) Any person who owns or is in control of any plant, building, structure process or equipment may apply to the board for an exemption or partial exemption from rules or regulations governing the quality, nature, duration, or extent of emissions of pollutants. The application shall be accompanied by such information and data as the board may require. The board may grant such exemption or partial exemption if it finds that:

(a) The emissions occurring or proposed to occur do not constitute an immediate danger to the health and safety of the worker.

(b) Compliance with the rules and regulations from which exemption is sought would produce hardship without equal or greater benefits to the worker.

(2) No exemption or partial exemption shall be granted pursuant to this section except after public hearing on due notice and until the board has considered the relative interests of the applicant, and the worker or workers involved.

(3) No exemption or partial exemption pursuant to this section shall be granted for a period to exceed one (1) year, but any such exemption or partial exemption may be renewed for like periods if no complaint is made to the board on account thereof or if, such complaint having been made and duly considered at a public hearing held by the board on due notice, the board finds that renewal is justified. No renewal shall be granted except on application therefor. Any such application shall be made at least sixty (60) days prior to the expiration of the exemption or partial exemption. Immediately prior to application for renewal the applicant shall give public notice of such application in accordance with rules and regulations of the board. Any renewal pursuant to this subsection shall be on the same grounds and subject to the same limitations and requirements as provided in subsection (a) of this section.

(4) An exemption, partial exemption or renewal thereof shall not be a right of the applicant or holder thereof but shall be in the discretion of the board. However, any person adversely affected by an exemption, partial exemption or renewal granted by the board may obtain judicial review thereof as provided by section 13 [69-4218] of this act.

(5) Nothing in this section and no exemption, partial exemption or renewal granted pursuant hereto shall be construed to prevent or limit the application of the emergency provisions and procedures of section 11 [69-4216] of this act to any person or his property.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4218. Hearings and judicial review. (1) No rule or amendment or repeal thereof shall take effect except after public hearing on due notice, and after the advisory committee has been afforded not less than thirty (30) days prior to publication of the proposed text to comment thereon. Such notice shall be given by public advertisement not less than twenty (20) or more than thirty (30) days prior to the date set for such hearing.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a hearing prior to the issuance of an emergency order pursuant to section 11 [69-4216] of this act.

(3) Any person aggrieved by any order of the board may apply for rehearing upon one (1) or more of the following grounds, and upon no other grounds:

(a) The board acted without or in excess of its powers.

(b) The order was procured by fraud.

(c) The order is contrary to the evidence.

(d) The applicant has discovered new evidence, material to him, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the hearing.

(e) Competent evidence was excluded to the prejudice of the applicant. The petition must be in such form and filed in such time as the board shall prescribe.

(4) (a) Within thirty (30) days after the application for rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, within thirty (30) days after the decision on the rehearing, any party aggrieved thereby may appeal to the district court of any judicial district of the state which is the situs of property affected by the order.

(b) The appeal shall be taken by serving a written notice of appeal upon the executive officer of the board, which service shall be made by the delivery of a copy of the notice to such officer, and by filing the original with the clerk of the court to which the appeal is taken. Immediately upon service upon the board, the board shall certify to the district court the entire record and proceedings, including all testimony and evidence taken by the board. Immediately upon receiving the certified record, the district court shall fix a day for filing of briefs and hearing arguments on the cause, and shall cause a notice of the same to be served upon the board and the appellant.

(c) The court shall hear and decide the cause upon the record of the board. The court shall determine whether or not the board regularly pursued its authority, whether or not the findings of the board were supported by substantial competent evidence and whether or not the board made error of law prejudicial to the appellant.

(5) Either the board or the person aggrieved may appeal from the decision of the district court to the supreme court. The proceedings before the supreme court shall be limited to a review of the record of the hearing before the board and of the district court's review of that record.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4219. Confidentiality of records. (1) Any records or other information concerning pollutants or operations which are furnished to or obtained by the board, and which, as certified by the owner or operator, relate to production or sales figures or to processes or production unique to the owner or operator or which would tend to affect adversely his competitive position, shall be only for the confidential use of the board in the administration of this act, unless the owner shall expressly agree to their publication or availability to the general public.

(2) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the use of such records or information by the board in compiling or publishing analyses or summaries relating to the general condition at the work place, provided that such analyses or summaries do not identify any owner or operator or reveal any information made otherwise confidential by the provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4220. Application for federal aid. The department may make application for, receive, administer, and expend any federal aid for the control of occupational diseases or the development and administration of industrial hygiene programs related to occupational disease control, provided that any such application is first submitted to and approved by the board. The board shall approve any such application if it is consistent with this act and any other applicable requirements of law.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 316, L. 1971.

69-4221. Penalties. (1) Any person who violates the provisions of this act relating to limitations of levels, concentrations, or quantities of emissions of various pollutants from any source determined as provided herein to be necessary to prevent, abate, or control occupational diseases (unless in compliance with this act) shall be guilty of an offense and subject on account thereof to a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000). Each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense.

(2) Proceedings under this section shall not be a bar to enforcement of this act, or of rules or orders made pursuant thereto, by injunction or other appropriate remedy. The board may institute and maintain in the name of the state any and all such enforcement proceedings.

(3) Nothing in this act shall be construed to abridge, limit, impair, create, enlarge, or otherwise affect substantively or procedurally the right of any person to damage or other relief on account of injury to persons or property and to maintain any section of other appropriate proceeding therefor.

(4) All fines collected shall be deposited to the state general fund.

(2) the rules may allow the issuance of a temporary permit under which pollution may result, for a period no longer than three years and subject to no extension, if the department finds that the issuance of such a permit is proper for obtaining compliance with the applicable standards, that

(3) the rules shall provide that the department may revoke any permit if the department finds that the holder of the permit has violated its terms, unless the department also finds that the violation was accidental and unforeseeable and that the holder of the permit corrected the condition resulting in the violation as soon as was reasonably possible; and that

(4) any person introducing a new source or increased source of sewage, industrial waste, or other wastes as defined in section 69-4802 (1), (2), and (3), R. C. M. 1947, to waters and tributaries of waters classified as A-open-D-1 or higher by the board shall be required to install and maintain the highest and best degree of treatment works necessary to maintain adequately said classification, as defined in section 69-4802 (7), R. C. M. 1947, prior to the issuance of a permit by the department; and second sentences; inserted "daily" before "newspaper of general circulation"; substituted "board" for "council" in two instances; substituted "proposed action" for "classification or standard" at the end of the second sentence; added the last sentence of the first paragraph and the present second paragraph; and made a minor change in punctuation.

69-4815 to 69-4819. Repealed.

Repeal

Sections 69-4815 to 69-4819 (Secs. 135 to 139, Ch. 197, L. 1967), relating to procedure for rehearing, appeal and injunction, were repealed by Sec. 22, Ch. 21, Laws 1971.

69-4820. Violation of chapter or rule—notice to violator—hearing before board—notice, procedure, order, rehearing. (1) Whenever the department has reason to believe that a violation of this chapter or any rule made under it has occurred, it shall cause written notice to be served personally or by mail upon the alleged violator or his agent. The notice shall state the provision alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the nature of any corrective action which the department proposed to require, and the time within which such action is to be taken. For the purposes of this chapter, service by mail shall be deemed complete on the day of mailing.

(2) In a notice given under part (1) of this section, the department may require the alleged violator to appear before the board for a public hearing and to answer the charges made against him. Such hearing shall be held no sooner than fifteen (15) days after service of the notice, except that the board may set an earlier date for hearing if it is requested to do so by the alleged violator. The board may set a later date for hearing at the request of the alleged violator if the alleged violator shows good cause for delay.

(3) If the department does not require an alleged violator to appear before the board for a public hearing, he may request the board to conduct such a hearing. His request shall be in writing and shall be filed with the executive officer no later than thirty (30) days after service of a notice under subsection (1) of this section. If such a request is filed, a hearing shall be held within a reasonable time.

(4) If a hearing is held pursuant to the provisions of this section, it shall be public and shall, if the board deems it practicable, be held in any county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred. The board shall permit all parties to respond to the notice served under subsection (1), to present evidence and argument on all issues, and to conduct cross-examination required for full disclosure of the facts. The board shall keep a stenographic record of the hearing and at least one (1) copy of any written exhibits put in evidence.

(5) A representative of the board may administer oaths, examine witnesses, and issue notices of the hearing including subpoenas requiring the testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence. Witnesses shall receive the same fees and mileage as in civil actions. In case of failure to obey a notice of hearing or subpoena, the district court where the hearing is held has jurisdiction upon request by the board to issue an order requiring a person to appear and testify or produce evidence, and failure to obey shall be punished as contempt of district court.

(6) After a hearing or on failure of an alleged violator to make a timely request for a hearing, the board may issue an appropriate order for the prevention, abatement, or control of pollution. The order shall be accompanied by a statement of the board's findings, reasons, and conclusions upon all material issues of fact, law, or discretion. It shall state the date or dates by which any violation shall cease and may prescribe timetables for necessary action in preventing, abating, or controlling the pollution. The alleged violator may petition the board for a rehearing, on the basis of new evidence, which petition the board may grant for good cause shown.

(7) In addition to or instead of issuing an order, the board may initiate appropriate action for recovery of a penalty pursuant to section 17 [69-4823] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 21, L. 1971.

69-4820.1. Additional enforcement remedies. (1) In addition to all remedies created by this act, the department is authorized to take appropriate enforcement action to:

(a) prevent, abate, and control the pollution of state waters;

(b) prevent, abate, and control any violation of a condition or limitation imposed by a permit issued under section 69-4806, R.C.M. 1947;

(c) prevent, abate, and control any violations of regulations relating to pretreatment standards.

(2) Any person violating a condition, limitation, standard or other requirement established pursuant to this section may be served with a compliance order issued by the department. Such order must specify the condition, limitation, standard or other requirement violated and must set a time for compliance. However, in establishing a time for compliance, the department shall take into account the seriousness of the violation and any good faith efforts that have been made to comply with the condition, limitation, standard or other requirement that has been violated. The compliance order issued under this section shall be personally served by an authorized employee of the department.

(3) The department is authorized to commence a civil action seeking appropriate relief, including a permanent or temporary injunction, for any violation which would be subject to a compliance order under subsection (2) of this section. Any action under this subsection may be commenced in the district court of any county in which the defendant is located or resides or is doing business, and the court shall have jurisdiction to restrain such violation and to require compliance.

(4) Any person found to be in violation of a condition, limitation, standard or other requirement established pursuant to this section shall be subject to the penalty provisions of section 69-4823, R.C.M. 1947.

(5) For the purpose of this subsection, the term "person" shall mean, in addition to the definition contained in section 69-4802, R.C.M. 1947, any responsible corporate officer.

History: En. 69-4820.1 by Sec. 5, Ch. 506, L. 1973.

69-4821. Judicial remedies—review by district court—appeal to supreme court. (1) Any person who has exhausted all administrative remedies available before the department and board and who is aggrieved by an order of the board may, within twenty (20) days after the date of the order, petition for review by the district court of the county in which the alleged source of pollution is located.

(2) An action for review shall be initiated by delivering a copy of a written petition for review to the executive officer of the board, and by filing the original of the petition with the clerk of the court in which review is sought. The petition shall specify the order or orders review of which is sought and shall state the grounds of the petition. When the petition is filed with the clerk of the court, the district court has jurisdiction of the action. As soon as possible in the ordinary course of business and within thirty (30) days after receipt of the petition by the board, the board shall certify to the district court the entire record and proceedings, including all evidence received in the form of documents and other exhibits and a transcript of such testimony taken by the board as any party shall request.

(3) Any person interested in the order may intervene, in the manner provided by the Rules of Civil Procedure, if he shows good cause. An intervener is a party for the purposes of this chapter.

(4) The attorney general shall represent the board if requested, or the board may appoint special counsel for the proceedings, subject to the approval of the attorney general.

(5) Neither the state nor the board need give a bond or make a deposit for costs upon an action for review by a district court or upon any subsequent appeal.

(6) The review by the district court shall be based solely on the record of the hearing before the board. That record shall include the notice given pursuant to section 13 (1) [69-4820 (1)] of this act, any testimony transcribed pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, any exhibits filed with the board, any motions or pleadings which were submitted to the board and any rulings made by the board with respect to them, the order under review, the statement of the board accompanying the order, and any relevant document filed in the proceeding. To the extent necessary in respect to the issues, the court shall determine whether the order of the board was (a) constitutional, (b) within the statutory jurisdiction and powers of the board, (c) issued pursuant to procedure required by law, (d) supported by substantial evidence on the whole record or such portions of the record as may be cited by the parties, and (e) within the reasonable discretion of the board. The court shall then as appropriate, affirm, modify, or reverse the order of the board or remand the case to the board for further proceedings. The court may, if appropriate, issue an injunction directing compliance with the order of the board as affirmed or modified.

(7) Any party may appeal from the decision of the district court to the supreme court of Montana in the manner provided for civil cases.

(8) The initiation of an action for review or the taking of an appeal shall not stay the effectiveness of any order of the board, unless the court finds that there is probable cause to believe

1. that refusal to grant a stay will cause serious harm to the affected party, and

2. that any violation found by the board

(a) will not continue, or

(b) if it does continue, any harmful effects on state waters will be remedied immediately on the cessation of the violation.

If the court does not stay the effectiveness of an order of the board, it may enforce compliance with that order by issuing a temporary restraining order or an injunction at the request of the board.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 21, L. 1971.

69-4822. Confidentiality of records. Any information concerning sources of pollution which is furnished to the board or department or which is obtained by either of them is a matter of public record and open to public use. However, any information unique to the owner or operator of a source of pollution which would, if disclosed, tend to weaken his competitive position shall be confidential unless he expressly agrees to its publication or availability to the general public or unless such information is introduced as evidence in a hearing before the board. Any information not intended to be public when submitted to the board or department shall be submitted in writing and clearly marked as confidential. The data describing physical and chemical characteristics of a waste discharged to state waters shall not be considered confidential; except that the party supplying the information to the board may apply to the board for confidential status for the information so supplied, and the board shall determine that the disclosure of said information is in the public interest prior to the disclosure to the public of said information. The board may use any information in compiling or publishing analyses or summaries relating to water pollution, if such analyses or summaries do not identify any owner or operator of a source of pollution or reveal any information which is otherwise made confidental by this section.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 21, L. 1971.

69-4823. Penalties for violation of provisions, rule, permit, effluent standard, or order—purpose and construction of chapter. (1) A person who violates any rule, permit, effluent standard, or order issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be guilty of an offense and subject to a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). Each day of violation constitutes a separate offense.

(2) A person who willfully violates section 69-4806, R.C.M. 1947, or any pretreatment standard established pursuant to this act is guilty of an offense and subject to a fine not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) per day of violation or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both. Following an initial conviction under this subsection, subsequent convictions shall subject a person to a fine of not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) per day of violation, or imprisonment for not more than two (2) years, or both.

(3) Action pursuant to [sub] section (1) of this section does not bar enforcement of this chapter or of rules or orders issued pursuant to it by injunction or other appropriate remedy. The board shall institute and maintain any and all such enforcement proceedings in the name of the state.

(4) A purpose of this chapter is to provide additional and cumulative remedies to prevent, abate and control the pollution of state waters. This chapter shall not be construed to abridge or alter rights of action or remedies in equity or under the common law or statutory law, criminal or civil, nor shall any provision of this chapter or any act done by virtue of it be construed as estopping the state or any municipality or person as owners of water rights or otherwise in the exercise of their rights in equity or under the common law or statutory law to suppress nuisances or to abate pollution.

(5) All fines collected shall be deposited to the state general fund.

(6) Any person who knowingly makes any false statement, representation, or certification in any application, record, report, plan or other document filed or required to be maintained under this act or who falsifies, tampers with or knowingly renders inaccurate any monitoring device or method required to be maintained under this act shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment for not more than six (6) months, or both.

(7) In a civil action initiated by the department under this act, the department may ask for and the court is authorized to assess a violator for the cost of the investigation or monitoring survey which led to the establishment of the violation, and any expense incurred by the state in removing, correcting or terminating any of the adverse effects upon water quality resulting from the unauthorized discharge of pollutants.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "any provision of this chapter other than section 16 of this act, or" before "any rule" near the beginning of subsection (1); substituted "civil penalty" for "fine" near the end of the first sentence of subsection (1); increased the maximum daily penalty specified in subsection (1) from $1,000 to $10,000; substituted the reference to section 69-4806 near the beginning of subsection (2) for a reference to section 69-4823; inserted "or any pretreatment standard established pursuant to this act" in the first sentence of subsection (2); increased the maximum daily fine specified by the first sentence of subsection (2) from $1,000 to $25,000; added to the first sentence of subsection (2) the provision for imprisonment; added the second sentence to subsection (2); substituted "to the state general fund" at the end of subsection (5) for "to the credit of the department, to be used to alleviate pollution for which no person subject to action by the department or board is responsible"; added subsections (6) and (7); and made minor changes in phraseology.

69-4824. Emergencies. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, if the department finds that a person is committing or is about to commit an act in violation of this chapter or an order or rule issued under it which, if it occurs or continues, will cause substantial pollution the harmful effects of which will not be remedied immediately after the commission or cessation of the act, the department shall order such person to stop, avoid, or moderate the act so that the substantial injury will not occur. The order shall be effective immediately upon receipt by the person to whom it is directed, unless the department provides otherwise. Notice of the order shall conform to the requirements of section 13 (1) [69-4820 (1)] of this act so far as practicable; the notice shall indicate that the order is an emergency order. Upon issuing such an order, the department shall fix a place and time for a hearing before the board, not later than five (5) days thereafter, unless the person to whom the order is directed shall request a later time. The department may deny a request for a later time if it finds that the person to whom the order is directed is not complying with the order. The hearing shall be conducted in the manner specified in section 13, subsections (4), (5), and (6) [69-4820 (4), (5), (6)] of this act. As soon as practicable after the hearing, the board shall affirm, modify, or set aside the order of the department. The order of the board shall be accompanied by the statement specified in section 13 (6) [69-4820 (6)] of this act. An action for review of the order of the board may be initiated in the manner specified in section 15 [69-4821] of this act. The initiation of such an action or taking of an appeal shall not stay the effectiveness of the order, unless the court shall find that the board did not have reasonable cause to issue an order under this section.

69-4824.1. Additional emergency powers. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, the department upon receipt of evidence that a pollution source or combination of sources is endangering the health, welfare, or livelihood of a person may bring suit in the district court of any county in which the defendant is located or resides or is doing business to enjoin the discharge of pollutants causing or contributing to the alleged pollution.

History: En. 69-4824.1 by Sec. 7, Ch. 506, L. 1973.

69-4825. Injunctions. The board may bring an action for an injunction against the continuation of any alleged violation which has been the basis of suspension or revocation of a permit by the department or against any person who fails to comply with an emergency order issued by the department by virtue of section 18 [69-4824] of this act or any final order of the board. The court to which the board applies for an injunction may issue a temporary injunction, if it finds that there is reasonable cause to believe that the allegations of the board are true, and it may issue a temporary restraining order pending action on the temporary injunction.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 21, L. 1971.

69-4826. Action by other parties. Any person, association, corporation or agency of the state or federal government may apply to the board protesting any violation of this chapter. The board shall thereupon direct the department to investigate the alleged violation. The department shall make the investigation and make a written report to the board and to the person, association, corporation or agency which made the protest.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 21, L. 1971.

69-4827. Co-operation with the council, board, and department. The council, board, and department may require the use of records of all state agencies and may seek the assistance of such agencies. State, county, and municipal officers and employees, including sanitarians and other employees of local department of health, shall co-operate with the council, board and department, in furthering the purposes of this chapter, so far as is practicable and consistent with their other duties.

Title of Act

An act to establish a state policy for the environment and to establish an environmental quality council and setting forth its powers and duties and providing an effective date.

69-6502. Purpose of act. The purpose of this act is to declare a state policy which will encourage productive and enjoyable harmony between man and his environment; to promote efforts which will prevent or eliminate damage to the environment and biosphere and stimulate the health and welfare of man; to enrich the understanding of the ecological systems and natural resources important to the state; and to establish an environmental quality council.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 238, L. 1971.

69-6503. Declaration of state policy for the environment. The legislative assembly, recognizing the profound impact of man's activity on the interrelations of all components of the natural environment, particularly the profound influences of population growth, high-density urbanization, industrial expansion, resource exploitation, and new and expanding technological advances and recognizing further the critical importance of restoring and maintaining environmental quality to the overall welfare and development of man, declares that it is the continuing policy of the state of Montana, in co-operation with the federal government and local governments, and other concerned public and private organizations, to use all practicable means and measures, including financial and technical assistance, in a manner calculated to foster and promote the general welfare, to create and maintain conditions under which man and nature can coexist in productive harmony, and fulfill the social, economic, and other requirements of present and future generations of Montanans.

(a) In order to carry out the policy set forth in this act, it is the continuing responsibility of the state of Montana to use all practicable means, consistent with other essential considerations of state policy, to improve and co-ordinate state plans, functions, programs, and resources to the end that the state may—

(1) fulfill the responsibilities of each generation as trustee of the environment for succeeding generations;

(2) assure for all Montanans safe, healthful, productive, and esthetically and culturally pleasing surroundings;

(3) attain the widest range of beneficial uses of the environment without degradation, risk to health or safety, or other undesirable and unintended consequences;

(4) preserve important historic, cultural, and natural aspects of our unique heritage, and maintain, wherever possible, an environment which supports diversity and variety of individual choice;

(5) achieve a balance between population and resource use which will permit high standards of living and a wide sharing of life's amenities; and

(6) enhance the quality of renewable resources and approach the maximum attainable recycling of depletable resources.

(b) The legislative assembly recognizes that each person shall be entitled to a healthful environment and that each person has a responsibility to contribute to the preservation and enhancement of the environment.

(1) utilize a systematic, interdisciplinary approach which will insure the integrated use of the natural and social sciences and the environmental design arts in planning and in decision making which may have an impact on man's environment;

(2) identify and develop methods and procedures, which will insure that presently unquantified environmental amenities and values may be given appropriate consideration in decision making along with economic and technical considerations;

(3) include in every recommendation or report on proposals for projects, programs, legislation and other major actions of state government significantly affecting the quality of the human environment, a detailed statement on—

(i) the environmental impact of the proposed action,

Prior to making any detailed statement, the responsible state official shall consult with and obtain the comments of any state agency which has jurisdiction by law or special expertise with respect to any environmental impact involved. Copies of such statement and the comments and views of the appropriate state, federal, and local agencies, which are authorized to develop and enforce environmental standards, shall be made available to the governor, the environmental quality council and to the public, and shall accompany the proposal through the existing agency review processes.

(4) study, develop, and describe appropriate alternatives to recommend courses of action in any proposal which involves unresolved conflicts concerning alternative uses of available resources;

Title of Act

An act to vest in the department and board of natural resources and conservation the authority to require and review long-range planning by certain utilities, to give approval to energy generation and conversion plant sites and associated facilities, to require preconstruction certification of such facilities; providing penalties for violation of this act; and providing an effective date.

70-802. Policy and legislative findings. It is the constitutionally declared policy of this state to maintain and improve a clean and healthful environment for present and future generations; to protect the environmental life support system from degradation and prevent unreasonable depletion and degradation of natural resources; and to provide for administration and enforcement to attain these objectives.

The legislature finds that the construction of additional power and energy conversion facilities may be necessary to meet the increasing need for electricity and other energy, and that such facilities have an effect on the environment, an impact on population concentration, and an effect on the welfare of the citizens of this state. Therefore, it is necessary to ensure that the location, construction and operation of power and energy conversion facilities will produce minimal adverse effects on the environment and upon the citizens of this state by providing that no power or energy conversion facility shall hereafter be constructed or operated within this state without a certificate of environmental compatibility and public need acquired pursuant to this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 327, L. 1973.

(2) On an application for an amendment of a certificate, the board shall hold a hearing in the same manner as a hearing is held on an application for a certificate if the proposed change in the facility would result in any material increase in any environmental impact of the facility or a substantial change in the location of all or a portion of such facility other than as provided in the alternates set forth in the application.

(3) Upon receipt of the department's report submitted under subsection (1) of this section, the board shall set a hearing date not more than sixty (60) days after such receipt.

70-810. Decision of board—findings necessary for certificate—conditions imposed—service of decision on parties. (1) The board shall make complete findings, issue an opinion, and render a decision upon the record, either granting or denying the application as filed, or granting it upon such terms, conditions, or modifications of the construction, operation or maintenance of the utility facility as the board may deem appropriate. The board may not grant a certificate either as proposed or as modified by the board unless it shall find and determine:

(a) the basis of the need for the facility;

(b) the nature of the probable environmental impact;

(d) each of the criteria listed in section 16 [70-816] of this act;

(e) in the case of an electric, gas or liquid transmission line or aqueduct, what part, if any, of the line or aqueduct shall be located underground; that such facility is consistent with regional plans for expansion of the appropriate grid of the utility systems serving the state and interconnected utility systems; and that such facilities will serve the interests of utility system economy and reliability;

(f) that the location of the facility as proposed conforms to applicable state and local laws and regulations issued thereunder, except that the board may refuse to apply any local law or regulation if it finds that, as applied to the proposed facility, such law or regulation is unreasonably restrictive in view of the existing technology, or of factors of cost or economics, or of the needs of consumers whether located inside or outside of the directly affected government subdivisions;

(g) that the facility will serve the public interest, convenience and necessity; and

(h) that duly authorized state air and water quality agencies have certified that the proposed facility will not violate state and federally established standards and implementation plans; the judgments of duly authorized air and water quality agencies are conclusive on all questions related to the satisfaction of state and federal air and water quality standards.

(2) If the board determines that the location of all or a part of the proposed facility should be modified, it may condition its certificate upon such modification, provided that the municipalities, and persons residing therein, affected by the modification, shall have been given reasonable notice of the modification.

(3) A copy of the decision and any opinion issued with the decision shall be served upon each party.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 327, L. 1973.

70-811. Opinion issued with decision—contents of certificate—waiver of time requirements—facilities for which certificate required. (iv) alternatives to the proposed facilities; and

(v) a plan for monitoring environmental effects of the proposed facility.

(b) A statement signed by the applicant showing agreement to comply with the requirements of this act and the conditions of the certificate.

(3) The time requirement of section 6 [70-806] and any of the provisions described in sections 7 through 11 [70-807 to 70-811] of this act may be waived by the board, for good cause shown with respect to applications filed before January 1, 1975. Applications for certificates under this subsection (3) must be promptly filed. A certificate is not required under this act for facilities under construction or in operation on January 1, 1973. However, a certificate must be obtained for associated facilities upon which construction has not commenced before January 1, 1973, subject to the waiver provisions of this subsection.

Upon receipt of such petition, the department shall deliver to the court a copy of the written transcript of the record of the proceeding before it and a copy of the board's decision and opinion entered therein which shall constitute the record on judicial review. A copy of such transcript, decision and opinion shall remain on file with the department and shall be available for public inspection.

(2) If a decision is issued after a hearing on an application for a certificate, such decision is final for purposes of judicial review. The judicial review procedure shall be the same as that for contested cases under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act [82-4201 to 82-4225].

If a utility lists and identifies a proposed utility facility in its plan, submitted pursuant to section 14 [70-814] of this act, as one on which construction is proposed to be commenced within the five (5) year period next proceeding submission of the plan, the department shall commence examination and evaluation of the site to determine whether construction of the proposed facility would unduly impair the environmental values in section 16 [70-816] of this act. This study may be continued until such time as a utility files an application for a certificate under section 6 [70-806] of this act. Information gathered under this section may be used to support findings and recommendations required for issuance of a certificate.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Durational residency requirement in state welfare program imposed unconstitutional restraint on right to travel. Pease v. Hansen, 404 U S 70, 30 L Ed 2d 224, 92 S Ct 318, following Shapiro v. Thompson, 394 U S 618, 22 L Ed 2d 600, 89 S Ct 1322, and reversing 157 M 99, 483 P 2d 720.

Despite the invalidity of the requirement of one year's residency in the state in order to qualify for relief, county's obligation to pay general relief assistance may be limited by legislature's residency requirements as it did in section 71-302; where no provision has been made to care for transients, state must provide relief until such time as indigent has established county residency. (1) In recognition of the need to provide supervision and protection from exploitation for the developmentally disabled, and in acknowledgment of the desirability of providing such services outside the state institutions, the legislative assembly hereby finds and declares that a program should be established by the department to provide protective services for the developmentally disabled. Such a program should be designed to provide the services set forth in this act for developmentally disabled persons.

(2) The director of the department shall adopt rules and regulations for the administration of this article. The department shall develop a statewide system of protective service in accordance with regulations and standards established by the department with respect to this program, the department may:

(1) Protective services may be provided on a voluntary basis for any developmentally disabled person who requests them for himself or at the request of any interested person, when the department determines that such person is a developmentally disabled person who would benefit from services provided in this act, and that the department is currently able to supply services to such person. A parent may name the department as guardian of the mentally disabled person in his will. A parent may also name the department as guardian or trustee of the mentally disabled person, to assume such duties during the parents lifetime. Voluntary services may be discontinued upon the written request of the ward or any personal representative of the ward.

(2) Application for protective services under this act shall be made to the designated field staff of the department or other designated state agency in the county in which the applicant resides, and the application shall be transmitted promptly to the department. Such application shall be in writing or reduced to writing in the manner and upon the form prescribed by the department and shall contain the name, age, and residence of the applicant and such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations of the department. The rules and regulations of the department shall simplify the application process in order that protective services may be furnished as soon as possible. The petition shall be accompanied by a report of the findings of an evaluation team composed of, but not limited to, a physician, a psychologist, and a social worker, and expressing the belief that the respondent is developmentally disabled to an extent which would cause the respondent to benefit from the protective services provided for in this act.

(2) Upon the filing of such verified petition and team evaluation statement, the court shall issue an order fixing the time and place of a hearing on such petition, which time shall be no earlier than seven (7) days nor later than fourteen (14) days after the filing thereof. Such order shall appoint an attorney for the respondent, whose duty shall be to make such investigation as is necessary to protect the rights of the respondent and to attend all hearings in the matter. The department, the county attorney, and the attorney may waive service.

(3) Upon hearing, the petitioner shall present the evidence to the court. 72-118. Power to alter classification or rate—approval of changes or revisions by the board—hearing complaint. The said board shall have the power from time to time to change, alter, amend, or abolish any classification or rate established by it when deemed necessary, as hereinafter provided. The said board shall make and establish reasonable rates for the transportation of freight within the state of Montana, and shall prescribe rates, tolls and charges for all other service performed by any railroad subject hereto. No change or revision of any rate, charge, classification or rule of service contained in any tariff, classification or rule of a railroad shall be made by any railroad without first obtaining approval therefor from the board. Such changes or revisions shall be made by either of the methods hereinafter set forth:

(2) by filing with the board the tariff sheet or sheets containing such changes or revisions, plainly stating the change or changes, or revision or revisions, to be made; provided further, that the public shall be provided with such notice of the proposed changes or revisions as the board shall, by rule, require. The tariff sheet or sheets containing such changes or revisions shall be deemed approved and effective thirty (30) days after the same are filed unless the proposed revisions or changes are suspended or disallowed by the board prior to the expiration of the thirty (30) day period; provided, however, that the board may, for good cause, allow any change or revision to become effective on less than thirty (30) days after the filing thereof. Upon filing such changes or revisions, all tariff sheet or sheets, when suspended by the board, must be supported by such prepared testimony and exhibits from the railroad as will support such changes or revisions. The prepared testimony and exhibits must be filed with the commission thirty (30) days after the effective date of such suspension. Such testimony and exhibits may be supplemented prior to, or at the time of hearing, and supplemental exhibits may be filed after the close of the hearing at the direction or with permission of the commission.

Upon its own initiative, or upon the complaint of any interested party filed with the board within twenty (20) days after the date upon which a change or revision of any rate, fare, change or classification is filed with the board, the board may suspend the operation of such rate, fare, charge, or classification for a period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days, provided, however, that the order directing such suspension must be issued by the board not less than two (2) business days prior to the proposed effective date; and provided further, that the rail carrier or carriers filing such rate, fare, charge, or classification shall be given prompt notice by the complaining party mailing a copy of the complaint concerning such proposed change or revision to the carrier or publishing agent and such carrier or carriers also shall be given an opportunity to reply to any such complaint. If the proposed change or revision is in a tariff issued by a tariff publishing bureau for a rail carrier or carriers, notice to such bureau of any complaint will constitute notice to the participating carriers in such tariff. When the suspension of any proposed change or revision in a tariff is ordered by the board, it shall also order a public hearing to consider the reasonableness of the proposed change or revision; due notice shall be given for such hearing to all known interests or affected persons and the same shall be allowed to appear and present evidence. After considering the evidence presented at such hearing, the board shall issue an order approving, denying, or modifying the proposed change or revision; provided, however, that unless such hearing is held and such order is issued within one hundred eighty (180) days from the date upon which the suspension was ordered, the proposed change or revision shall be deemed approved and effective as filed.

The board may, on its own motion or on the complaint by a shipper or other person interested investigate any rate, classification or rule approved and in effect for transportation of freight by any railroad within the state of Montana. The said board must, within sixty (60) days after the commencement of an investigation on the board's initiative, or after the filing with such board of a complaint by a shipper, or other person interested, proceed to investigate and determine the justness and reasonableness of any classification, rate, charge, toll, regulation or order made by said board.

Before the commission may approve closure of a station or facility, it shall require from the railroad an agreement to protect employees affected by the closure by providing jobs equal in nature and pay to the job held by the employee for the six (6) months prior to such closure. The equal job and pay agreement must be in effect for a period of four (4) years or, in the alternative, the number of years the employee has been employed prior to closure, whichever is shorter. Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 91, and once by Ch. 100. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 91, Laws of 1973, deleted "Except as provided in section 75-6411" from the beginning of the section; and inserted "as a resident in the school district in which he resides and proposes to vote" in subdivision (1).

Chapter 100, Laws of 1973, substituted new subdivisions (2) and (3) for subdivisions reading "(2) He shall be of a minimum age for voting provided by the constitution of the state of Montana; (3) He has met the residency requirement for voting as provided by the constitution of the state of Montana"; substituted "while he is serving a sentence in a penal institution" at the end of the next to last paragraph for "unless he has been pardoned"; and substituted "to be of unsound mind" in the final paragraph for "insane."

Repeal

Section 75-6410.1 (Sec. 1, Ch. 83, L. 1971), relating to qualifications of voters on school tax questions, was repealed by Sec. 58, Ch. 100, Laws 1973. Chapter 391, Laws of 1973, purported to amend this section, but such amendment was void under the rule in section 43-515.

75-6412. Elector challenges. An elector may challenge the qualifications of another elector under the provisions of section 23-3015. Any person offering to vote in a school election may be challenged by any elector of the district on any of the grounds for challenge established in section 23-3611, R.C.M., 1947. Such challenge shall be determined in the same manner, using the same oath as provided in chapter 36 of Title 23, R.C.M., 1947.

Any person who shall have been challenged under any of the provisions of this section and who shall swear or affirm falsely before any school election judge shall be guilty of perjury and shall be punished accordingly.

Such positions shall be subject to election on the next regular school election day. If the county superintendent changes an elementary district's classification with the result that a lesser number of trustees is required, the next elementary trustee positions that become vacant under any circumstances shall not be filled until the number of elementary trustee positions has been reduced to the number required by law.

in section 75-5905 for the determination of the number of additional trustee positions required for a high school district. The superintendent of public instruction shall approve or disapprove such application for isolated classification by the fourth Monday of June on the basis of the information supplied by the application or objective information the superintendent of public instruction may collect on his own initiative. This section shall apply not only where the public work or construction project is divided into several projects which are constructed at approximately the same period of time, but also where the public work or construction project is divided into several projects which are constructed in different time periods or over an extended period of time.

The trustees shall issue warrants in single copy or in triplicate copy. When the warrants are issued in single copy, the trustees shall immediately provide a listing of the issued warrants on a fund-by-fund basis to the county treasurer and retain a copy of the listing in the district accounting records. When the warrants are issued in triplicate, the original copy of the warrant shall be delivered to the payee; the duplicate shall be sent immediately to the county treasurer; and the triplicate shall be retained by the district for accounting record purposes. The duplicate and triplicate copies shall be identified on the face of the warrant as "Not Negotiable—Copy of Original."

However, the trustees may elect to issue warrants in payment of wages and salaries on a direct deposit basis to the employee's account in a local bank, provided the consent of the employee has been obtained and the employee is given an itemized statement of payroll deductions for each pay period.

The recording of the warrants shall allow for the computation of the unexpended amount of a budgeted fund from the accounting records.

Whenever it appears to the county treasurer that a budgeted fund is so nearly exhausted that the issuance of another warrant will cause the overexpenditure of such budget, the county treasurer shall immediately notify the appropriate district of the expended condition of the budget and the district shall not issue another warrant against such fund that would overexpend the budget.

After receiving a duplicate warrant or warrant listing that contains a warrant which will exceed the unexpended balance of a budgeted fund, the county treasurer shall immediately notify the district of such overdraft. If the district has not corrected the overdraft before the presentation of the warrant for payment, the county treasurer shall refuse to pay or register such warrant, and shall endorse across the face of such warrant "Payment and Registration Refused, Insufficient Budget" and return the warrant to the person presenting it for payment.

Whenever a warrant will overexpend the cash balance of a nonbudgeted fund, the county treasurer shall refuse to pay or register such warrant, and shall endorse across the face of such warrant "Payment and Registration Refused, Insufficient Funds" and return the warrant to the person presenting it for payment. The county treasurer shall immediately notify the district of such refusal to pay or register the warrant drawn on a nonbudgeted fund.

Such transfers shall not be made between different funds of the same district or between similar funds of different districts except as specifically provided by this title. The trustees shall enter the authorized transfers upon the permanent records of the district.

The revenue to be collected from this levy shall be apportioned to the support of the foundation programs of the elementary school districts in the county and to the earmarked revenue fund, state equalization aid account, in the following manner: In order to determine the amount of revenue raised by this levy which is retained by the county, the sum of the estimated revenues identified in subsections (1) through (6) below shall be subtracted from the sum of the county elementary transportation obligation and the total of the foundation programs of all elementary districts of the county. If the basic levy of twenty-five (25) mills produces more revenue than is required to finance the difference determined above, the county commissioners shall order the county treasurer to remit the surplus funds to the state treasurer for deposit to the earmarked revenue fund, state equalization aid account, not later than June 1 of the fiscal year for which the levy has been set.

The proceeds realized from the county's portion of the levy prescribed by this section and the revenues from the following sources shall be used for the equalization of the elementary district foundation programs of the county as prescribed in section 75-6914 and a separate accounting shall be kept of such proceeds and revenues by the county treasurer in accordance with subsection (1) of section 75-6805;

75-6913. Basic special levy and other revenues for county equalization of high school district foundation program. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county to levy an annual basic special tax for high schools of fifteen (15) mills on the dollar of the taxable value of all taxable property within the county for the purposes of local and state foundation program support. The revenue to be collected from this levy shall be apportioned to the support of the foundation programs of high school districts in the county and to the earmarked revenue fund, state equalization aid account, in the following manner: In order to determine the amount of revenue raised by this levy which is retained by the county, the estimated revenues identified in subsections (1) and (2) below shall be subtracted from the sum of the county's high school tuition obligation and the total of the foundation programs of all high school districts of the county. History: En. 75-6913 by Sec. 263, Ch. 5, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 355, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted "for the purposes of local and state founda-

75-6915. Formula for apportionment of county equalization moneys. After making such deductions prescribed in section 75-6914, the county superintendent shall apportion the remaining amount of moneys available in the basic county tax account to the several public elementary districts of the county and in the basic special tax for high schools account to the several public secondary districts of the county in proportion to their needs under the foundation program in accordance with the following procedure:

(1) Determine the percentage that the county equalization moneys available for the support of the foundation programs of the public elementary districts in the county is of the total amount of the foundation programs of all public elementary districts.

(2) Multiply the foundation program amount of each public elementary district by the percentage determined in subsection (1) above to determine the portion of the county equalization moneys available to each public elementary district.

The above procedure shall also be applied for public secondary districts.

No territory situated within a county shall be excluded from the apportionment of the county equalization moneys under this section solely because such territory lies within the boundaries of a joint district. Cash balances to the credit of any district at the end of a school fiscal year shall not be considered in the apportionment procedure prescribed in this section.

When the total amount of the available county moneys for apportionment under this section is greater than the amount of money to be apportioned under the apportionment procedure prescribed by this section, the excess amount of county moneys shall be retained by the county to be considered as financing during the ensuing school fiscal year under the requirements of subsection (5) of section 75-6912 or subsection (1) of section 75-6913.

The county equalization moneys apportioned under these procedures shall constitute the first source of revenue in calculating the financing of the public elementary and secondary district foundation program. The county superintendent shall use the apportionment procedure prescribed in this section in computing the estimated revenues for the financing of the ensuing year's foundation program for budgeting purposes.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment inserted "public" in the name of the board throughout the section; and deleted "at its meeting in July and December of each year" and "for the next succeeding six month period, commencing on July 1 and January 1" from subsection (5).

75-6921. Additional state levy for state deficiency. If the estimated state equalization level made under the provisions of section 75-6920 is less than one hundred per cent (100%), it shall be the duty of the director of the department of revenue to levy, separately for the elementary districts and the high school districts, additional taxes in such number of mills on the taxable value of all taxable property within the state as shall be required to complete the financing of the foundation programs of all elementary districts or all high school districts of the state.

The state treasurer shall keep a separate accounting of the proceeds realized from these mill levies. The superintendent of public instruction shall apportion the proceeds of the mill levies to the elementary districts of the state or the high school districts of the state, whichever the case may be, on the following basis:

(1) Determine the total amount required from this source of revenue by the several elementary or high school districts of the state.

(2) to (4). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

When the total amount of the proceeds realized from these mill levies is greater than the requirements of all the elementary districts or high school districts of the state, whichever the case may be, the excess amount of moneys shall be retained by the state for reduction of the ensuing year's additional state levy for elementary schools or high schools or, if there is no additional state levy under this section the excess may be transferred to the state equalization aid account for the reduction of the legislative appropriation.

The apportionment of state moneys under this section shall be known as the "additional state levy for state deficiency" and it shall be the last source of revenue in calculating the financing of the elementary district foundation program and the high school district foundation program.

The superintendent of public instruction shall compute the budgeted requirement for this source of revenue for each district and shall supply the total state requirements for the elementary district foundation programs and the high school district foundation programs to the director of the department of revenue on the second Monday of August.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted references to the state, the director of the department of revenue, the state treasurer and the superintendent of public instruction, respectively, throughout the section for references to the county, the county commissioners, the county treasurer and the county superintendent; deleted "As provided in section 75-6805" from the beginning of the second paragraph; added to the first paragraph after the numbered clauses the final clause, beginning with "or, if there is no additional state levy"; deleted "and for the county" after "source of revenue for each district" in the final paragraph; substituted "total state requirements" for "county requirements" in the final paragraph; and deleted "in accordance with section 75-6717" from the end of the section.

75-6922. Permissive levy. (1) Whenever the trustees of any district shall deem it necessary to adopt a general fund budget in excess of the foundation program amount but not in excess of the maximum general fund budget amount for such district as established by the schedule in section 75-6905, the trustees shall adopt a resolution stating the reasons and purposes for exceeding the foundation program amount. The financing of such general fund budget amount shall be known as the "permissive levy," and it shall be financed by a levy on the taxable value of all taxable property within the district as prescribed in section 75-6926, supplemented with revenue from a levy on all the taxable property in the state.

(2) The district levies to be set for the purpose of funding the per missive amount are determined as follows:

(a) For each elementary school district, the county commissioners shall annually set a levy not exceeding nine (9) mills on all the taxable property in the district for the purpose of funding the permissive levy requirements of the district. If the amount of revenue raised by this levy is not sufficient to fully fund the district's permissive levy requirements, the amount of the deficiency shall be paid to the district from the earmarked revenue fund, permissive levy account, according to the provisions of subsection (3) of this section.

(b) For each high school district, the county commissioners shall annually set a levy not exceeding six (6) mills on all taxable property in the district for the purpose of funding the permissive levy requirements of the district. If the amount of revenue raised by this levy is not sufficient to fully fund the district's permissive levy requirements, the amount of the deficiency shall be paid to the district from the earmarked revenue fund, permissive levy account, according to the provisions of subsection (3) of this section.

(3) The director of the department of revenue shall annually set a levy on all the property of the state which will produce enough revenue to fund the permissive levy deficiency of the elementary and high school districts of the state. The proceeds of this levy shall be deposited to the earmarked revenue fund, permissive levy account, and shall be distributed to the elementary and high school districts in accordance with their entitlements as determined by the superintendent of public instruction according to the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

Such distribution shall be made in two payments. The first payment shall be made at the same time as the first distribution of state equalization aid is made after January 1 of the fiscal year. The second payment shall be made at the same time as the last payment of state equalization aid is made for the fiscal year. If sufficient revenue is not collected to completely cover the permissive levy requirement of the districts, each district will receive the same percentage of its total requirement. Surplus revenue in the permissive levy account shall be used to reduce the state levy required for the next succeeding fiscal year. Interest earned on investment of permissive levy funds shall be deposited to the earmarked revenue fund, permissive levy account, for distribution during the next succeeding fiscal year.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment designated the former section as subsection (1); added "supplemented with revenue from a levy on all of the taxable property in the state" at the end of subsection (1); and added subsections (2) and (3).

75-6923. Additional levy for general fund and election for authorization to impose. The trustees of any district may propose to adopt a general fund budget in excess of the general fund budget amount for such district as established by the schedule in section 75-6905 for any of the following purposes:

(1) to (4). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

However, the trustees may not adopt a total general fund budget which exceeds one hundred seven per cent (107%) of the general fund budget for the preceding year, unless such budget is adopted under conditions as provided in sections 75-6723 through 75-6730, or under the following conditions:

(a) new programs which are approved under 75-6903 or existing programs which are expanded as a result of ANB increases approved under 75-6903;

(b) federal programs which are continued with local funds if federal funds are withdrawn or withheld.

In subsection (2)(a), above, the budget may exceed 107% of the preceding year's budget by a dollar amount equal to the increase in the maximum budget without a vote resulting from the introduction of the new or expanded program and in subsection (2)(b), above, by a dollar amount not to exceed the amount received from federal sources for the preceding year. Nothing in this act shall prevent a school district from adopting a budget at least as large as the maximum budget without a vote as provided in section 75-6905.

When the trustees of any district determine that an additional amount of financing is required for the general fund budget that is in excess of the statutory schedule amount, the trustees shall submit the proposition of an additional levy to raise such excess amount of general fund financing to the electors who are qualified, under section 75-6410, to vote upon such proposition. Such special election shall be called and conducted in the manner prescribed by this title for school elections. The ballot for such election shall state the amount of money to be raised by additional property taxation, the approximate number of mills required to raise such money, and the purpose for which such money will be expended, and it shall be in the following format:

PROPOSITION

Shall a levy be made in addition to the levies authorized by law in such number of mills as may be necessary to raise the sum of (state the amount to be raised by additional tax levy), and being approximately (give number) mills, for the purpose of (insert the purpose for which the additional tax levy is made)?

☐ FOR the additional levy.

☐ AGAINST the additional levy.

If the election on any additional levy for the general fund is approved by a majority vote of those electors voting at such election, the proposition shall carry and the trustees may use any portion or all of the authorized amount in adopting the preliminary general fund budget. The trustees shall certify the additional levy amount authorized by such a special election on the budget form that is submitted to the county superintendent and the county commissioners shall levy such number of mills on the taxable value of all taxable property within the district as prescribed in section 75-6926, as are required to raise the amount of such additional levy.

Authorization to levy an additional tax under the provisions of this section shall be effective for only one school fiscal year and shall be authorized by a special election conducted before the first day of August of the school fiscal year for which it is effective. Only one such additional levy for the maintenance and operation of the school programs of a high school district may be imposed by a high school district in a given school fiscal year.

Amendments.

The 1973 amendment inserted the two paragraphs (including clauses (a) and (b)) following subdivision (4).

75-6927. Proration and calculation of foundation program for a joint district. In joint districts, the foundation program shall be prorated among the counties in which any part of the joint district is located for the purpose of determining the amount of each source of revenue for the foundation program for which each county is obligated. The proration of the joint district foundation program shall be calculated as follows:

(1) to (3). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

The portion of a joint district foundation program for each county, as determined in subsection (3) of this section, shall be considered as a separate foundation program in such county for the purposes of calculating the various revenues for the foundation program. After the calculation of the foundation program revenues, the remainder of the general fund revenues shall be calculated in accordance with the provisions for general fund financing.

History: En. 75-6927 by Sec. 277, Ch. 5, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 137, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted from the final paragraph a second sentence reading: "The interest and income moneys available to joint elementary districts shall be considered as prorated to the several counties on the basis of each child's county of residence."

(1) secure bids by publishing at least three (3) calls for bids in a newspaper of the county that will give notice to the largest number of people of the district or in the official newspaper of the county during a period of twenty-one (21) days. The trustees shall let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder and the trustees shall have the right to reject any and all bids; or

75-7019. Schedule of maximum reimbursement for individual transportation including provisions for isolation, room and board, and supervised study programs. The following rates for individual transportation constitute the maximum reimbursement to districts for individual transportation from state and county sources of transportation revenue under the provisions of sections 75-7022 and 75-7023. These rates also shall constitute the limitation of the budgeted amounts for individual transportation for the ensuing school fiscal year. When the trustees contract with the parent or guardian of any eligible transportee to provide individual transportation for each day of school attendance, they shall reimburse the parent or guardian on the basis of the following schedule:

(2) When the parent or guardian provides the transportation conveyance from the eligible transportee's residence to an approved route of the school bus designated by the trustees for the transportation of such eligible transportee, the per diem rates prescribed in subsection (1) shall be used to determine the reimbursable amount for such transportation on the basis of the distance from the child's residence to an established bus route stop.

When the distance from the eligible transportee's residence to the approved bus route stop is not less than one and one-half (1½) miles but less than three (3) miles, the reimbursement rate shall be one-half (½) the rate prescribed in subsection (1)(a) above. No transportation reimbursement shall be paid to a parent or guardian when the distance from the child's residence is less than one and one-half (1½) miles from an established bus route stop.

(3) Where, due to excessive distances, impassable roads or other special circumstances of isolation, the rates prescribed in subsections (1) or (2) would be an inadequate reimbursement for the transportation costs or would result in a physical hardship for the eligible transportee, his parent or guardian may request an increase in the reimbursement rate. Such a request for increased rates due to isolation shall be made by the parent or guardian on the contract for individual transportation for the ensuing school fiscal year by indicating the special facts and circumstances which exist to justify the increase. Before any increase rate due to isolation can be paid to the requesting parent or guardian, such rate must be approved by the county transportation committee and the superintendent of public instruction after the trustees have indicated their approval or disapproval. Regardless of the action of the trustees and when approval is given by the county transportation committee and the superintendent of public instruction, the trustees shall pay such increased rate due to isolation. The percentage increases of the per-day individual transportation rates prescribed in subsections (1) and (2) in relation to the degree of isolation, except that such increases shall not exceed one hundred per cent (100%).

(4) to (6). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 169 and once by Ch. 416. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 76 and once by Ch. 189. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 76, Laws of 1973, inserted "purchasing lands for, and/or obtaining a water supply for" and "or combination of said buildings" in subsection (1); deleted former subsections (2) and (3); renumbered former subsection (4) as (2) and added "or buses" to that subsection; and renumbered former subsections (5), (6) and (7) as (3), (4) and (5).

Chapter 189, Laws of 1973, inserted "including post-secondary vocational-technical centers" in subdivision (1).

assessment for state, county, and school taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. All bonds issued in excess of such amount shall be null and void.

When the total indebtedness of a school district has reached the five per cent (5%) limitation prescribed in this section, such school district shall have the power and authority to pay all reasonable and necessary expenses of the school district on a cash basis in accordance with the financial administration provisions of this title.

Whenever bonds are issued for the purpose of refunding bonds, any moneys to the credit of the debt service fund for the payment of the bonds to be refunded shall be applied towards the payment of such bonds and the refunding bond issue shall be decreased accordingly.

History: En. 75-7104 by Sec. 305, Ch. 5, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 33, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 100, L. 1973.

The service and filing of the petition shall stay the resolution until final determination of the matter by the court. Its proceedings shall be summary and informal, and its decision shall be final.
